UNIVERSITY PROFILE

Recognized as a green university and named one of the nation's best institutions for undergraduate education by The Princeton Review, Virginia Wesleyan University empowers students to become active learners and engaged citizens. The University is located on a picturesque 300-acre campus in Virginia Beach, Virginia.

Vision

Virginia Wesleyan University is “Coastal Virginia's Premier University of the Liberal Arts and Sciences.”

Mission Statement

An inclusive community dedicated to scholarship and service grounded in the liberal arts and sciences, Virginia Wesleyan University inspires students to build meaningful lives through engagement in Coastal Virginia's dynamic metropolitan region, the nation, and the world.

Accreditation

Virginia Wesleyan University is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges to award bachelors' and masters' degrees through both on-campus and online courses. Normal inquiries about the institution, such as admission requirements, financial aid, and educational programs should be addressed directly to Virginia Wesleyan University. Contact the Commission on Colleges at 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097 or call 404-679-4500 for questions about the accreditation of Virginia Wesleyan University.

Proud of Our Past, Focused on Our Future

Chartered in 1961, Virginia Wesleyan University first opened its doors to students as Virginia Wesleyan College in 1966. The concept for the institution actually began two years earlier as an idea of Methodist minister Joseph S. Johnston. Within two years of planning, the school had a name, a charter, and an expanding body of supporters from the United Methodist Church and the regional business community. Virginia Wesleyan received full accreditation in its first year of eligibility, enjoyed steady enrollment gains, and attained membership in the Virginia Foundation for Independent Colleges.

In its 56-year history, Virginia Wesleyan has had four presidents: Joseph S. Johnston (1965), Lambuth M. Clarke (1966-1992), William T. “Billy” Greer (1992-2015), and Scott D. Miller (2015-).

The enhanced curricular model at Virginia Wesleyan, implemented in 2011, prepares students by providing them with expanded opportunities to learn by doing, to connect theory to practice, and to link the classroom to the world. Through individualized attention and active mentoring, students develop invaluable relationships and support networks and are encouraged to grow into independent thinkers and leaders who are optimally prepared for graduate study and the challenges of rapidly changing workplaces.

In 2016 the institution organized its academic program into three schools—the Susan S. Goode School of Arts and Humanities, the Joan P. Brock School of Mathematics and Natural Sciences and the Birdsong School of Social Science and initiated the Batten Honors College. In 2017, Virginia Wesleyan moved to Level III status with the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges, as SACSCOC approved the addition of masters programs (including an online Master of Business Administration degree) and online undergraduate programs. Additionally, Virginia Wesleyan College was authorized by the State Council of Higher Education for Virginia to become Virginia Wesleyan University.

Virginia Wesleyan has often been defined by its desirable and unique location in southeastern Virginia. The University is just minutes from the Atlantic Ocean and the Chesapeake Bay, on a beautiful 300-acre wooded campus. Set in the heart of Coastal Virginia, this area is home to a host of business, governmental, and cultural institutions, as well as rich historical and natural resources that offer tremendous opportunities for students.

The Honor Code

Virginia Wesleyan University is committed to values of citizenship and social responsibility fundamental to a community of scholars. People who join this academic community agree to maintain academic honesty. The purpose of the Virginia Wesleyan Honor Code is to foster an environment of learning based upon trustworthiness and willingness to assume personal responsibility for honorable behavior. Acts of academic dishonesty, which include cheating, plagiarism, lying, theft, and falsifying data, are violations of the Honor Code. Once students become members of the University community and are presumed to understand the nature of such violations, they are responsible for avoiding them and for the consequences if they do not.

The Honor Code, available on the University's website, offers guidelines for academic conduct and disciplinary procedures for infractions of the code.

The Virginia Wesleyan Creed

We accept and support the Virginia Wesleyan Honor Code.

- A commitment to trustworthiness and a willingness to assume personal responsibility for honorable behavior.

We seek experiences that enhance personal academic excellence and an integrated liberal arts perspective.

- A commitment to sustained achievement in the classroom.

We abide by and uphold the Virginia Wesleyan Community Standards.

- A commitment to good campus citizenship in all undertakings.

We value and respect diversity in all facets of our multicultural society.

- A commitment to recognize and to celebrate the importance of cultural differences within our campus community and to oppose all forms of discrimination.

We aspire to be a supportive community that respects the value of faith and religious freedom.

- A commitment to cultivate spiritual sensitivity and to foster personal commitment that leads to ethical conduct.

We respect the personal belongings of others and the property of the University.

- A commitment to oppose all forms of vandalism or theft of personal and University property.

We accept our role in protecting the environment.

- A commitment to stewardship through sustainable practices.

We embrace the importance of personal well being.

- A commitment to a healthy lifestyle in all its facets.

We engage in the civic life and activities of our community.

- A commitment to improve the quality of life of others.

Sustainability

The ongoing sustainability efforts of the University's faculty, staff and students reflect a larger commitment to ethical conduct and social responsibility through environmental stewardship and education. Virginia Wesleyan is committed to waste-reduction, recycling, energy efficiency, green building practices, composting and other earth-friendly landscaping practices, promotion of public transportation and more. In January 2016, Virginia Wesleyan President Scott D. Miller became a charter signatory of the Climate Commitment, a carbon neutrality and climate resilience initiative setting new standards for climate leadership in higher education. The University is also a member of the U.S. Green Building Council and the Association for the Advancement of Sustainability in Higher Education.

Student Complaints

Virginia Wesleyan University has a comprehensive set of policies, programs, and procedures for responding to student complaints. Each year, the Faculty Assembly elects a faculty member to serve as Community Advocate and the Student Government Association elects a Student Advocate. The individuals in these positions respond to student questions regarding the organizational structure of the University and offer guidance on whom to contact to address questions or concerns.

The Vice President for Student Affairs, or designee, is responsible for responding to student complaints and/or letters of concern from students and parents regarding matters of campus life. These complaints are maintained electronically by the Vice President for Student Affairs. The Provost, in a similar manner, addresses questions and concerns regarding the academic program. Records of these complaints are maintained in the Provost's Office. In cases involving a staff member, and when the situation warrants, the Director of Human Resources will be informed and consulted, and records will be maintained accordingly.

Responses to complaints will be managed in a prompt and efficient manner and in a fashion that will best address the issue presented. In most cases, a response will be provided within seven days from the receipt of the concern.

In some cases, students may pursue the grade review process adopted by the Faculty Assembly, and that process shall begin with a letter written to the Provost by the concerned student. Letters written by students may also become part of the information utilized by the Community Arbitration System for alleged violations of University regulations, and by the Honor Council in cases involving alleged infractions of the University's Honor Code.

To register a complaint against Virginia Wesleyan University for any reason unrelated to accreditation, please contact the President's Office at 757-455-3215 or by email at officeofthepresident@vwu.edu.

Once all institutional processes have been exhausted and the complaint has not been resolved, students may file a formal complaint with the State Council of Higher Education for Virginia (SCHEV). SCHEV can be contacted at 804.225.2600 or through the SCHEV Student Complaint Process at SCHEV.edu.

To file a complaint against Virginia Wesleyan University for alleged non-compliance with an accreditation standard or requirement, please consult Complaint Procedures against SACSCOC or Its Accredited Institutions at SACS.org. Please note that the SACSCOC complaint process is not intended to be used to involve the Commission in disputes between individuals and member institutions or to cause the Commission to interpose itself as a reviewing authority in individual matters; nor does the policy allow the Commission to seek redress on an individual's behalf. The primary purpose of the SACSCOC complaint procedures is to acquire valuable information regarding an accredited institution's possible non-compliance with accreditation standards, policies, and procedures. Normal inquiries about the University should be addressed directly to the University and not to SACSCOC.

The Setting

Located in Virginia Beach, Virginia, the University's setting complements its dual commitment to the development of the intellect and to involvement in society. Nestled on a 300-acre campus in the heart of one of Virginia's largest metropolitan areas, Virginia Wesleyan is physically insulated from the bustle of the city traffic, and yet the vast resources of its surrounding urban area are easily accessible. Regardless of their major(s), students are only a few minutes away from a living laboratory. The University offers many opportunities for students to bring the theoretical and the practical together in this rich environment.

Physical Facilities

Virginia Wesleyan's buildings, all constructed since 1966, are situated in the midst of luxurious lawns, expansive athletic fields, and verdant woodlands, with four villages surrounding a central academic core. The following complexes and buildings, with completion dates noted, now house the University's academic, administrative, and residential functions.

Fine Arts Building (1966) and Edward D. Hofheimer Theatre (1981)

Virginia Wesleyan University offers fine art offerings in art, music, and theatre. In this complex are the art studios, music studios and practice rooms, acting studios, and a multi-media room. The Edward D. Hofheimer Theatre is a versatile facility that serves as a setting for theatrical instruction as well as performance.

Henry Clay Hofheimer II Library (1969, 2008)

Virginia Wesleyan's library is an attractive building that sits at the center of the campus. The building houses a variety of academic and information resources and services to support the University's liberal arts mission. It also houses the Virginia Wesleyan Archives, as well as the Neil Britton Gallery. The well-equipped computer lab and a variety of study, instruction, and work spaces combine to make it a versatile setting where students are free to engage in scholarly learning and research, collaboration, conversation, reading or mere relaxation.

S. Frank and Wilma Williamson Blocker Hall

Blocker Hall houses the Science (1970, 2011) and Humanities Centers (1988), which have science laboratories, classrooms, the Blocker Auditorium, and faculty offices. The auditorium in this building is the setting for numerous campus events. The Office of the Dean of the Batten Honors College is housed in Blocker Hall.

Monumental Chapel (1975)

The chapel is the site of a variety of lectures, campus and community meetings, and worship services. Monumental Chapel is included in the Council of Independent Colleges' Historic Campus Architecture Project.

Frank E. Brown Campanile (1975)

The bell tower is a campus landmark that symbolizes the institution's United Methodist heritage. It is adjacent to the Monumental Chapel.

Robert F. and Sara M. Boyd Campus Dining Center (1991)

The Boyd Dining Center and related facilities house the student dining hall and the private dining areas known as the Shafer Room and the President's Dining Room. Adjacent to the dining center are the Office of Finance and Administration and the campus post office.

Lambuth M. Clarke Hall (1998)

Clarke Hall exemplifies the University's commitment to providing state-of-the-art teaching technologies. Teaching spaces, including a tiered classroom, are equipped with computers, document cameras, and interfacing capabilities. The building also contains The Lighthouse: Center for Exploration & Discovery, the Learning Center, the Provost's Office, the Registrar's Office, the Center for the Study of Religious Freedom, a 24-hour computer laboratory, and faculty offices.

Trinder Center (1998) with Foster Field (1998)

Home of the University's soccer and lacrosse programs, the center includes locker rooms, restrooms, an athletic training room, a concession stand, and a press box. Foster Field has bleacher seating for 1,000 spectators. Lights were added to the facility in 2003.

Katherine B. and Mills E. Godwin, Jr. Hall (1999)

Godwin Hall accommodates many of the University's administrative offices, including the Office of the President, the Center for Enrollment Services, the Center for Advancement, and the Office of Marketing & Communications. Godwin Hall is also home to the Barclay Sheaks Gallery, which showcases the work of the founder of the Art Department.

Jane P. Batten Student Center (2002)

The Batten Center features the Cunningham Gymnasium (a multi-activity athletic center); A. Kenneth Scribner, Sr. University Store; a 36-foot rock-climbing wall; a fitness center; an eight-lane swimming pool with whirlpool and sauna; an elevated jogging track; racquetball courts; and the Marlin Grille. Virginia Wesleyan athletic teams compete in the Convocation Center, home to Donald M. Forsyth Court. Many student services and athletic offices are housed in the Batten Student Center, as well as communication laboratory space, recreation and leisure studies faculty offices.

Everett Tennis Center (2011)

Built on the foundation of the Penzold Tennis Center, our tennis center contains eight courts including two championship courts and two lighted grandstand courts. The Center features spectator-friendly fencing, an upgraded lighting system on the grandstand courts, a welcome gazebo, a viewing stand, a brick facade entrance and ample seating for fans.

Birdsong Field (2015)

This field is a synthetic turf field and athletic venue supporting field hockey, men's and women's lacrosse and soccer, and intramural sports. Paphites Pavilion features a prominent entryway with ticketing, concessions and restrooms; an electronic scoreboard; field lighting; and aluminum fencing and landscaping.

Greer Environmental Sciences Center (2017)

This recent addition to our campus is a nearly 44,000-square foot, state-of-the-art environmental sciences lab and classroom facility named in honor of former President Billy Greer. Organized thematically around the earth's four spheres—atmosphere, hydrosphere, lithosphere and biosphere—the Greer Environmental Sciences Center features sophisticated indoor and outdoor learning spaces that embody “science on display” and promote hands-on experiences, interactive learning and interdisciplinary research.

Betty S. Rogers Track and Field Center (2017)

The Track and Field Center is a state-of-the-art 400-meter facility featuring an eight-lane track, discus and hammer throw, high jump, long jump/triple jump, pole vault, shot put, and steeplechase. In addition to an anonymous donor, the facility was made possible by Virginia Wesleyan Trustee and alumnus of the Class of 1970, Bill S. Shelhorse, and his company Chesapeake Bay Contractors.

Frank Blocker Youth Center at YMCA Camp Red Feather (2017)

Blocker Youth Center is a brand new 6,000-square-foot space containing three classrooms that open up into a large multi-purpose room, four offices, a reception area, kitchen, and an adjacent outdoor amphitheater with stage. The facility is used during the academic year by Tidewater Collegiate Academy—the University's laboratory school and early enrollment partner—and in the summer months by YMCA Camp Red Feather.

Greenhouse (2017)

Virginia Wesleyan's greenhouse provides a laboratory for courses in botany and contains an extensive and diverse collection of plants.

Kenneth R. Perry Field (2017) at TowneBank Park

Virginia Wesleyan's baseball field was named in honor of former Board member, Kenneth R. Perry Field in 2017 underwent major improvements, including a new 370-seat grandstand; a climate-controlled press box with scorer's table; a rebuild of the existing dugouts with new benches, helmet and bat racks, and protective netting; a branded home-plate halo; relocation of the bull pens; four-foot black vinyl fencing with spectator-friendly sight lines; practice screen replacement; new pole and net backstop; and surrounding landscaping.

The Beacon is a bell tower and a campus landmark, originally dedicated in 1975 as the Frank E. Brown Campanile, which symbolizes the institution's United Methodist heritage. It is adjacent to Monumental Chapel.

Tom and Betty Broyles Field at TowneBank Park (2018)

Our new field is the home of Virginia Wesleyan's two-time NCAA Division III national championship softball program. Named in honor of Trustee Emeritus Thomas C. Broyles and his late wife Betty, Broyles Field features new grandstands, a press box, and sunken dugouts.

Susan S. Goode Fine and Performing Arts Center (Opening 2019)

This 23,000-square-foot facility will feature an impressive glass-enclosed lobby and 300-seat theater. The state-of-the-art theater will host student productions, community performances and visiting artists. Production support spaces ring the stage, including a scene shop, dressing rooms, green room, as well as costume, prop, scene and equipment storage.

Academic Profile

ACADEMIC PROFILE

The Liberal Arts at Virginia Wesleyan University

As a University of the liberal arts and sciences, Virginia Wesleyan embraces the values inherent in a liberal education—an education dedicated to developing the open-minded, disciplined reflection necessary not only to professional success, but also to a life of personal accomplishment and social commitment.

The University's academic program brings the ancient tradition of liberal education into the here and now. The general education requirement emphasizes breadth, showing students how to investigate complex subjects from multiple perspectives and how to make connections among various disciplinary approaches to a subject. The academic concentration requirement emphasizes depth, showing students how to focus on a single discipline or field of study.

Classes are small and students are expected to engage their fellow students and the faculty in an active learning environment. They develop intellectual confidence and independent thinking skills, as well as respect for others, intellectual humility in the face of complexity, and openness to a better argument.

A Virginia Wesleyan education is a pathway to a fuller, more active, more compassionate, and more satisfying life. It is also excellent preparation for a career chosen from a wide range of fields, including the arts, the sciences, business, law, education, health care, entertainment, and public service.

The 4x4 Curriculum

In the fall of 2011, Virginia Wesleyan implemented a new initiative designed to make every course more engaging and every program more focused on helping students become successful, independent learners.

The standard course was expanded from three semester hours to four, challenging students in each course to explore its content more deeply and offering them more engaging learning activities. Instead of taking five 3-hour courses in a semester, students typically average four 4-hour courses.

Some courses meet four hours per week and cover additional material, thereby yielding a fourth semester hour. Many other courses, however, meet only three hours a week in the classroom but are enhanced with out-of-class experiences and projects that justify a fourth credit. Course credits are calculated using the Carnegie credit hour as its standard of measure. The Carnegie standard defines 1 credit hour as roughly 1 hour in class and 2 hours outside class, for a total of 3 hours per week instructional time over a semester of approximately 15 weeks.

The out-of-class experiences may include field trips, volunteer work, independent and collaborative research projects, and/or opportunities to work with advanced technological tools. In other words, students have expanded opportunities to learn by doing, to connect theory to practice, and to link their classrooms to the world.

Faculty Values and Practices

Virginia Wesleyan has, by design, recruited faculty members whose primary interest and commitment is to classroom teaching. In addition, faculty members are engaged in a wide range of scholarly and artistic activities and civic engagement. They hold earned degrees from over 140 colleges and universities, both in the U.S. and abroad. The richness of this educational experience is felt in their influence at Virginia Wesleyan.

The faculty at Virginia Wesleyan are committed to the following academic values and practices that underlie the academic program:

1. Offering an academic experience that is student-driven. The curriculum emphasizes inquiry-based learning in which students learn to develop intellectual interests and independent questioning skills that lead them to new knowledge as they pursue their goals. Faculty teach essential course content, but they also see the necessity of entrusting the academic lives of their students to the students themselves.

2. Providing individualized attention. The small student-to-faculty ratio allows professors to assist students individually by working closely with them on class projects and papers, by holding them accountable for regular work and other course responsibilities, and by helping them respond to intellectual challenges.

3. Supporting the creation of substantial pieces of student work. In most courses, faculty guide students through the production of major papers and other projects. They also mentor students who choose to pursue a variety of independent research opportunities, including those sponsored by the Undergraduate Research Program, which culminates in Port Day symposia that are held towards the end of the fall and spring semesters. These programs are open to all students.

4. Providing opportunities for experiential learning. In addition to the many opportunities offered through course enhancements, faculty members are committed to developing and supporting the wider academic program, which offers an array of experiential learning opportunities, including the PORTfolio program, travel abroad in Winter Session, semesters abroad, civic engagement opportunities such as the annual Homeless Shelter week, internships and externships related to specific academic disciplines, and intercollegiate academic activities such as the Model U.N. and Ethics Bowl programs.

5. Offering a multi-faceted educational experience. Although faculty members have their own academic specialties, their interests tend to be broad and their experiences varied, so that the educational program as a whole manifests a commitment to considering multiple approaches to intellectual questions. This flexibility is evident in the faculty's support of First-Year Experience and the General Studies Program, as well as the various experiential learning opportunities listed above.

6. Providing quality faculty advising. Faculty assist students personally as they choose majors, minors, and elective courses; they also mentor students as they address issues related to their academic performance, plan their careers, and apply to graduate and professional schools.

7. Encouraging civic engagement. Our faculty have designed the curriculum to encourage reflection on the ethical dimensions of human experience by asking students to think about their values and their civic and human roles and responsibilities. While no specific cause or ideology is promoted, faculty intend that students should come to recognize and value their involvement in various local, regional, national, and global communities.

In short, under the direction of a strong, dedicated faculty, Virginia Wesleyan's academic program challenges students to take responsibility for their learning, to embrace a wide variety of academic experiences, and to commit themselves to substantial intellectual work and personal development.

Faculty Advisory System

The advising system at Virginia Wesleyan University fosters the growth of strong relationships between students and faculty, enabling student success through intentional connections with people, academic programs, and processes of the University. This endeavor should lead to successful academic planning, retention, and professional growth, as students pursue life and career goals following a timely graduation.

Prior to arrival on campus, each freshman is assigned a faculty advisor. Entering students meet with their advisors to work out a schedule of classes prior to registration. Returning students also meet with their advisors prior to registration.

Prior to graduation, a full-time faculty member in the student's major department will certify that the student has completed requirements for the major. Therefore, upon declaring a major, students must secure as an academic advisor a full-time faculty member in their major field.

Advisors will make every attempt to give effective guidance to students in academic matters and to refer students to those qualified to help them in other matters, but the final responsibility for meeting all academic requirements for a selected program rests with the student.

Student Institutional Learning Outcomes

Drawing from its Methodist heritage and liberal arts tradition, and pursuing its express mission, Virginia Wesleyan University recognizes the following institutional learning outcomes for its graduates:

ILO 1: Graduates synthesize concepts, knowledge, and skills within and across disciplines and experiences.

Students can realize this ILO by:

1. Exploring a variety of topics to gain a breadth of fundamental knowledge and skills;
2. Focusing on a specialized area of study to gain a deeper understanding;
3. Actively engaging with new ideas, building on existing knowledge to evaluate prior conceptions, and to solve problems;
4. Drawing connections among academic, personal, social, spiritual, and professional experiences.

ILO 2: Graduates demonstrate independence, responsibility and self-discipline.

Students can realize this ILO by:

1. Setting both personal and professional goals and establishing plans of action to attain those goals;
2. Practicing decision making skills and taking accountability for outcomes;
3. Making and following through on commitments;
4. Reflecting on their circumstances and their personal and professional growth;
5. Developing and engaging reliable, practical and ethical strategies to leverage what they learn from that reflection;
6. Making positive, safe, and healthy life choices.

ILO 3: Graduates develop well-supported, evidence-based arguments.

Students can realize this ILO by:

1. Proposing questions that encourage deliberation;
2. Gathering and evaluating information from a variety of reliable sources;
3. Drawing upon a breadth and depth of knowledge;
4. Constructing logical, creative, and organized positions;
5. Supporting positions with appropriate evidence;
6. Behaving as an ethical scholar and citizen.

ILO 4: Graduates understand and engage the ideas of others.

Students can realize this ILO by:

1. Taking part in respectful and attentive dialogue with members of different intellectual, professional, and social/cultural/faith/political communities and with individuals who hold divergent perspectives from their own;
2. Listening to and summarizing both similar and opposing viewpoints;
3. Analyzing and responding to alternate positions;
4. Reflecting on their own positions and allowing the positions of others to inform their own.

ILO 5: Graduates communicate effectively.

Students can realize this ILO by:

1. Demonstrating proficient writing, speaking, and listening skills;
2. Presenting ideas effectively in a form that considers one's intended audience;
3. Being conversant with different forms of communication. Forms could include written, oral, visual, musical, digital, and/or symbolic communication.

ILO 6: Graduates contribute to their communities through engagement and leadership.

Students can realize this ILO by:

1. Understanding their own identified civic, professional, sociocultural, spiritual, and intellectual communities;
2. Working to understand, empathize, and engage respectfully with people across a multiplicity of cultures;
3. Creating a positive impact on their campus, local and global communities and the environment;
4. Cooperating and collaborating with others.

Program EnhancementBatten Honors College

The Batten Honors College at Virginia Wesleyan provides a transformative experience for high-achieving students and equips them with the knowledge, skills, and attitudes of ethical, thoughtful, and influential global citizens who understand the interdependence of society, culture, and the environment. Honors students complete the Honors curriculum requirements and a major in one of the three schools. Twenty students are accepted each year into the Batten Fellows Program, which provides a scholarship covering the full cost of tuition over four years. An additional 20 students are accepted into the Honors College as Schumadine Scholars with a scholarship equivalent to two-thirds tuition. The Honors College offers a Living /Learning Community to expand the student learning experience beyond the classroom, strengthen student engagement in campus life, and develop meaningful social connections. This inclusive community-centered environment supports the personal and intellectual growth of each student. Inquiries about the Batten Honors College may be addressed to the Office of Enrollment Services.

The PORTfolio Program

The PORTfolio program is a unique four-year experience that seeks to fully integrate liberal and experiential learning by consciously relating the two. PORTfolio brings the liberal arts to life for selected students by allowing them to pursue their college education while using the Chesapeake Bay, the cities of Hampton Roads, and the world as their classroom. Complementing a student's major, PORTfolio offers an integrated program of team-taught seminars, co-curricular activities, and learning opportunities that connect the best of a liberal arts education with real-world experiences. Students in the program develop an electronic portfolio that helps them connect the lessons of the classroom to the world beyond the campus and link field experiences to their formal education. Freshmen are admitted to the program based on their academic, service, and leadership experience, and on their potential. Students may apply for PORTfolio at the same time they apply to the University. Inquiries about the PORTfolio Program may be addressed to the Office of Enrollment Services.

Winter Session and Summer Semester

Virginia Wesleyan offers special Winter and Summer courses that support students' timely graduation, whether they are behind in coursework or planning to graduate early. These shorter sessions have the contact hours and academic workload of a regular 15-week semester, however in ways not available or not as effectively pursued in conventional semesters. Courses may involve field trips, travel components, and contain experimental, experiential qualities while maintaining the same rigorous academic standards as other courses. The courses offered vary from year to year. Many courses, including those with special travel or experiential components, are taught only in Winter or Summer Sessions.

Winter Session is a 17-day, credit-bearing term of intensive, engaged learning that complements and strengthens Virginia Wesleyan's academic program. Scheduled in January, it provides opportunities for students and faculty to focus on a single academic subject without the usual distractions from other courses and commitments. In addition to 4-semester hour courses, Winter Session also provides opportunities for supplemental 1-semester hour and non-credit workshops and experiences. Hence, while students are not required to take any Winter Session courses, those who do may register for up to 5 semester hours in a given year toward graduation. Beyond a fee of $225, day students enrolled full-time during both fall and spring semesters are not charged additional tuition for Winter Session courses, as long as they enroll in no more than 38 hours across the academic year and no more than 20 in one semester. Where they apply, lab and material fees, as well as any travel expenses, are additional. Resident students wishing to live on campus during Winter Session must be enrolled in a credit-bearing course. They are not assessed an additional room charge for Winter Session. They are, however, required to purchase a three-week meal plan. Students register for Winter Session in the fall.

Courses are offered during the summer semester in three sessions. Summer session 1 is a 5 ½-week session in the first half of the summer, Summer session 2 is a 13-week session that spans the summer months, and Summer Session 3 is a 5 ½-week session in the second half of summer. Students can take up to 12 credits in course work, independent research or internship credit. Tuition is reduced 73% in the summer to $399. Where they apply, lab and material fees, as well as any travel expenses, are additional. During all summer sessions on-campus housing and meal plans are available for students. Students register for Summer Session in the spring.

Winter Session and Summer Semester policies and course information are available on the University's website.

Partnerships

Virginia Wesleyan University has developed vital partnerships with major governmental, cultural educational, and corporate institutions throughout Hampton Roads. These partnerships offer an array of research, internship, and curricular opportunities for VWU students.

In cooperation with the Virginia Aquarium and Marine Science Center, the University operates the Ocean Explorer, a 45-foot vessel that conducts oceanographic research in the Chesapeake Bay. A half dozen VWU courses use the vessel. Virginia Wesleyan students can also take courses at the world-famous Chrysler Museum's Glass Blowing Studio.

The University has internship relationships, among other enterprises, with the Norfolk Botanical Garden, Busch Gardens Williamsburg, and North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO-ACT).

Notably, the University participates in the Virginia Tidewater Consortium, a partnership of 13 institutions of higher education in Hampton Roads. VWU students can take courses via cross-registration at most of these other member institutions, which include Old Dominion University, Norfolk State University, and Tidewater Community College.

Port Day

Virginia Wesleyan University's semi-annual Port Day provides a forum for students in all majors to share their capstone internship, study away, and research experiences and projects with the campus community. Refer to the academic calendar for specific dates.

Guided Study, Independent Research, and Tutorial

Virginia Wesleyan offers qualified students the opportunity to pursue guided study, independent research, and tutorials. Students who meet the specific requirements of each program may enroll for 4 semester hours of guided study or independent research in a given semester. As a rule, Guided study, independent research, and tutorials cannot be pursued during Summer Sessions 1 or 3, or in the 17-day Winter Session. Students may count a maximum of 20 semester hours of guided study and independent research toward the total required for graduation. Exceptions to this policy may be made only by the Provost.

Students planning to pursue guided study or independent research should obtain a copy of the guidelines available online or from the Registrar's Office. In preparing their proposals, they should state their objectives and the means of accomplishing these objectives clearly and specifically.

Guided Study credit is available in any discipline in which a student wishes to pursue a program of guided reading or research. It does not need to be done in a student's major field if the student meets the minimum requirements of the program. To enroll in guided study, a student must have junior status, be in good academic standing, and obtain the approval of his or her advisor and the faculty member who will direct the study. Then the student must present to the appropriate school a brief written description of the proposed program. All proposals for guided study must be received and acted upon by the school two weeks prior to the end of the semester preceding the one in which the guided study will be undertaken. The program presumes close supervision of the student's reading or research by the faculty member, including sessions together at least twice each month. Students may propose a guided study project to be done either on a graded or pass/fail basis.

Independent research provides an opportunity for upperclassmen who have demonstrated competence in their major field to engage in a program of study with advanced faculty mentorship. To enroll in independent research, a student must have junior status, a 2.5 cumulative GPA with a 3.0 average in the major, and obtain the approval of his or her advisor and the faculty member who will direct the research. Then the student must obtain schools approval of a written project proposal, following the same procedure as that outlined for guided study. At the conclusion of a semester of study, the student presents the results of the research orally before the faculty member who directed the research and two other faculty members agreed upon by the student and the director. The director then determines the grade received for the program of research.

Tutorial coursework enables a student to take a regular catalog course on an individual basis rather than in a classroom format, usually to fill a gap in the student's plan of study in a semester when the course is not being taught to a group of students. Semester hour credit for a tutorial is the same as for the catalog course.

Experimental Courses

Occasionally a faculty member or a group of students may want to study a topic not adequately covered in the existing curriculum. Anytime a department wishes to offer a course that is not in the catalog, it may do so with the approval of the Educational Programs Commission, upon the recommendation of the school involved. If, after the course is taught, the department decides that it wants the course placed in the catalog on a permanent basis, it then submits such a request to the school. When several students decide that they would like to study a particular topic and can get a faculty member to participate, they may seek approval through following the process described above.

Online Courses

At Virginia Wesleyan, a hybrid course is 30% or more of instructional seat time online, whereas an online course is 75% or more of instructional seat time online. All courses at Virginia Wesleyan University exist in accordance with the University's core principles of small classes that engage students in an active learning environment. Therefore, the University's online, hybrid, and distance learning options reaffirm its belief in fostering learning that is both intellectually challenging and student driven. The University is committed to only offering those courses that conform as well as traditional classroom courses to these established principles.

In 2017, Virginia Wesleyan formally expanded online course options, including an online Master of Business Administration program and an online degree completion program, with majors available in business, criminal justice, social sciences, environmental studies, and comprehensive liberal studies.

For the Online Degree Completion and Graduate Programs catalog, please visit: vwu.edu/gradonline.

ROTC

Virginia Wesleyan offers students the opportunity to enroll in an Army ROTC program through an extension agreement with the established ROTC unit at Old Dominion University. Courses in this program develop a student's ability to organize, motivate, and lead others. Further information on this program may be obtained by contacting Virginia Wesleyan's Office of Enrollment Services.

Academic Resources

Hofheimer Library

The library is at the heart of the Virginia Wesleyan campus. Located centrally—only a minute's walk from classrooms, residence halls, fitness and dining facilities—it provides the highest quality resources and services to meet the research and information needs of students, faculty, and staff. The library boasts over 200,000 books as well as eBooks, movies, a 3-D printer and other media and resources. Virginia Wesleyan students and faculty can access online scholarly journals and electronic books through the library's website from both on and off campus.

In partnering with classroom faculty, librarians are innovative and active participants in course and assignment design. Librarians are available to help students navigate the complexities of research and friendly staff assist students with using the library and its services. Research librarians and library staff provide assistance by phone, text, chat, email, or in person.

The library provides a place for studying, reading, relaxing, attending workshops, and meeting classmates for group work as well as a virtual space that provides 24/7 access to web-based resources and services to enhance teaching and learning for the campus community including online students.

The Learning Center

Located on the second floor of Clarke Hall, is a space designed to provide students with the staff and services they need for academic success. Personnel located in the Learning Center include the Disability Services Specialist, University Advising Coordinator, and Coordinator of Writing Services. Available services include subject and writing tutoring, a Speech Lab facility and coaching, alternative testing spaces, and academic skills workshops. All services available through the Learning Center come free of charge for students.

Accommodations for Students With Disabilities

Virginia Wesleyan recognizes and is sensitive to the needs of students with disabilities. In keeping with the Americans with Disability Act (and its revised version) and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the University provides academic accommodations and services for students with disabilities through the Learning Center's Disability Services Office. The staff verifies documentation, determines eligibility for accommodations, evaluates student's needs, helps to arrange accommodations, and encourages communication between students and instructors. If a student hopes to receive accommodations, they are required to disclose their disability to the Disability Services staff and provide documentation of their disability. Students may call, email, or visit the Learning Center to arrange an appointment to begin the process of receiving Disability Services.

Subject and Writing Tutoring

The Learning Center offers both subject tutoring and writing support services. Subject tutors are student peers who have excelled in the courses they tutor and who have been hired for their knowledge and ability to explain the relevant concepts to others. Subject tutoring is available during regular semesters in an individual and small group format. The writing tutors are professionals, often adjunct faculty at VWU or other institutions, who are available to work one-on-one with students during any stage of the writing process. Additionally, VWU has partnered with Smarthinking, a company that provides 24/7 online subject and writing tutoring.

Speech Lab & Public Speaking Coaching

The Learning Center also includes the Speech Lab facility, which is a space where students can practice their public speaking skills, record speeches digitally, and receive coaching for how to improve their presentation skills from a trained speech tutor. The Speech Lab is available for both individual and group use.

Advising

Although students primarily work with a faculty advisor for course selection and major planning, the University Advising Coordinator is another resource within the Learning Center for students who may have questions about advising, such as major programs, the general studies curriculum, academic planning, or registration. The UAC works closely with the Registrar's Office and faculty advisors to provide assistance for students.

The Lighthouse: Center for Exploration and Discovery

The Lighthouse is students' one-stop shop for academic support services focused on experiential or hands-on learning. The Lighthouse offers a variety of services and programs to help students to undertake experiential learning projects. It assists students with internships, study away, undergraduate research, advising, careers, and graduate school. . It also promotes Pathways to See Change, Virginia Wesleyan University's advising program that helps students to develop individualized road maps to academic, professional, and personal achievement. The Lighthouse houses three academic support programs: the Career Development and Internship Program (CDIP), the Study Away Program (SAP), and the Undergraduate Research Program (URP). It also sponsors the Summer High Impact Practice Program (SHIPP) and Port Days.

Career Development and Internship Program (CDIP)

The Career and Internship Program helps students explore major and career options, to gain professional experience while still a student, and to search for employment. A Virginia Wesleyan education emphasizes a host of critical skills sought by employers, such as oral and written communication skills, complex reasoning, problem solving skills, and collaboration. The CDIP helps students to translate their liberal arts degrees into fulfilling careers that will endure in a world of constant change. The CDIP advises students on developing professional portfolios to meet their career goals. It offers career resources, self-assessment tools, individual counseling, career-related workshops, shadowing experiences, internship support, and job search assistance.

Study Away Program (SAP)

The Study Away Program helps students to participate in domestic and international study away experiences. These include both study away courses, which are offered by Virginia Wesleyan faculty, and semester study abroad. The SAP offers a variety of programs that support students as they prepare for and undertake a study away experience, including the Global Scholars Program, Study Away Course Grants, individual counseling, and workshops on preparing for study away experiences.:

Undergraduate Research Program (URP)

The Undergraduate Research Program supports students as they undertake faculty-mentored research. Virginia Wesleyan University offers an array of research opportunities for students in most majors. The URP provides financial and instructional support to student researchers through research grants, research conference grants, and a workshop series that guides students through all aspects of the research process.

Summer High Impact Practice Program (SHIPP)

This new program offers students opportunities and funding to participate in immersive credit-bearing internship, study away, and undergraduate research experiences during the summer. A competitive program, SHIPP participants receive a reduced tuition rate, funding to undertake a SHIPP experience, and mentored instruction. Applications for the program are accepted on a rolling basis throughout the year.

Careers

CAREERS

Career Development Services

Virginia Wesleyan's Career Development and Internship Program (CDIP), located in The Lighthouse, provides career-related resources and services to help students and alumni to sharpen their academic, professional, and personal skills. The CDIP offers individualized career counseling, and it presents career-readiness workshops that cover topics such as choosing a major, career exploration, and resumes. The CDIP also annually hosts a graduate school fair and a career fair. The CDIP supports students as they complete credit-bearing domestic and international internships in most majors. The CDIP works closely with employers to help students to develop professional skills, undertake internships, and secure professional employment upon graduation. Our resources and services are critical to students as they make the successful transition from the University to professional careers.

Graduate and Professional School Articulation Agreements

Virginia Wesleyan University offers several partnerships with other universities and professional schools to facilitate its students' completion of advanced degrees. In most cases, these programs involve a course of study at Virginia Wesleyan followed by an advanced course of study at the partner institution. Degree options vary, and include both accelerated degree options, which reduce the time to degree, and early assurance programs. For more information about these programs, see the Office of Academic Affairs.

Accelerated Degree Options

Duke University Nicholas School of the Environment (Master of Forestry or Master of Environmental Management)

The Cooperative College (3-2) Program allows students to proceed directly from three years of undergraduate study at Virginia Wesleyan University to two years of study at Duke University's Nicholas School's Master of Forestry (MF) or Master of Environmental Management (MEM) program.

Old Dominion University Pre-Engineering Program (Master of Science in Engineering)

The Pre-Engineering Program offers students the opportunity to earn both a Bachelor of Science degree from Virginia Wesleyan University and a Master of Civil, Environmental, Mechanical, Electrical, Computer, Biomedical, or Aerospace Engineering from Old Dominion University in five years. Students attend Virginia Wesleyan for four years and ODU for one year. Starting their junior year, students take one or two engineering courses each semester at ODU while enrolled at VWU. After graduating from VWU, students are automatically admitted to the one-year Master of Engineering graduate program at ODU. Students are also eligible for the longer Master of Science in Engineering program.

Regent University School of Law

This agreement offers students the opportunity to earn a bachelor's degree from Virginia Wesleyan University and a J.D. from Regent University School of Law in six years. Students who begin at VWU as freshman and have completed $\frac{3}{4}$ of the coursework required for a bachelor's degree from VWU will, upon application, be considered for admission to Regent's J.D. Program. For students accepted to Regent's J.D. Program under the Memorandum, VWU will accept transfer credit hours taken in pursuit of the J.D. at Regent. The rule that students must take the last 32 hours of their degree at VWU will be waived.

Shenandoah University Bernard J. Dunn School of Pharmacy (PharmD)

An official (3-4) agreement with Shenandoah University's Bernard J. Dunn School of Pharmacy for Pre-Admittance and Joint Degree Options gives priority status to a maximum of five Virginia Wesleyan students per year who have completed at least 64 semester credit hours. Students accepted into the program can earn a bachelor's degree from Virginia Wesleyan University and a PharmD degree from Shenandoah University in seven years.

Cooperative Degree Program in Occupational Therapy with Washington University in St. Louis

Virginia Wesleyan University has a 3-2 cooperative education agreement with Washington University in St. Louis, one of the nation's top-ranked Programs in Occupational Therapy. Admitted students will complete two additional years at Washington University. They will graduate with a bachelor's degree from Virginia Wesleyan University their fourth year and a master's degree from Washington University (MSOT) in their fifth year. Admission requirements for the MSOT program may be found at www.ot.wustl.edu/admissions.

Early Assurance Programs

Eastern Virginia Medical School

Through the creation of the joint program in medicine, talented, qualified students at Virginia Wesleyan University may apply for admission to Eastern Virginia Medical School during the fall semester of the sophomore year. Individuals selected for admission into this program are expected to complete a challenging academic program at VWU and to obtain substantive exposure to the field of medicine as an undergraduate. Upon completion of a 4-year bachelor's degree at VWU, students in this program are guaranteed admission in the Eastern Virginia Medical School.

Through the University's Early Assurance Program with Eastern Virginia Medical School, VWU students have an enhanced opportunity to earn graduate degrees in eight EVMS master's programs (Master's degree in Physician Assistant, Surgical Assisting, Contemporary Human Anatomy, Laboratory Animal Science, Pathologist Assistant, Art Therapy, Biotechnology, and Public Health). The Early Assurance Program with EVMS gives admission preference to VWU students interested in pursuing advanced degrees.

Pre-Professional Information

Art Therapy and Counseling

Art therapists use the creative process to help people of all ages improve their health and emotional well-being. They are qualified to work as counselors in hospitals, school and community clinics, vocational schools, rehabilitation centers, universities, military installations, and other health care and educational settings. Art therapists may serve as mental health, substance abuse, or behavioral disorder counselors. Students wishing to apply to accredited graduate programs in art therapy and counseling must meet the minimum standards of the American Art Therapy Association. These include the completion of a B.A. degree with specific coursework in studio art and psychology. The Studio Art major at Virginia Wesleyan, coupled with a minimum of 16 semester hours in psychology, meets these criteria. Students must complete coursework in drawing, painting, ceramics and sculpture, as well as abnormal and developmental psychology and theories of personality. A minor in psychology is strongly recommended. Interested students should work with faculty advisors in both art and psychology to plan an appropriate course of study.

Church-Related Vocations

Ministry in today's world takes many forms: pastoral ministry, religious education, hospital and military chaplaincies, teaching in church-related colleges, and counseling. A broad program of studies in the liberal arts is required for admission to the seminaries and graduate schools that prepare individuals for these ministries. Students interested in these vocations may choose to major in religious studies or some other area of the humanities or the social sciences. The university chaplain is available as a vocational advisor for students contemplating a future in the ministry.

Education

Students interested in a career in teaching have several options, and are encouraged to contact the VWU Education department for advising. The Comprehensive Liberal Studies – Curricular Emphasis major is intended for students seeking to pursue a certification for teaching at the elementary school level. Students seeking certification at the secondary level will pursue a major in a specific field, and then take the recommended education courses. A Master of Arts in Education (M.A.Ed.) degree is also available for VWU students who have met the program prerequisites and who wish to complete their certification while earning a Master's Degree, typically during their fifth year at VWU. Careful advising is essential for students seeking teacher licensure, so these students are strongly recommended to seek an adviser from the EDUC department as soon as possible during their academic career.

Engineering

Refer to section Old Dominion University Pre-Engineering Program (Master of Science in Engineering) on page 19.

Environmental Studies

Students interested in the environment can major (or minor) in either earth and environmental science or environmental studies. Those interested primarily in science should major in Earth and Environmental Sciences or another natural science to prepare for graduate work and careers in areas including environmental science, ecology, or toxicology. A dual degree program is also available in which students complete a bachelor's degree in Earth and Environmental Sciences from Virginia Wesleyan University and a master's degree in Environmental Engineering from Old Dominion University.

Students may also choose the interdisciplinary Environmental Studies major, whose flexibility and breadth of curricular options can meet a diversity of student interests and needs in environmental education.

Law School

Many Virginia Wesleyan students have been accepted into law school. No single major is recommended for students interested in pursuing a legal career. It is important to note, however, that law schools emphasize the importance of a broad liberal arts education in which the student has excelled.

Social Work

The Social Work Program embraces the values of the social work profession in its mission to "enhance human well-being" and "help meet human needs," appreciate and build on individual and collective strengths, and advocate for the vulnerable and disempowered. As the University strives to prepare students to participate in civil society and to respond creatively to a "rapidly changing world," social work education promotes critical thinking about issues from the micro to the macro level, grounded in a broadly based liberal arts foundation. Social Work's emphasis on social justice parallels the University's commitment to social responsibility. Social Work education blends didactic and experiential learning with its strong emphasis on field education, a corollary to Virginia Wesleyan University's emphasis on civic engagement and community-based learning.

Allied Health Professions

Students wishing to enter allied health professions (dental hygiene, pharmacy, nursing, health care management, medical technology, occupational therapy, physical therapy, or radiological technology) need to complete at least two years—and may want to complete four years—of preparatory studies at Virginia Wesleyan before applying to a professional school.

Dental School

Students applying to dental school are expected to achieve a satisfactory score on the dental school admissions test (DAT) and to complete the following courses: General Biology, two semesters (BIO 132, BIO 200); Introductory and Inorganic Chemistry, two semesters (CHEM 120, CHEM 200); Organic Chemistry, two semesters (CHEM 221, CHEM 222); and Physics, two semesters (PHYS 221 and PHYS 222). Some dental schools may also require additional courses in biochemistry, psychology, and English.

Dentistry, Medicine, and Veterinary Medicine

Students who wish to pursue careers in these fields must meet the admissions requirements for the professional school of their choice. Those standards include interest in grades, relevant co-curricular activities and appropriate internships, externships, and research. Virginia Wesleyan's Pre-Professional Committee guides students through the application and interview process. In addition, the student-run Pre-Professional Club sponsors a variety of activities, including seminars by professionals from various fields, campus visits and meetings with admissions officials from pre-professional programs, and student volunteer activities. The club meets at least twice each semester.

Medical School

Students applying to medical school are expected to have gained broad exposure to the medical profession prior to submitting the application. They are expected to achieve a satisfactory score on the medical school admissions test (MCAT) and complete the following courses: General Biology, two semesters (BIO 132, BIO 200); Introductory and Inorganic Chemistry, two semesters (CHEM 120, CHEM 200); Organic Chemistry, two semesters (CHEM 221, CHEM 222); and Physics, two semesters (PHYS 221 and PHYS 222). It is also strongly recommended that students complete the following courses: Anatomy and Physiology (BIO 221 and BIO 222); Comparative Anatomy (BIO 372); Histology (BIO 371); Biochemistry (CHEM 330); and Ethics and Health Care (PHIL 221/321).

Recreation and Leisure Studies

Students completing the Recreation and Leisure Studies program are eligible to take the national examination to be recognized as a Certified Park and Recreation Professional (CPRP). Students completing the recreation therapy track and designated coursework are also eligible to take the national examination to become a Certified Therapeutic Recreation Specialist (CTRS).

Schools of Veterinary Medicine

Students applying to veterinary programs are expected to have gained significant experience working with animals and to have attained a satisfactory score on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). Specific course requirements vary among schools, and students are expected to contact the schools about their specific requirements prior to submitting an application. In general, students should complete the following courses: General Biology, two semesters (BIO 132, BIO 200); Introductory and Inorganic Chemistry, two semesters (CHEM 120, CHEM 200); Organic Chemistry, two semesters (CHEM 221, CHEM 222); Biochemistry, one semester, (CHEM 330); Physics, two semesters (PHYS 221 and PHYS 222); English, two semesters; Mathematics, two semesters (college algebra or higher); and Social Science, two semesters. It is also strongly recommended that students complete Comparative Anatomy (BIO 372) and Histology (BIO 371).

Civic Engagement

CIVIC ENGAGEMENT

Virginia Wesleyan encourages its students, faculty, and staff to be active participants in the civic life of all communities both in Hampton Roads and beyond. At the same time, the University welcomes the engagement of governmental, cultural, religious leaders, and other residents of the surrounding area in campus activities. The University fosters this interaction between campus and community through the centers described below, as well as the Wesleyan Engaged, the Chaplain's Office, The Lighthouse, the Robert F. Boyd Institute, and through various other offers across campus. Notably, the campus is home to Volunteer Hampton Roads, to the Frank Blocker Youth Center at YMCA Camp Red Feather, and the Tidewater Community/Collegiate Academy.

Wesleyan Engaged: Center for Civic Engagement and Service Learning

Wesleyan Engaged nurtures partnerships with civic organizations in order to facilitate meaningful student volunteer activities, to promote the growth of faculty-led service learning courses, and to improve the Hampton Roads community and beyond.

Wesleyan Engaged works with faculty, staff, and students to provide high-impact opportunities for engagement both on and off-campus. The Center sponsors signature programs such as Marlins Read and Marlins Count, which aid local elementary students develop a passion and understanding of reading and mathematics. In addition to signature programs, The Center also sponsors faculty development programs throughout the year to aid faculty to understand how important civic engagement is for students. The Center works with faculty to incorporate civic engagement into course curriculum in order to aid students to understand the connection between information presented in class and how that information is presented in the business world.

The Center tracks civic engagement for students, faculty, and staff so that our Marlin Community can be recognized through the Presidential Volunteer Service Awards. While the Center's focus is working with faculty, it also works with students individually or student organizations to locate and participate in engagement in the community.

Wesleyan Engaged is located in 025 Batten Center.

Center for Innovative Teaching and Engaged Learning (INTEL)

The INTEL Center provides leadership and support for new academic initiatives and faculty development that promote institutional commitments to students' intellectual inquiry, active learning, and civic engagement.

Supporting its mission, INTEL is a hub for academic technology, providing services and resources to faculty to foster innovation and academic excellence. To expand mutually beneficial academic engagement opportunities, INTEL encourages community engagement in the classroom and neighborhood, regional, and global partnerships to promote practical learning experiences that prepare students for success in future careers and in civic responsibility.

The INTEL Center is located in the Jane P. Batten Center.

Center for Sacred Music

The Center for Sacred Music at Virginia Wesleyan University was founded in 1982 by Dr. David Clayton, Emeritus Professor of Music at Virginia Wesleyan.

The Center's mission is to inspire, to enlighten, and to prepare students as it provides leadership in the language of faith expressed through music and the arts.

The Center offers opportunities for all students to broaden their awareness of the music and ritual that have been part of humankind's various faith expressions for thousands of years. In addition, it offers theoretical and applied instruction as preparation for careers in church music ministry, and as continuing education for those already active in the profession. Courses within the Center's operation include 'Sacred Music History,' 'Psalms, Hymns, and Spiritual Songs,' and 'Directing Church Choirs.'

Some of the Center's initiatives include the annual Sound and Symbol Lecture Series, a Fall Hymn Festival, and the Sacred Music Summer Conference which attracts an annual average of 200 persons from throughout the nation to campus each July. The Center offers an online Church Music Certificate program which is nationally recognized and has been acknowledged by The College Board for its excellence in training church musicians in a liberal arts setting.

The Center for Sacred Music is located in the Fine Arts Building.

Center for the Study of Religious Freedom

The Center for the Study of Religious Freedom (CSRF) is the only program of its kind operating within an undergraduate liberal arts college in the United States. Since its inception in 1996, the Center has brought individuals and communities into deep and meaningful dialogue about the most important values in society.

The Center is grounded in Virginia Wesleyan University's commitment to a rigorous liberal arts education and its United Methodist heritage, which has long recognized religious freedom as a basic human right. The Center aims to create a civil society through education, respectful dialogue, and mutual understanding. It is dedicated to equipping students to be leaders and citizens who understand how the reconciliation of religious differences creates meaningful opportunities for civil solutions to difficult and urgent problems.

The Center informs by providing students with a nuanced understanding of religious freedom as a basic human right; transforms by engaging students in high-impact learning experiences that shape their perspectives on religious freedom; and equips by teaching the skills needed to recognize fundamental differences between people, to combat religious intolerance, and to find ways for society to mediate and work through substantive challenges towards meaningful solutions.

Through high-impact learning experiences, the Center for the Study of Religious Freedom informs, transforms, and equips individuals to be engaged leaders and citizens, as they increasingly understand why religious freedom is a basic human right of daily significance. Center activities include mediation training, intergenerational dialogue, study away opportunities, and world-renowned speakers. Initiatives also include the NEXUS Interfaith Dialogue Series, the Life Matters series, and town hall discussions, along with events and speakers that confront timely issues involving religion, law, politics, race, and sexuality.

The Center does not advocate any particular political or religious perspective, but does stand for principles of dialogue, liberty, and engaged citizenship.

The Center for the Study of Religious Freedom is located in Clarke Hall.

Women's Resource Center

The Women's Resource Office (WRC) exists as a place of support, service, and education for all students, faculty, staff, and community members.

The Center provides a place for gender equity and mutual respect among all members of the community by celebrating women's achievements; recognizes and welcomes women's diversity; and offers programs relevant to the lives of students, as well as resources to educate, support, and empower all students, faculty, staff, and community members.

The Women's Resource Center sponsors a wide array of programming, such as annual educational and social events for Women's History Month and International Women's Day. The Center also sponsors workshops for students, on topics such as career and interview preparation, college sexuality, and sexual assault awareness. In addition, the Center provides interactive activities for the entire campus community on issues related to diversity and inclusion, such as training on how to be an LGBTQ ally, how to create safe spaces on campus, and town hall discussions on intersectional issues, such as reproductive justice and race. The Center also provides a lending library and information center containing a range of materials on topics including domestic violence, personal safety, relationships, and sexual health, which is available to the campus community at large.

The Women's Resource Center is located in the Floyd E Kellam, Jr., Social Science Lab in Allen Village.

Campus Life

CAMPUS LIFE

On any given day at Virginia Wesleyan students can be found participating in athletics, singing with the choir, practicing for a play, planning for an art show, gathering news for the student newspaper, leading prayer and Bible study, partaking in an aerobics or rock climbing session, and engaging in social activities in the Jane P. Batten Student Center.

Although Virginia Wesleyan is primarily residential, campus activities are intended to involve and meet the needs of commuters and adult students, as well as resident students.

Guided by the staff of the Student Affairs Division, the student life programs and services encourage all students to grow outside the classroom.

Jane P. Batten Student Center

The Jane P. Batten Student Center is home to a spacious fitness center featuring dozens of weight machines, bikes, Stairmasters and other equipment; an eight-lane swimming pool complemented by a ten-person Jacuzzi and saunas; three racquetball courts; an indoor elevated running track; Convocation Hall/Donald Forsyth Court; the Cunningham Multipurpose Athletic Center (CMAC) practice gymnasium; a rock climbing wall; the Marlin Grille; and the Scribner Bookstore.

Campus Recreation Program

RecX at Virginia Wesleyan strives to provide quality recreational opportunities to the campus community regardless of skill or experience. Its primary mission is to promote personal growth, social fellowship, and healthy lifestyle choices through participation in challenging and fun activities. All of the programs emphasize student involvement and leadership to determine the direction of yearly goals. Students may get involved in campus recreation as a participant in a variety of RecX programs or as a student employee. For more detailed information about any of the programs, policies, or for general rules, please visit the University's website.

Clubs and Organizations

Virginia Wesleyan is home to over 50 student clubs and organizations that strive to meet the needs of the student population. Types of clubs and organizations include fraternities and sororities, honor societies, spiritual, multicultural, leadership, and special interest groups. Students are also welcome to start their own club if an interest is not currently represented. A complete list of active clubs and organizations is available on the Virginia Wesleyan website.

Office of Student Activities

This Office enhances the overall educational experience by fostering social and leadership development and encouraging collaboration. It also supports the Wesleyan Activities Council, Student Government Association, fraternities and sororities, clubs and organizations, programs for commuters, and leadership initiatives.

Student Government Association

Virginia Wesleyan students are organized as the Student Government Association (SGA). This association comprises the executive board, president and vice-president, as well as 16 class officers. The SGA makes every effort to respond to student concerns and promote the general welfare of students and campus organizations. Moreover, through work on many committees, involvement in social activities, sponsorship of open forums, and special programs that foster informal student faculty dialogue, the SGA contributes in many ways to the quality of campus life.

Wesleyan Activities Council

WAC is a student programming board that provides social, educational, and community-building activities on campus. Examples include concerts, comedians, hypnotists, spoken word poets, diversity programs, and novelty giveaways. WAC is the primary programming arm of the Office of Student Activities. WAC membership is open to full-time, undergraduate students of Virginia Wesleyan.

Intercollegiate Athletics

An integral part of campus life at Virginia Wesleyan, men participate in intercollegiate soccer, basketball, golf, tennis, lacrosse, baseball, indoor/outdoor track, cross-country and swimming. The women's intercollegiate program includes basketball, golf, softball, tennis, soccer, field hockey, lacrosse, indoor/outdoor track, cross-country, volleyball and swimming. Additionally, Virginia Wesleyan offers a competitive cheerleading program.

Virginia Wesleyan is a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association—Division III, as well as the Old Dominion Athletic Conference. The athletic programs at Virginia Wesleyan are highly ranked and both teams and individuals have received regional and national recognition and honors. Virginia Wesleyan believes the Division III level of intercollegiate athletics encourages the student-athlete to develop not just in his or her chosen sport, but also in the classroom and as productive members in the campus community. Nearly 25 percent of the Virginia Wesleyan student population are student-athletes.

Students who participate in intercollegiate athletics are required to be enrolled full-time and must be making satisfactory progress toward graduation.

Counseling Services

Virginia Wesleyan provides a Student Counseling Center staffed certified clinicians. Students may be referred by members of the faculty or staff, or they may refer themselves for counseling. This free, confidential service is available to all students and can include both short-term and longer individual counseling, structured to meet the student's need. Referral to professionals off campus is available in cases where students need specialized services such as medication evaluations. The Chaplain collaborates with the Counseling Center and is also available to students seeking individual counseling.

One member of the staff, a specialist in the area of substance abuse, offers education and confidential counseling for students who have concerns about their own drug or alcohol use or that of another individual.

Marlin Ministries

With its Methodist heritage, Virginia Wesleyan is committed to providing opportunities for spiritual growth and exploration through campus ministries. At its best, spiritual growth is a multi-faceted experience of learning, worship, service, community and transformation; all drawing us near to God. These experiences can happen in a variety of campus venues. From weekly worship and meetings of faith groups to simple conversation and prayer, there are numerous opportunities for students to meet their spiritual needs. Students are encouraged to take a religious studies course, participate in an offering of the Center for Sacred Music, engage in the rich dialogue of a living and learning community, or volunteer in the community with other students. All students are welcome at our inter-denominational worship gathering called SOAR, or they can connect with the Chaplain's Office to locate a local place of worship. Special arrangements for use of the Monumental Chapel can be made through the Chaplain's Office.

Virginia Wesleyan University Student Health Center managed by Sentara Medical Group

All Virginia Wesleyan students are entitled to the benefits of the Student Health Center. A Sentara Medical Group Physician Assistant, Nurse Practitioner, and/or Medical Assistant provide first aid and healthcare. Services provided by the Center through Sentara will be available to students during the fall and spring semesters and during Winter Session. Sentara Family Medicine Physicians (Wesleyan Drive and Pleasure House Road locations) will be available during regular business hours to treat students requiring a higher level of care than can be provided at the Center and to provide service to students when the Center is closed.

Residential Living

Residence halls at Virginia Wesleyan are designed to foster a sense of community. It is in the residence halls that students find opportunities for cultural, educational, social, and recreational enrichment.

Virginia Wesleyan requires all students to live on campus in the residential housing facilities. Exceptions are granted to those students who: 1. Elect to live at home with a parent or guardian in the Hampton Roads area; 2. Are married; 3. Are carrying less than a full-time course load (fewer than 12 semester hours); and 4. Petition Virginia Wesleyan and are granted permission to live off campus. Students who have been residents of the Hampton Roads area of Virginia for the year prior to their initial application may choose to commute. They have the option of commuting from their local residence or residing in the residence hall facilities. Students who are under the age of 18 or are 24 years of age or older must request permission to live in the residential facilities.

Commuting

Commuter students are a vital part of the Virginia Wesleyan community. The Student Activities Office keeps commuter students informed, provides special assistance, and encourages them to take full advantage of the co-curricular activities. The office provides such resources as a kitchenette and locker space.

Enrollment Services

ENROLLMENT SERVICES

Virginia Wesleyan University seeks to enroll qualified students from diverse social, religious, racial, economic, and geographic backgrounds. Admission is based solely on the applicant's academic and personal qualifications. The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, creed, age, sex, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or covered veteran status.

Admission Requirements for Freshmen

Public, Private, and Home Schooled Students

The Admission Committee believes that high school students who have taken a strong academic program of at least 16 solid academic units are most likely to succeed in meeting the requirements of Virginia Wesleyan's curriculum. The program should include strong preparation in English, foreign language, algebra, geometry, history, and science.

The committee looks with favor on Virginia's advanced studies diploma and on comparable programs offered in other states. Virginia Wesleyan welcomes home schooled applicants who meet the above criteria and submit a student transcript of coursework completed.

Application Materials Required for All Freshman Applicants

1. A completed application.
2. An official high school transcript or comparable home school documentation.
3. An official record of scores on the Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT) or the American College Testing Program (ACT). Applicants are responsible for arranging to take these tests and for requesting that results be sent to Virginia Wesleyan. The CEEB code for Virginia Wesleyan is 5867. The ACT code is 4429.
4. Students whose first language is not English must demonstrate English language proficiency at the time of application for admission (see section on international students below).

Home-Schooled Students

Home-schooled students must demonstrate compliance with state and local education regulations. Demonstration of the competencies outlined above combined with scores on a standardized college admission test examination, such as the ACT or the SAT, must satisfy the minimum qualifications for admission.

GED Students

Admission may be granted to students who were awarded a high school equivalency diploma by passing a standardized evaluation, such as the General Educational Development (GED) test or the External Diploma Program (EDP). Standardized test scores may be requested.

In reviewing non-traditional applications, the Admission Committee will evaluate the breadth and depth of academic preparation through documentation provided by the student. In addition to standardized SAT/ACT test scores, materials such as SAT subject tests, a resume and a list of extracurricular activities or letters of recommendation, may be provided or requested. The same standards used in regular admission regarding breadth and depth in academic subjects, minimum standardized test scores, and achievement in coursework apply to students admitted from these categories.

Admission Requirements for Transfer Students

For admission by transfer from another regionally accredited institution, students must submit the following materials:

1. A completed application.
2. Applicants who have not yet completed 12 semester hours of college work must submit an official high school transcript or official GED results in addition to SAT or ACT score, and an official college transcript from all institutions previously attended.
3. Applicants who have successfully completed 12 or more semester hours of college work must submit official college transcripts from all institutions previously attended. Generally, students transferring to Virginia Wesleyan present a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or higher.
4. Students whose first language is not English must demonstrate English language proficiency at the time of application for admission (see section on international students below).

Two-year degrees earned from the Virginia Community College System are accepted in fulfillment of a significant portion of Virginia Wesleyan's general studies requirements. Community College courses that fit Virginia Wesleyan's general studies and other graduation requirements are carefully evaluated to provide maximum transfer credit.

A student's transcript of coursework taken at another college should demonstrate a high quality of work. Credit awarded must be equivalent to courses offered at Virginia Wesleyan or logical extensions of such courses. No credit is transferable for work below a grade of C (2.0), for developmental or non-credit courses, or for failing grades earned under a system of evaluation equivalent to the pass/fail concept. Students may not transfer more than 64 semester hours from two-year institutions. A minimum 2.5 cumulative grade point average is required for admission to the Professional Education Program for teacher preparation and certification.

Transfer Agreements with Community Colleges

Virginia Wesleyan University offers guaranteed admission to transfer students from Tidewater and Thomas Nelson Community Colleges and Richard Bland College upon successful completion of an associate degree or 60-64 hours. All transferable credits earned from the transfer-oriented associate degree program, not to exceed 64 credits, will be accepted and students will be granted junior status standing. A merit scholarship will be awarded, based on the cumulative GPA of all college work attempted.

International Students

Virginia Wesleyan encourages freshman and transfer applications from qualified international students. Applicants who are not residents of the United States are considered on the basis of their performance in their country's educational system in high school and at any colleges or universities they have attended. International students should submit their applications by June 1 for fall semester and by November 1 for spring semester. Applications should include all of the materials listed above for other freshmen or transfer students.

International students whose first language is not English must also submit the following:

1. A TOEFL score of at least 550 on the written test or 80 on the Internet-based exam. (Past scores of 213 for the computer-based test are still accepted), or an IELTS score of 6.5.

2. An official transcript of grades from high school or college translated into English. Applicants are advised to use World Educational Services "International Credential Advantage Package" service. World Educational Services will verify your academic records with the issuing institution(s) and include verified copies with the evaluation report. Applicants will not need to arrange for official academic records to be sent by the issuing institution(s) directly to the University. The University also accepts evaluation reports from services that are current members of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services. For a listing see www.naces.org.

Immigration laws require that all international students be prepared to assume financial responsibility for their educational and living expenses. Students must submit a financial affidavit before an I-20, or Certificate of Eligibility for Non-immigrant Student Status, can be issued.

International students who have outstanding academic records (and in the case of freshman applicants have taken the SAT or ACT exam) may apply to the Office of Enrollment Services for an academic scholarship. Scholarships are awarded based on the SAT or ACT score, and the high school or college transcript.

Veterans

Virginia Wesleyan is fully approved by the Commonwealth of Virginia to offer college work to applicants who qualify for veterans' benefits. Veterans who have received specialized training through military service should present their credentials for review when they apply for admission to determine whether the training qualifies for college credit.

Special Students

Residents of the community who take classes at Virginia Wesleyan but are not candidates for a degree are classified as special students. Tuition and fees for special students who are taking the classes for academic credit are the same as fees for regular students. Special students seeking to transfer credit to another institution may be required to submit academic credentials or certification of good standing at the current institution. A special student who is auditing a class will receive a reduced tuition rate.

Dual Enrollment

Admission is offered to outstanding high school juniors and seniors and students of a similar age who are being home schooled who demonstrate readiness to enroll in college-level classes. Interested students should contact the Office of Enrollment Services for an interview. Typically, both a transcript of high school coursework completed and a recommendation by a high school official must be submitted in support of the dual enrollment application. Due to federal financial aid regulations, special students who do not have a high school diploma or equivalent cannot be considered for federal financial assistance. However, dual enrollment student may take up to two courses per semester at a reduced tuition rate.

Visiting Students

Visiting students attend another college or university and want to earn credit at Virginia Wesleyan University that will transfer back to their home institution. In addition to submitting a Visiting Student Application, students must submit a Permission from Home Institution Form. An official at the home institution must complete the form, documenting the student is in good standing at his/her home institution and has permission to enroll in the courses listed on the form. Admission as a visiting student does not imply admission to a degree program at Virginia Wesleyan.

Special students may apply in advance but must wait to register until other students have registered. A special student who decides to become a degree-seeking student must reapply for admission as a regular student.

Credit for Prior Learning Experiences

Advanced Placement

Virginia Wesleyan grants course credit for Advanced Placement Exams of the College Entrance Examination Board. Credit is not awarded for both an AP exam and an IB exam in the same subject. (See chart on the following page for minimum scores.)

College-Level Examination Program (CLEP)

Entering students may apply for credit in disciplines in which they have taken CLEP examinations and achieved a score at or above the 50th percentile. Current students must receive prior approval before taking CLEP examinations for credit. They may receive credit for scores on the general examinations and on the subject examinations in areas applicable to Virginia Wesleyan's curriculum. Specific information can be obtained from the Registrar's home page (www.vwu.edu/academics/registrar).

International Baccalaureate

Virginia Wesleyan grants advanced placement and/or credit for a score of 5 or higher on the Higher Level examinations in the International Baccalaureate (IB) program. The table below lists courses that have been reviewed and approved for credit by the University's various academic departments. Additional IB courses not listed here may be reviewed as necessary. No credit is awarded for Subsidiary Level examinations. Credit is not awarded for both an IB exam and an AP exam in the same subject.

Military Credit

Virginia Wesleyan follows the guidelines set forth by the American Council on Education (ACE) when granting credit for educational experiences in the armed services. Veterans should submit an appropriate transcript (such as Joint Services Transcript, etc.). Credit awarded must be equivalent to courses offered at Virginia Wesleyan or logical extensions thereof and are subject to review by faculty in the academic field. A student may receive a maximum of 32 semester hours for military credit.

Professional Certifications

Virginia Wesleyan follows the guidelines set forth by the American Council on Education (ACE) when granting credit for professional certifications. In some cases, professional training and/or certification may earn American Council of Education (ACE) credits. Official paperwork should be submitted by the student to the Registrar's Office for evaluation.

Financial Information

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Office of Finance and Administration Policies

General Policy on Student Accounts

Students may not be allowed to enroll or attend classes in any semester until all fees due at the time have been paid. Additionally, students will not receive a transcript of credits, their diploma from the University, or be allowed to participate in the commencement ceremony unless their University accounts are paid in full.

Consent to Communication/ Disclosure of Tuition and Fees

Students are required to complete the current Consent to Communication/Disclosure of Tuition and Fees form prior to their first semester. Failure to complete the form may result in a registration hold, disallowing a student to register for future courses.

Tuition and Fees

The University holds tuition and other expenses to the minimum necessary for providing quality education and maintaining a fiscally responsible operation. Tuition and fees paid by students do not cover the actual cost of their education. Grants and gifts received by the University through the generosity of the United Methodist Church, foundations, friends, and others help to reduce the difference between income and costs. Basic full-time tuition and fees for Day students attending the University for the academic year 2018-2019 are as follows:

Tuition	$ 36,010.00
Double Room and Meals*	$ 9,257.00
Damage Deposit	$ 150.00
Student Activity Fee	$ 200.00
Technology Fee	$ 450.00

* This represents the lowest rate for a double room and meals. Cost of rooms in East, Johnson, Village III, apartments, townhouses and singles is higher.

All incoming freshmen enrolled in the Day program are required to attend the Winter session. Freshman students will be charged the non-refundable resident ($1,170) or commuter ($740) fee during their incoming Fall semester.

Non-freshmen Day students may also attend up to 5 credit hours during the Winter session for a fee of $250. Housing charges for Winter session is $430.

Students may also attend Summer session at $399 per credit hour plus $109 per week for housing.

Tuition for Day students enrolled for fewer than 12 credit hours in a semester will be charged $1,500 per credit hour. Day Students enrolled in between 12 and 18 credit hours per semester will be charged the full-time rate. A Day student may take more than 18 hours only with the permission of the faculty advisor and the Provost. A Day student enrolled in more than 18 hours at the conclusion of the drop/add week of either the Fall or Spring semester are considered in overload and will be charged $1,500 for each credit hour over 18 credit hours. Students can take between 1 to 4 credits for service courses per semester which do not apply towards the maximum credit hour calculation.

Different tuition rates apply for students enrolled in the Evening and Weekend, On-line and Graduate programs. For policies related to the Evening and Weekend program, please refer to the Evening and Weekend section of the Catalog. For Online and Graduate programs please refer to www.vwu.edu/academics/online.

Payment of Tuition and Fees

The University bills students each semester for tuition, room, meals and fees. Student statements are available online at www.vwu.edu, through MyPortal. Fall semester tuition and fees are due and payable no later than July 27, 2018. Charges for the Spring semester are due and payable no later than December 7, 2018. Winter and Summer sessions and miscellaneous charges are due in full when billed. Tuition for Evening and Weekend, On-line and Graduate programs are due when billed.

New students who have not completed their financial arrangements will be delayed in being processed for registration. Continuing students who have not taken care of their financial arrangements as noted above will have their advance registration schedules deleted.

Occasional Fees

Students who enroll in certain courses may be charged additional fees. Those who enroll in applied music courses incur additional charges for private lessons.

In cases where damage to University property occurs, the student(s) involved are charged a fee to cover repairs or replacement.

Withdrawal and Refund Policies

The withdrawal policy applies to registered students who attend at least one class and then “officially” withdraw from the University. To officially withdraw means the student needs to go through the proper channels as set forth by the University. To stop attending classes does not constitute an official withdrawal. In order to start the process, the student needs to contact the Office of the Registrar. Students who withdraw from the University completely may receive a partial refund as follows: 90% during the first week of classes, 50% the second week and 25% the third week. There will be no refunds for withdrawal after the third week of classes. Calculations will be based on the date the withdrawal form is completed and submitted to the Office of the Registrar. The University will charge an administrative cost allowance for any student withdrawing. The cost will be $100.00. Enrollment deposits are non-refundable. Withdrawal and refund policies for On-line and Graduate programs may be different and are available at www.vwu.edu/academics/online.

Administrative Withdrawal for Non-Attendance (No Show)

Day students who register for a semester of coursework but do not attend class sessions of any of their courses during the first two full weeks of the semester are withdrawn from the University administratively and notified of that action by a letter sent to both home and campus addresses. Those students are responsible for 10% of tuition and room and board charges plus the administrative cost allowance. The student will be ineligible for any federal, state, or institutional financial aid. This includes all grants, scholarships, and loans.

Financial Aid Policy for Students Who Withdraw From or Stop Attending Classes

The Financial Aid Office is required by federal statute to recalculate federal Title IV financial aid eligibility for students who withdraw, drop out, are dismissed, or take a leave of absence prior to completing 60% of a payment period or term.

If a student leaves the institution prior to completing 60% of a payment period or term, the Financial Aid Office recalculates eligibility for Title IV funds. Recalculation is based on the percentage of earned aid using the following Federal Return of Title IV funds formula:

Percentage of payment period or term completed = the number of days completed up to the withdrawal date divided by the total days in the payment period or term. (Any break of five days or more is not counted as part of the days in the term.) This percentage is also the percentage of earned aid.

Funds are returned to the appropriate federal program based on the percentage of unearned aid using the following formula:

Aid to be returned = (100% of the aid that could be disbursed minus the percentage of earned aid) multiplied by the total amount of aid that could have been disbursed during the payment period or term.

If a student earned less aid than was disbursed, the institution would be required to return a portion of the funds, and the student would be required to return a portion of the funds. When Title IV funds are returned, the student borrower may owe a balance to the institution, which must be paid within 30 days of withdrawing from the University.

If a student earned more aid than was disbursed to him/her, the institution would owe the student a post-withdrawal disbursement, which must be paid within 120 days of the student's withdrawal.

The institution must return the amount of Title IV funds for which it is responsible no later than 45 days after the date of the determination of the date of the student's withdrawal.

Refunds are allocated in the following order:

- Unsubsidized Direct Stafford Loans (other than PLUS loans)
- Subsidized Direct Stafford Loans
- Direct PLUS Loans
- Federal Pell Grants for which a return of funds is required
- Federal Supplemental Opportunity Grants for which a return of funds is required
- Other Title IV assistance for which a return of funds is required (e.g., TEACH).

Payment Arrangements

If students cannot pay their account when due, they may request a payment arrangement through the Office of Finance and Administration. Payment amounts and terms are variable and at the University's discretion. The University does require formal documentation and a promissory note for all payment arrangements. Students will not be allowed to register for additional terms, receive a transcript of credits, receive their diploma, or be allowed to participate in the commencement ceremony until their balance is paid in full.

Collections

If students do not pay their account when due, do not have a payment arrangement, or default on their payment arrangement, their account may be placed with a collection agency. If an account is placed with any collection agency, the student will be responsible for all collection agency fees, and all costs and expenses, including reasonable attorney fees which the University incurs in collection efforts.

There is a 10 day waiting period for release of a transcript of credits or a diploma after an account is paid in full through a collection agency.

Returned Checks

There will be a $40.75 service charge applied to a student's account for all returned checks and eChecks. Students are expected to immediately resolve all outstanding balances.

Resident Student Enrollment Policy

All resident students must be registered for full time (at least 12 credit hours). Any resident student who falls below 12 credit hours during a semester will continue to be billed for full time (12 credit hours). A resident student who falls below 12 credit hours may be ineligible for all or part of their financial aid package.

Resident students may request permission to change to a commuter status if they meet certain eligibility criteria. Students desiring such a change should contact the Residence Life Office. If resident students receive permission to move off campus before the first day of class they will receive a 100% refund of their room and board charges. If a resident student moves off campus after the first week of classes, the University retains 100% of room and board.

Resident Student Housing and Common Area Damage Billing

Residence hall and common area damages will be assessed to the student's account as charges. Damage charges are furnished by the Residence Life Office. The student is responsible for making payment of all damages. Questions regarding damage charges should be directed to the Residence Life Office.

ID Cards

The charge for replacement ID cards is $25.00 per card. Replacement cards are obtained in the Security Office.

Meal Cards

All resident students will be required to show their ID cards at each meal. The student ID card will be encoded at the beginning of the semester with the proper meal plan. Information regarding meal plans is available in the Office of Finance and Administration.

Personal Property

Although the University will attempt to safeguard the personal property of employees, students and guests, the University cannot assume responsibility for such property. The University urges everyone who may bring personal property to the campus to review his/her home insurance policy to ensure adequate protection.

Campus Mail

The Office of Finance and Administration coordinates the campus mail system. Each student is assigned a mailbox in the mail room, which is located in the Boyd Campus Center, adjacent to the dining facilities. Students are expected to check mailboxes regularly for University notices as well as for personal mail. Students who receive notices of packages or over-sized mail may pick up these items in the mail room between the hours of 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Payment of Tuition and Fees

The University bills students each semester for tuition, room, and meals. Charges for the fall semester are due and payable no later than July 28, 2017. Charges for the spring semester are due and payable no later than December 8, 2018. Miscellaneous charges are due in full when billed.

The schedule for payment for students attending fall 2017 and spring 2018 is as follows:

Resident Student (double room)

July 28, 2017	$23,277.00
December 8, 2017	$22,477.00

Commuter Student

July 28, 2017	$18,655.00
December 8, 2017	$18,005.00

New students who have not completed their financial arrangements will be delayed in being processed for registration. Continuing students who have not taken care of their financial arrangements as noted above will have their advance registration schedules deleted.

Withdrawal and Refund Policies

Since the University must make financial commitments, the tuition and room deposits are non-refundable. The withdrawal policy applies to students who attend at least one class and then "officially" withdraw from the University. To "officially" withdraw means the student needs to go through the proper channels as set forth by the University. To stop attending classes does not constitute an "official" withdrawal. In order to start the process, the student needs to go to the Office of the Registrar. Students who withdraw from the university completely may receive a partial refund as follows: 90% during the first week of classes, 50% the second week and 25% the third week. After the third week of classes, there is no refund. Calculations will be based on the date the withdrawal form is completed and submitted to the Office of the Registrar. The University will charge an administrative cost allowance for any student withdrawing. The cost will be five percent (5%) of tuition, room, and meals originally charged, but will not exceed $100.00.

Students Who Withdraw From or Stop Attending Classes

The Financial Aid Office is required by federal statute to recalculate federal Title IV financial aid eligibility for students who withdraw, drop out, are dismissed, or take a leave of absence prior to completing 60% of a payment period or term.

If a student leaves the institution prior to completing 60% of a payment period or term, the

Aid to be returned = (100% of the aid that could be disbursed minus the percentage of earned aid) multiplied by the total amount of aid that could have been disbursed during the payment period or term.

If a student earned less aid than was disbursed, the institution would be required to return a portion of the funds, and the student would be required to return a portion of the funds. When Title IV funds are returned, the student borrower may owe a balance to the institution, which must be paid within 30 days of withdrawing from the University.

If a student earned more aid than was disbursed to him/her, the institution would owe the student a post-withdrawal disbursement, which must be paid within 120 days of the student's withdrawal.

The institution must return the amount of Title IV funds for which it is responsible no later than 45 days after the date of the determination of the date of the student's withdrawal.

Refunds are allocated in the following order:

- Unsubsidized Direct Stafford Loans (other than PLUS loans)
- Subsidized Direct Stafford Loans
- Federal Perkins Loans
- Direct PLUS Loans
- Federal Pell Grants for which a return of funds is required
- Federal Supplemental Opportunity Grants for which a return of funds is required
- Other Title IV assistance for which a return of funds is required (e.g., TEACH).

Delinquent Account Policies

Payment Arrangements

If students cannot pay their account when due, they may request a payment arrangement through the Office of Finance and Administration. Payment amounts and terms are variable and at the University's discretion. The University does require formal documentation and a promissory note for all arrangements. Students will not be allowed to register for additional terms, receive a transcript of credits, receive their diploma, or be allowed to participate in the commencement ceremony until their balance is paid in full.

Collections

If students do not pay their account when due, do not have a payment arrangement, or defaults on their payment arrangement, their account may be placed with a collection agency. If an account is placed with any collection agency, the student must agree to reimburse Virginia Wesleyan University for the fees of the collection agency, which will be based on a percentage at a maximum of 33.33% of the debt, and all costs and expenses, including reasonable attorney's fees, the University incurs in collection efforts.

There is a 10 day waiting period for release of a transcript of credits or a diploma after an account is paid in full through a collection agency.

Financial Aid

Virginia Wesleyan believes that no student should be denied the opportunity to attend because of limited financial resources. The Financial Aid staff is available to counsel with students and their families regarding financial assistance.

Students who demonstrate financial need may qualify for grants, low-interest loans, and the work-study program. To be considered for financial aid, students must submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), which is available from the Financial Aid Office, from a high school guidance counselor, or online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Financial aid is granted on an annual basis, and each student's need is re-evaluated each year. First preference is given to applicants who meet the March 1 priority mailing deadline.

Virginia Wesleyan also offers academic scholarships, without regard to need, to entering freshmen and transfer students with outstanding academic records.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

The Financial Aid Office will routinely check grades after the fall, spring, and summer semesters. Specifically, the office is looking at a student's cumulative GPA, progress towards their degree, and whether that student is still on track to graduate within four years. Each student is required to earn a passing grade in 70% or more in completed classes.

GPA expectations are as follows:

- 23 or fewer credits completed, a minimum cumulative GPA of 1.8
- 24-53 credits completed, a minimum cumulative GPA of 1.9
- 54+ credits completed, a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0
- Master's Program, a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0

Failure to meet the University's minimum passing rate could result in a loss of federal student aid or eligibility. Students working towards a Bachelor's Degree can earn up to 192 credits towards their first degree before they are no longer eligible for Federal Aid. Students receiving Virginia Aid and/or Virginia Wesleyan Scholarships/Grants are no longer eligible for aid after four years.

Please refer to the Financial Aid Self-Service site on Virginia Wesleyan University's website to review the complete policy in reference to Financial Aid and eligibility requirement. Students who have lost financial aid are also encouraged to read about the University's appeal process.

PLAN OF STUDY

Educational Program

Virginia Wesleyan University provides students with a sound liberal arts education that prepares them for a meaningful life and career. Such an education must have qualities of breadth, depth, and flexibility.

Today's society requires educated specialists in many areas; however, the times also demand broadly educated individuals who understand their disciplines in the context of the society and in relation to the past and future. The University's General Studies Program speaks particularly to this need for breadth. A liberally educated person has also experienced the discipline of mastering a particular field of knowledge. Virginia Wesleyan's curriculum unites breadth with depth by combining general studies with intensified studies in a major field chosen by the end of the sophomore year. Finally, a strong liberal arts program has flexibility. Approximately one-third of the courses students take at Virginia Wesleyan are electives. Students also find that they have many choices in selecting courses to fulfill the General Studies requirements.

Four-Year Graduation Guarantee

Virginia Wesleyan University guarantees that all students wishing to graduate in four years will be provided necessary courses as required by the University in their chosen field of study. Any required courses needed beyond four years will be provided to the student tuition-free.

Entering freshmen wishing to participate in the graduation guarantee program must complete the guarantee application form upon entry to the University and officially declare a major before beginning their fall semester classes at the start of the junior year. Students must successfully complete an average course load of 16 hours each semester (32 hours per year) and remain in good standing at the University. Any course failed or repeated will void the guarantee, and any late change in major options may void the guarantee. Students who are interested in details about the program should contact the Office of Enrollment Services.

University and School Structure

Virginia Wesleyan's academic program is administered through the Batten Honors College, the Birdsong School of Social Science, the Joan P. Brock School of Mathematics and Natural Sciences, the Susan S. Goode School of Arts and Humanities, and the University College. The school structure affords opportunities for interdisciplinary communication and action not normally afforded by a departmental structure. The following disciplines are included in each of the schools:

The Batten Honors College

The Batten Honors College at Virginia Wesleyan spans all majors and explores diverse disciplines in a thematic curriculum that educates and graduates lifelong learners interested in shaping the future and taking action to improve the world.

The Batten Honors College curriculum encourages independent thinking and self-discovery while challenging students to view the world from multiple perspectives and to integrate theory and practice. Students will gain a broader perspective and think critically about the problems we face today, recognizing that solutions to contemporary issues require disciplinary expertise as well as innovation, collaboration, and an interdisciplinary framework.

Student experiences in the Honors curriculum will range from small, seminar-style courses to a faculty-led intensive, immersive global experience. The interdisciplinary seminars will include lectures and group discussions on topics such as sustainable development, globalization, human rights and humanitarian intervention, and the implications of the United States' presence around the world. Students will develop analytical, leadership, collaboration, and communication skills within their learning community through the Honors courses and experiential learning opportunities that include study away, research or internship, and service projects locally or around the globe.

University College

The newest unit of Academic Affairs, University College serves evening, weekend, online, early enrollment/advanced scholars, and non-degree-seeking and non-credit learners. Fully integrated with Virginia Wesleyan's excellent curriculum, University College coordinates recruitment, enrollment, support services, and course and program delivery across the University in order to promote the following opportunities for non-traditional students: (1) Evening and Weekend Program; (2) VWU Online; (3) Advanced Scholars (Dual Enrollment) Program; (4) VFIC Language Exchange; (5) American Culture and Tourism Management Internship Program at Busch Gardens; (6) Center for the Study of Religious Freedom (see, above, "Joan P. and Macon F. Brock Jr. Director of the Center") (7) Center for Sacred Music (see "Director of the Center for Sacred Music," above); (8) Westminster/Wesleyan Lifelong Learning Institute; and (9) Robert F. Boyd Institute (which, in partnership with the Virginia Conference of the United Methodist Church, hosts an annual workshop for UMC pastors that yields continuing education units).

The Baccalaureate Degree

The liberal arts program at Virginia Wesleyan University offers a Bachelor of Arts degree, a Bachelor of Science degree, and a Bachelor of Social Work degree with numerous options for majors in the humanities, natural sciences, and social science. Students carrying the normal course load of 16 semester hours can expect to graduate after eight semesters. The specific requirements for graduation are described in this section of the catalog. The following majors and degrees are offered, and intended for transfer, as described in the chart.

Additional Baccalaureate Degree

Students may earn a maximum of one B.A., one B.S., and one B.S.W. at Virginia Wesleyan by fulfilling the requirements for each degree, either separately or concurrently. Students who have completed one degree and wish to complete a second degree must earn a minimum of 32 additional semester hours beyond the first degree. These 32 hours must be in traditionally graded courses. At least 24 of the 32 hours must be at the 300/400 level, and at least 20 must be in the major field. The grade point average for the second degree is separate from the grade point average for the initial degree unless completed concurrently.

A student pursuing two degrees concurrently at Virginia Wesleyan must earn a minimum of 160 semester hours.

A degree may not be earned by combining partial requirements for a B.A. with partial requirements for a B.S. or a B.S.W., nor may a second degree be awarded with a major in the same academic field as the first degree. Graduation requirements and limitations, in addition to specific requirements for the major and minor, are the same for B.A., B.S., and B.S.W. degrees and may serve to fulfill the requirements of both degrees.

Once a baccalaureate degree has been awarded, the GPA for the degree is frozen. Subsequent coursework and grades are not calculated into the initial GPA for the degree. Coursework completed as part of the initial degree may be repeated, but the subsequent grade does not replace the initial grade. All courses and grades from Virginia Wesleyan are included in the academic record, and grades earned in courses for both degrees are calculated into the overall Virginia Wesleyan GPA. Coursework that repeats credit applied toward an initial degree does not count toward the 32 additional hours in residence that are required for a subsequent degree.

All requirements in effect at the time of graduation must be satisfied. All holders of a bachelor's degree are subject to the academic requirements and regulations for seniors. Such students are eligible for scholastic awards and recognition including President's List, Dean's List, Honorable Mention List, and honor societies. Candidates for Latin honors must earn a minimum of 60 semester hours at Virginia Wesleyan.

If in the judgment of the faculty in the major area, the earlier work of a student does not adequately cover more recent advances or needs in the field, the student may be required to repeat certain courses or otherwise make up the deficiency. These requirements should be established at an early date. They must have the approval of the school dean and be kept on file in the Registrar's Office.

Academic Requirements for Virginia Wesleyan's Internship Courses

To ensure that internships meet the highest academic standards and align with best practices in the field, all credit-bearing internships at Virginia Wesleyan University meet the following requirements:

- The internship course includes a structured mechanism for discussion of the internship experience between the instructor, the student, and if possible other students.
- The course includes a Learning Contract for each student. The Learning Contract is signed by all parties (student, instructor, and site supervisor) during the first weeks of the internship experience.
- The course requires 45 hours of coursework per academic credit based on a 15-week semester. Coursework could include 1) on-site work hours, 2) work related to the internship, 3) class meetings, or 4) course assignments. The division of coursework is at the discretion of the supervising course instructor.
- The student's on-site (i.e., work) hours may not exceed 40 hours per week. This is consistent with the U.S. Department of Labor's internship regulations and the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA).
- The student has junior or senior status. Exceptions are at the instructor's discretion.
- The student is in good academic standing with a minimum GPA of 2.0. Academic major programs may require higher GPAs.
- The student receives instructor consent to enroll in the course.

Graduation Requirements

First-Year Experience

All freshmen—and transfer students with fewer than 12 semester hours—must complete the one-credit course, FYE 101 First-Year Experience. A transfer student is a student who has graduated from high school and attended college. Students who have completed dual enrollment courses in high school are considered first-time freshmen, not transfer students, and must complete FYE 101. Led by a faculty mentor, a small, close-knit group of new students engage in an array of activities and exercises that invite them to explore the liberal arts, connect to the campus community, and develop the personal resourcefulness that leads to success in college. Students who do not pass the FYE 101 requirement have the option to repeat FYE 101 the following spring semester.

The School Requirement

Among the courses used to satisfy the General Studies program described below, a minimum of four semester hours must be successfully completed in each of the University's three academic schools: The Birdsong School of Social Science, The Joan P. Brock School of Mathematics and Natural Sciences, and The Susan G. Goode School of Arts and Humanities.

The Program of General Studies

The General Studies curriculum at Virginia Wesleyan is designed to teach students how to think integratively. Specifically, students seek to generate complex claims about sophisticated problems that require nuanced, integrated approaches. The Program rests upon seven epistemological approaches ("frames"). These approaches each expose students to broad patterns of thought that explore how people seek to understand their world, their society, and themselves. Following a course-long grounding in each frame, students complete their coursework by enrolling in a senior capstone interdisciplinary course in which they will produce an integrated project.

Competencies (4-16 semester hours)

1. English Composition (4 semester hours)

Students fulfill this requirement by completing English 105, College Writing, during their first year at the University. They learn how to write papers for a variety of rhetorical purposes. They develop strong editing and proofreading skills and practice citing sources accurately using the MLA citation format. Some students may be required to take English 001, Writing Review, before taking English 105. To satisfy the requirement, students must pass ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher.

2. Foreign Language Proficiency (up to 12 semester hours, depending on placement)

All students must demonstrate competency in a language other than English, equivalent to the minimal passing grade on the exit examination in a 213 course. For modern languages this level is defined in the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Language (ACTFL) proficiency guidelines as the Intermediate-Mid level for speaking, listening, reading, and writing. For Latin, this level is defined by the advanced progress indicators of the American Philological Association's Standards for Classical Learning.

Entering first-year students may demonstrate competency by: 1. Completing one language in high school through the third level with a final grade of C or higher; 2. Scoring at least 600 on the CEEB Foreign Language Achievement test; 3. Scoring either a 4 or 5 on a foreign language or literature Advanced Placement exam (in addition, elective credit will also be rewarded, see the Advanced Placement Credits section of the catalog); 4. Transferring credit for college-level coursework through the intermediate level (in accordance with the terms created by University-sponsored articulation agreements); 5. CLEP (Registrar's approval required); 6. Petitioning the Foreign Language and Literatures Department for independent examination of competency; or 7. Completing language studies through Virginia Wesleyan's 111/112/213 course sequence. Entering students with more than sixty (60) semester hours of collegiate work may demonstrate competency, if not satisfied in a way outlined above, by completing language studies through Virginia Wesleyan's 111/112 course sequence.

Entering Evening and Weekend Program (EWP) students may demonstrate language competency, if not satisfied in a way outlined above, by:

- Completing one language in high school through the second level with a final grade of C or higher;
- Completing language studies through SPAN 105 or its equivalent; Or
- Completing a course offered by the Foreign Languages and Literatures department emphasizing linguistics and cultural understanding.

All students receive a foreign language placement based upon their transcripts and application file. Students may challenge their placement by contacting the Foreign Languages and Literatures department coordinator.

The Foreign Languages and Literatures faculty urge students needing to take a language to enroll immediately in the designated course. If students choose not to enroll immediately, they must begin their language study within three semesters of entrance.

3. Writing Intensive (W) (8 semester hours)

All students must successfully complete two courses designated as Writing Intensive (W). They may choose these courses from among the University's 300/400-level offerings. These courses are intended to help upperclassmen continue to develop their writing skills and learn about the conventions of academic and professional writing in their fields of interest.

Frames of Reference and the Senior Integrative Experience (32 semester hours)

Students must complete courses fulfilling their A, H, L, Q, S, T and V frames from different departmental rubrics.

1. Aesthetic Understanding (A) (4 semester hours)

Courses bearing the Aesthetic Understanding (A) designation explore visual art, music, theatre, film, and/or creative writing. These courses offer students the opportunity to understand our cultural heritage as expressed in works of artistic expression created by others and/or to create these kinds of works themselves. Students study the creative process itself to understand and evaluate works intended to provoke an aesthetic response.

Goals:

- To become acquainted with major achievements in the arts.
- To explore the cultural and historical context of artistic achievements.
- To learn techniques for critical analysis and appreciation of works of art.
- To acquire an appropriate vocabulary with which to articulate this knowledge.
- In classes focusing on creative expression, to learn the techniques, discipline, and value of creating works intended to evoke an aesthetic response.

Transferable Skill:

Students can understand and evaluate criticism of work intended to evoke an aesthetic response, produce their own criticisms of such works, or reflectively produce such works, drawing upon knowledge of the vocabulary, cultural contexts, and methods of critical evaluation and production appropriate to aesthetics.

2. Historical Perspectives (H) (4 semester hours)

Courses bearing the Historical Perspectives designation focus on how societies change over time, including how politics, values, beliefs, ideas, cultures, and individuals, interact with and reflect specific historical contexts. This emphasis on historical context excludes courses that are focused on a specific discipline (i.e., the history of history).

Goals:

- To demonstrate understanding of how societies change over time.
- To learn how to interpret and evaluate primary materials in their historical contexts and from later historical perspectives.
- To cultivate independent arguments about historical developments based on the study of primary material.

Transferable Skill:

Students can understand, evaluate, and produce claims concerning human activity of the past and change in human activity over time, by framing this activity, as recorded in the historical record, within its specific historical context(s).

3. Natural Science Laboratory (L) (4 semester hours)

Courses bearing the Natural Science Laboratory (L) designation explore the natural world from a scientific perspective by employing empirical methods including rigorous observation, experimentation, data analysis, and interpretation of hypotheses. Students use scientific techniques in the laboratory and/or field to develop an understanding of the scientific method and gain an in-depth understanding of an aspect of the natural world.

Goals:

- To develop understanding of the natural world through first-hand experience with scientific methodologies.
- To conduct hands-on scientific research involving the collection, analysis and interpretation of systematic observations and/or data.
- To demonstrate knowledge of the scientific way of knowing—the use of systematic observation and experimentation to develop theories and test hypotheses.

Transferable Skill:

Students can understand, evaluate, and produce claims about the natural world generated by use of the scientific method as a means for testing hypotheses.

4. Quantitative Perspectives (Q) (4 semester hours)

Courses bearing the Quantitative Perspectives (Q) designation focus on the analysis of data or models. These courses emphasize critical reflection on the performance, accuracy, applicability, and soundness of conclusions based on data or mathematical models.

Students who receive a placement level of B, A or H may enroll in courses that bear their placement level as a prerequisite. Placement levels are listed in the prerequisite section for each Q course. Students who receive a placement level of H should consult with a member of the Mathematics department regarding upper-level work.

Students who receive a placement level of D must take Math 005, which does not satisfy the Q requirement. Students who successfully complete 005 are expected to enroll in a course that does satisfy the requirement; Math 104 is suggested. Students who receive a placement level of C must take Math 104, which does satisfy the Q requirement.

Goals:

- To study varied approaches to quantitative methods and the critical analysis of data and/or mathematical models.
- To understand the applicability of quantitative reasoning to real world situations by using authentic numerical data whenever possible.
- To recognize the limits of quantitative methods in particular contexts.
- To read, construct, interpret, and evaluate tables, graphs, charts, data, and/or mathematical models.

Transferable Skill:

Students can understand, evaluate, and produce claims inferred from data or mathematical models, especially concerning trends and relationships.

5. Institutional and Cultural Systems (S) (4 semester hours)

Courses bearing the Institutional and Cultural Systems (S) designation focus on human society and its attempts to attain goals valued collectively. Special emphasis is placed on developing a better and more critical understanding of the institutions and cultural systems that play an increasingly significant role in contemporary life.

Goals:

- To explore different ways of defining society, including learning to recognize various types of social phenomena and distinguishing types of social organization.
- To examine different types of social goals, their sources, and the institutions and processes that implement them.
- To understand, apply, and integrate analytical perspectives from diverse fields of inquiry in the analysis of society and social institutions.

Transferable Skill:

Students can understand, evaluate, and produce claims about institutional systems, both formal and informal, generated by analysis of those systems, using statistical work on qualitative or quantitative data or comparative analysis.

6. Literary Textual Analysis (T) (4 semester hours)

200-level courses bearing the Literary Textual Analysis (T) designation are designed primarily to help students to refine their writing and literary analytical skills. These courses emphasize the thoughtful production of written work; the interpretation of rhetorical, symbolic and figurative language; and the meaning of implicit argumentation.

Goals:

- To present interpretive arguments in clear, well-organized essays.
- To develop writing skills using more advanced compositional techniques than were used in English 105.
- To understand the literary mode of textual analysis, which includes the use of symbolic and figurative use of language, intertextual reference, and metaphor, and how such a mode builds upon more fundamental textual analytical skills.
- To understand how to read literary texts that use implicit arguments, the role that figurative language plays in the creation of such implicit arguments, and how such texts serve as models for students' own compositional skills.

Transferable Skill:

Students can understand, evaluate, and produce claims about which beliefs and behaviors to adopt, generated by using categories such as good/bad, right/wrong, beneficial/harmful, fair/unfair, respectful/disrespectful, liberating/constraining, sacred/profane, healthful/disgusting, educative/vitiating, etc., and explain how these categories are employed by established ethical theories and religious communities.

8. Senior Integrative Experience (I) (4 semester hours)

The Senior Integrative Experience is the capstone experience for the General Studies Frames of Reference Program. Investigating complex problems demands a mature, holistic, and integrative approach. SIE courses thus require students to draw upon multiple frames simultaneously typically by presenting and synthesizing claims from different frames of reference in order to respond to a single question, problem or issue.

Goals:

- To review the differing methods that characterize each of the frames of reference.
- To reflect on the need for integrative thinking in response to complex issues, problems and questions.
- To produce a major project which draws upon multiple frames of reference.

Majors

Each student must successfully complete at least one major offered by the University. The student must declare a major and designate a major advisor no later than the semester in which the student completes 64 hours. Subsequent change to a different major is subject to the requirements of that particular major, such as restrictions on GPA and time of declaration. Forms for completing this process are available on the Registrar’s home page or in the Registrar’s Office. Students may change majors at any time by filing a new declaration.

The student’s major advisor or committee must certify that the student has successfully completed all the requirements for the major prior to graduation. A student may not present more than 64 semester hours in any one discipline or more than 88 semester hours in any two disciplines to fulfill graduation requirements (see “Course Limitations”).

Other Graduation Requirements

Total Semester Hours

Students must complete at least 128 semester hours of academic coursework, all of which must be college-level, two-thirds of which must be traditionally graded.

Grade Point Average

Students must have at least a 2.0 (C) grade point average in the major and at least a 2.0 cumulative average. The comprehensive liberal studies, history and social science, and social work majors require a 2.5 average. The individualized major requires a 2.7 average.

Residence Requirement

Effective Fall 2013, all students are required to complete 128 semester hours to graduate, and they must complete their last 32 hours and at least 16 semester hours in their major area in residence at Virginia Wesleyan. Effective Fall 2016, students participating in specific cooperative programs with articulation agreements must complete their last 32 hours in residence prior to transferring to the cooperating institution and must complete at least 16 semester hours in their major area at Virginia Wesleyan.

Oral Communication Proficiency

Students graduating from Virginia Wesleyan must meet discipline-specific standards of oral communication established for their major programs.

Application for Graduation

Degrees are conferred in May, August, and December. Each candidate for a degree is required to file an Application for Graduation according to the following schedule:

Degree Received	December	May	August
Apply for Graduation on WebAdvisor by:	9/15 of the same year	9/15 of the previous year	9/15 of the previous year
Completion of all Graduation Requirements	End of fall semester	End of spring semester	End of summer
Date of Degree Conferral:	December	May	August
Date of Commencement Exercises:	May of the following year	May	Previous or following May

See Two-Course Rule for August Candidates.

The Application for Graduation can be found after logging in to WebAdvisor.

Commencement Exercises

Students are eligible and expected to participate in the first May commencement exercises held after they have completed all graduation requirements. Potential December graduates are also encouraged to attend the December reception held for them.

Two-Course Rule for August Candidates

At the end of the spring semester, if a potential graduate has at most two courses to complete, the student may obtain permission from the Registrar's Office to participate in May commencement exercises. To secure such permission, a student must:

- Have submitted an Application for Graduation by the mandated deadline the previous September;
- Have at most two courses remaining to complete all graduation requirements;
- Have at least a 2.0 overall grade point average;
- Have at least a 2.0 grade point average in a traditional major, or at least a 2.5 in a comprehensive liberal studies, history and social science, or social work major, or at least a 2.7 in an individualized major; and
- Enroll in Virginia Wesleyan's summer sessions to complete the remaining graduation requirements.

For purposes of determining two courses, the following applies: an internship is considered one course, regardless of the number of semester hours it carries; a science course together with a co-requisite lab is considered one course.

If the student receives permission to participate in the commencement, special notice will be made of the student's status as an August candidate, and the degree will be conferred in August upon successful completion of the remaining courses. Honors status will not be determined until all summer coursework is completed.

A student who has participated in the May commencement exercises as an August candidate may not participate in a later commencement. If a student has not completed all degree requirements by August 20, the degree will be conferred at the next conferral date—December, May, or August—following successful completion of all degree requirements.

Transcripts

Transcripts are provided by the Registrar's Office and are issued only upon the written request of the student. All financial obligations to the University must be met prior to the release of a transcript.

A transcript of work completed at any high school or at any college other than Virginia Wesleyan University must be obtained directly from that institution.

Major Programs

Each student is required to choose a major field of concentration from one of the University's thirty-four majors and to complete the requirements of that program. Details for majors are found in the alphabetical listing of majors and courses in the "Programs and Courses" section of this catalog (an alphabetical list is provided here).

Minors

In addition to a major program, students have the option of completing one or more minors. This choice must be approved by a full-time faculty member of the department in which the minor will be completed, who will certify that the student has completed the requirements for the minor prior to graduation. No more than 8 semester hours taken to fulfill requirements for a student’s major (or majors) may also be used to fulfill requirements for a minor. A course used to fulfill requirements for a minor may be used to fulfill a General Studies requirement. Students with Advanced Placement credit should consult the specific department to determine whether those semester hours can be included as part of the minor. Application for Minor forms are due in the Registrar’s Office by March 1 for May or August graduation and by October 1 for December graduation.

The requirements for a minor shall consist of a minimum of 20 semester hours and a maximum of 28 semester hours (traditionally graded). Twelve hours must be at the 200 level or above, and at least 8 of those hours must be at the 300 level or above. A minimum of 12 hours must be taken in residence at VWU. A 2.0 GPA (C) average is required for all courses taken in the minor field. Students may not complete a minor in the same area(s) as their major(s). The requirements for each minor are listed in the appropriate section of this catalog that deals with that discipline.

In summary, below are the course and credit requirements for minor:

- A minimum of five courses (20 hours)
- A maximum of seven courses (28 hours)
- Two courses may overlap with other major(s) or minor(s).
- Three courses at the 200 level or above, at least two of which are at the 300 level or above.

Academic Regulations and Information

Classification of Students:

Academic classification of students is determined by semester hours earned toward a degree:

Semester Hours Earned	Class
0-23	Freshman
24-53	Sophomore
54-84 and Declaration of Major filed	Junior
85+	Senior

Other Academic Policies

Registration

By the beginning of each semester, students are required to formally register for classes. Currently enrolled students should register during advance registration for maximum opportunities to obtain a satisfactory class schedule. Late registration extends through the first five days of the fall or spring semester. Students should refer to the Registrar’s home page for registration information and for details concerning course offerings, procedures, and requirements.

Course Loads

A full-time student is one who carries at least 12 semester hours per semester. A student who carries fewer than 12 semester hours is classified as a part-time student. The following restrictions are placed on the maximum course load a student may carry in a given semester; exceptions to these policies may be made only with the written endorsement of the student’s faculty advisor and the approval of the Provost:

- Freshmen and first-semester transfer students are counseled by their advisors according to their past record as to whether they should limit their registration to three or four courses during their first semester at Virginia Wesleyan.

- The maximum academic credit load for a student on academic probation is 16 semester hours.
- Any student with a cumulative grade point average of less than 2.0 is limited to 16 semester hours.
- Any student with a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or above is limited to 18 semester hours.
- All semester hours of “Incomplete” from the previous term (counting summer and Winter Session as a term) are considered part of the student’s academic load.

Adding and Dropping Courses

Students may add or drop a course, or change a section of a course through WebAdvisor or by completing a Course Selection form at the Registrar’s Office. Students wishing to add a course after the first week of classes must have the approval of the professor and the Provost. The added course will increase the total hours in a student’s course load even though the student may have dropped another course (see “Withdrawal from Course”).

Dropping a course after the first week of classes does not reduce the total number of semester hours charged for the semester. Drops after the first week of classes and prior to the automatic “WF” period (see Academic Calendar) result in a grade of W. From the beginning of the automatic “WF” period until the last day of classes for the semester, a drop will result in an automatic WF or WU. Exceptions to this policy may be made for students who withdraw from the University for reasons of documented illness.

Students cannot evade the imposition of a course grade of F as the result of an Honor Code violation by withdrawing from the course.

Auditing Courses

Students may audit a course by choosing this option at the time of registration and with the written permission of the instructor, the student’s advisor, and the Provost. The fee for auditing courses is the same as for other courses.

Informal arrangements for auditing are sometimes possible with the permission of the faculty member, but in such instances, the course does not appear as part of the student’s permanent record.

Class Attendance Policy

The University expects students to attend all class meetings of courses in which they are enrolled. Each professor sets an attendance policy and includes it in the course syllabus. Professors best understand the responsibilities of individual students in their courses; thus they have sole authority over course attendance policies as they evaluate all excuses for absence and decide whether to permit students to make up work missed. Professors may request written confirmation of illness from the Health Services director or from a physician. They may request written confirmation of other significant reasons for absence from Vice President for Student Affairs.

Academic Alert System

The University has established the Academic Alert System to identify students experiencing academic difficulty and to provide appropriate counseling, tutorial, and advising services to enable such students to succeed in their coursework. The purpose of the system is to help every student achieve success, and the reporting and record keeping are strictly non-punitive.

When a student fails to attend class, struggles to complete assignments, performs poorly on examinations or papers, or otherwise encounters problems in coping with academic life, a faculty or staff member who has direct knowledge of the student’s situation may file an online report to the University Advising Coordinator, who then links the student to appropriate campus personnel who can address the student’s needs.

The Academic Alert System notifies affected course instructors, counselors, faculty advisors, coaches, and support staff of the record of institutional intervention on a need-to-know basis. Sharing of Academic Alert information beyond those faculty and staff with a direct interest in an individual student’s case is subject to the federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).

Grading System

Virginia Wesleyan University uses a 4.0 grading system. The table below lists the letter grades that professors use, the meaning of each letter grade, and the number of quality points that each grade represents. Quality points are used to determine a student’s grade point average (GPA). The procedure for calculating a GPA is described below, under “Grade Point Averages.”

Grading System

Letter Grade	Meaning	Quality Points per Sem. Hr.	Used to Calculate GPA?
H	Exceptional quality work in an honors course	4.00	Yes
A	Excellent work	4.00	Yes
A-		3.67	Yes
B+		3.33	Yes
B	Good work, definitely above average	3.00	Yes
B-		2.67	Yes
C+		2.33	Yes
C	Average work	2.00	Yes
C-		1.67	Yes
D+		1.33	Yes
D	Below average work	1.00	Yes
D-	Work meets minimum requirements for credit	0.67	Yes
F	Failure	0.00	Yes
WF	Withdrew while failing	0.00	Yes
W	Withdrew	0.00	No
S	Satisfactory work in pass/fail course	0.00	No
U	Unsatisfactory work in pass/fail course	0.00	No
WU	Withdrew with unsatisfactory work in pass/fail course	0.00	No
Z	Satisfactory work in audited course	0.00	No
UZ	Unsatisfactory work in audited course	0.00	No
I	Work that the instructor considers justifiably incomplete (See "Incomplete" in this section).	0.00	No

Pass/Fail Grades

Some courses are offered only on a pass/fail basis and are so noted in the class schedule for a given semester. Students also have the option in a given semester of electing to take one traditionally graded course on a pass/fail basis, provided that the course is not needed to fulfill general college requirements, or any part of the student's major or minor program, or a repeat of a course originally taken as a traditionally graded course. Also, the course may not be used to fulfill the requirements for graduation with honors. To place a course on pass/fail, a student must obtain the advisor's signature on a Pass/Fail form and return the form to the Registrar's Office before the end of the third week of the fall or spring semester or before the end of the first week of a summer session.

The following limitations apply: In any given semester, students may not enroll for more than one-third of their academic load in pass/fail courses except on the written recommendation of their advisor and the approval of the Provost. No more than one-third of a student's total hours offered for graduation may consist of courses graded on a pass/fail basis.

Pass/fail grading may not be chosen for any honors seminar or for any course challenged for the H grade.

Incomplete

An Incomplete is given at the discretion of the professor when circumstances beyond the control of the student prevent the completion of course requirements.

Incomplete work must be made up during the ensuing term, with summer counting as a term, so that a letter grade can be turned in to the Registrar no later than the last day of classes. Otherwise, a grade of Incomplete is recorded as a grade of F. Any exception to this policy requires the approval of the Provost prior to the stated deadline.

Grade Changes

A request for a grade change must be submitted by the faculty member to the Provost for approval. Any change of grade from a reassessment must be made within 12 months of the issuance of a grade.

Course Grade Appeal Process

A student who believes that he or she has received an unjust course grade may appeal the grade. The burden of proof of injustice rests with the student. A student pursuing an appeal must follow these steps:

- First, the student must review the course syllabus for the grading policy and calculate a legitimate grade, based on all tests, papers, and other work graded by the faculty member during the semester.
- If the student still believes the grade is in error, then no later than the end of the second week of the subsequent semester, summer not counting as a semester, the student must confer directly with the faculty member who assigned the grade, bringing to the meeting all graded work that was required for the course.
- If after this meeting the student is still not satisfied with the faculty member's decision, then no later than the end of the fifth week of the same semester, the student must prepare and send to the Provost a written appeal with all supporting evidence. At the same time, the student must send copies of all materials to the faculty member. After consultation with both the student and the faculty member, the Provost, if she or he believes the case so warrants, calls together the members of the department in which the course was taken. This process is intended to ensure fairness and to ensure that all supporting materials are seen by neutral parties. After this consultation with the Provost and the other members of the department, the faculty member makes the final determination.

Repeating a Course

Students will ordinarily be permitted only once to repeat a course for which they have been charged quality points, and then only if the original grade was below a C (2.0). However, students with a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or above may take for a third time a course not previously passed if they obtain the written recommendation of their advisor and the approval of the Provost, who will consult with any professor who has previously taught the course, or with the coordinator of the department in which the course was taught. When a student repeats a course, all previous grades for that course remain on the transcript, but only the most recent grade is used in computing the grade point average.

Grade Point Averages

A student's major and cumulative grade point averages are computed on work taken at Virginia Wesleyan, exclusive of pass/fail courses. Coursework taken on a cross-registration basis is also included in the Virginia Wesleyan grade point average, again exclusive of pass/fail courses.

A student's grade point average is calculated by dividing the total number of quality points earned at Virginia Wesleyan by the total number of semester hours attempted at Virginia Wesleyan, including failures and withdrawal failures. Courses in which the mark was WP or W and courses taken on a pass/fail basis, are not included when computing the grade point average. In the case of repeated courses, only the semester hours and the grade points from the most recent attempt are used in the computation. (WP grade no longer used effective Fall 2013).

The following examples demonstrate the procedure for computing a grade point average:

1. A student who completes 16 semester hours with 12 semester hours of C and 4 semester hours of S has earned 24 quality points for the C's and no quality points for the S. To find the student's average, divide 24 quality points earned by the 12 semester hours of traditionally graded work attempted to find the grade point average of 2.0.
2. A student who completes 16 semester hours with 4 semester hours of B, 4 of C+, 4 of C-, 4 of D, and 4 of F has earned 12 quality points for the B, 9.32 for the C+, 6.68 for the C-, 4 for the D, and 0 for the F, for a total of 32 quality points. Divide the 32 quality points by the 16 semester hours to find the grade point average of 2.00.

A semester's grade point average is computed under these rules by considering only courses undertaken in a given semester. The cumulative grade point average of all work taken at Virginia Wesleyan is simply computed by considering all traditionally graded courses undertaken. A cumulative grade point average cannot be computed by averaging semester grade point averages.

Final Examinations

Final examinations are given in most courses during the final examination period at the end of each term. Any student who has three examinations scheduled for three successive exam periods should discuss a possible schedule adjustment with the faculty members involved.

Midterm and Final Grade Reports

The University provides mid-semester progress reports for students. Freshmen should have grade estimates and/or comments in all courses. Upper class students should have, at the very least, a mid-term progress report if there is a course deficiency (C- or below). These reports may be viewed on WebAdvisor beginning in the eighth week of each semester. Students with grades in need of improvement should consult their professors and advisors for suggestions. Final grades may be viewed and/or printed directly from WebAdvisor.

President's List

Students who achieve a grade point average of 4.0 during a given semester are named to the President's List for that semester. To qualify for this honor, students must have full time status, have taken at least 9 semester hours of traditionally graded courses, and have no grades of Incomplete for the semester.

Dean's List

Students who achieve a grade point average of 3.50 to 3.99 during a given semester are named to the Dean's List for that semester. Students with an average of 3.25-3.49 are named to the Honorable Mention List. To qualify for these honors, students must have full-time status, have taken at least 9 semester hours of traditionally graded courses, and have no grades of F or Incomplete for the semester.

Course Limitations

Students may have more than one major listed on their transcripts, but may present no more than 64 semester hours in any one discipline in fulfillment of graduation requirements. A student who wishes to take more than 64 semester hours in one discipline must take additional hours beyond the 128 semester hours required for graduation.

Graduating with Honors

To be considered for any category of graduation with Latin honors, students must fulfill all institutional and degree requirements described in the catalog under which they are to graduate or as subsequently amended in accordance with institutional policies. Students guilty of violating academic honesty policies, such as through cheating or plagiarism, are not eligible for Latin honors. Eligible students must also satisfy the following more specific criteria:

Each of the following requirements must be satisfied to graduate with Latin honors:
Semester hours completed VWU (minimum)	60
Minimum cumulative GPA	3.50
cum laude	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Cumulative GPA of at least 3.50
magna cum laude	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Cumulative GPA of at least 3.70
summa cum laude	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Cumulative GPA of at least 3.90 Four semester hours of independent research at the 400 level, completed with distinction as certified by the supervising independent research committee.* Faculty vote

* The independent research requirement can be completed through an independent study or through an existing capstone or other 400-level course designed to support independent research. If undertaken through an existing course, the student must still meet the special requirements pertaining to independent research, as described in the catalog with the exception that research projects undertaken for an established course do not require school approval.

Courses such as BIO 489, CHEM 489, CLAS 450, CJ 480, CS 489, EES 489, ENG 489, HIST 426, 460, INST 482, MATH 489, MUS 480, PSY 480, SOC 480, and certain others may be used to satisfy the independent research requirement.

Honors status of August candidates for graduation is determined after all summer coursework is completed.

Name Changes

Accuracy in record keeping is of the utmost importance in the Registrar’s Office as the staff strives to protect the privacy of students’ academic records. Students with name changes should notify the office at once by bringing an original birth certificate, marriage certificate, or court order. Name changes affect only the last name; whereas the first and middle names given at birth remain the same, except in cases of a court-ordered change.

Non-Resident Credit

While a student is enrolled at Virginia Wesleyan, no credit is awarded for courses taken at another college unless the student obtains permission from the Registrar’s Office prior to registering for such courses.

Cross-Registration

Virginia Wesleyan’s membership in the Virginia Tidewater Consortium provides students with opportunities for enriching their educational programs through a process of cross-registration at other institutions of higher education located in Hampton Roads. Subject to available space at another school, Virginia Wesleyan students may cross-register at other member institutions for a course that is not currently available. Students requesting to cross-register for a course at another school must have the written approval of their advisor and the Registrar and be in good academic standing (2.00 GPA). Grades earned through cross-registration become part of the student’s grade point average. Complete information covering the conditions of cross-registration is available in the Registrar’s Office.

Transient Registration

Virginia Wesleyan students may take courses at other institutions of higher education and transfer the credit in. To do so, they must be in good academic standing, complete an application, and receive the written approval of their advisor and the Registrar prior to registering for any courses at other institutions. Approved credit is accepted for transfer only when the student has earned a grade of C (2.0) or above. Transfer credit does not affect the student’s grade point average at Virginia Wesleyan. Complete information covering the conditions of transient registration is available in the Registrar’s Office.

VFIC Language Exchange

In 2014, the Virginia Foundation for Independent Colleges (VFIC) launched a pilot Language Exchange. The program makes it possible for a select number of VWU students to take courses in foreign languages offered at other VFIC institutions – but not offered at VWU --via teleconferencing. The pilot program has been extended for the 2017-18 academic year. Virginia Wesleyan students cannot currently fulfill the VWU language proficiency requirement with courses taken through the Language Exchange. Students seeking to take courses through the Language Exchange should already have satisfied the VWU language proficiency requirement. VWU students enroll in Language Exchange courses via transient registration. As stated above, students seeking to enroll in courses via transient registration must be in good academic standing, complete an application, and receive the written approval of their advisor. Courses offered to Virginia Wesleyan students through the Exchange are listed on the VFIC Language Exchange website.

Catalog of Entry

Students who have left the University for a time, have not earned additional credit, and have been readmitted to Virginia Wesleyan may choose to satisfy either the requirements listed in the catalog that was current at the time they first enrolled in the University or the requirements that are in effect at the time of their application for graduation. Students who have left the University and earned additional credit prior to readmission to Virginia Wesleyan must satisfy the requirements listed in the catalog at the time of their application for graduation.

Withdrawal and Readmission to the University

A student who wishes voluntarily to withdraw from the University during a given term is not considered officially withdrawn until he or she notifies the Registrar in writing of this intention and completes an official withdrawal form. Assigned grades of W or WF are determined by the date of withdrawal and the discretion of the professor. Any course registrations for the semester following the withdrawal are deleted. If a student fails to register for two consecutive major semesters by the last date for late registration, he or she is assumed to have withdrawn from the University.

A student who needs to withdraw for medical reasons during a given semester will be required to provide medical documentation and a letter which addresses the following: the specific nature of the illness, the approximate date of the onset of the illness, the date at which the doctor first diagnosed the illness, and how the illness and treatment precluded one's ability to engage in studies.

A student who withdraws and desires to return to the University must reapply to the Office of Enrollment Services for consideration by the Committee on Academic Standing.

A student who has been academically dismissed may apply for readmission once, and only after meeting the criteria as outlined in the Selective Retention Policy.

Effective Fall 2013, any student readmitted to the University will be required to complete 128 semester hours for graduation, with their last 32 hours and at least 16 semester hours in their major area in residence at Virginia Wesleyan.

Academic Standing

Selective Retention Policy

Except under extraordinary circumstances as determined by the Committee on Academic Standing, the following policy governs the academic status of students with regard to academic probation, suspension and dismissal.

Because a 2.0 cumulative grade point average (GPA) is necessary for graduation, a GPA of 2.0 (C) is required for good academic standing. A GPA below 2.0, whether or not a student is placed on probation, is a warning that one's academic performance falls below acceptable standards.

When a student's GPA falls below 2.0, the student's academic status will vary according to the number of semesters of coursework taken. "Probation" is a severe warning that failure to raise the cumulative GPA to a 2.0 in the next semester after probation may result in suspension or dismissal. Probationary status always requires students to schedule special conferences with their advisor, with an academic counselor, and, in some cases, with the Provost. "Suspension" occurs when the Committee on Academic Standing determines that a student's academic performance merits separation from the institution for two semesters (with the summer counting as one semester). In rare cases of academic non-performance, the Committee may "dismiss" a student for a period of five years.

A freshman who does not achieve at least a 1.6 after undertaking the equivalent of one semester of full-time academic work is automatically placed on academic probation. A first-term freshman who does not achieve at least a 1.4 is eligible for suspension or dismissal, but may at the discretion of the Committee on Academic Standing, be placed on probation. Any student whose cumulative average is below 1.8 after undertaking the equivalent of two semesters of full-time academic work is automatically placed on probation. Students with two semesters of work and an average below 1.6 are eligible for suspension or dismissal, but may, at the discretion of the Committee on Academic Standing, be placed on probation.

Students with a cumulative average below 2.0 after three semesters are automatically placed on probation; those with an average below 1.8 are eligible for suspension or dismissal, but may, at the discretion of the Committee on Academic Standing, be placed on probation.

All students must have at least a 2.0 cumulative average after undertaking the equivalent of four semesters of full-time academic work. Those who do not achieve this standard are eligible for suspension or dismissal, but may, at the discretion of the Committee on Academic Standing, be placed on probation.

Any student who fails more than half of the semester hours in his or her academic load in any semester after completion of one or more semesters is subject to suspension for two terms or dismissal.

As a general rule, a suspended student may not receive transfer credit for any course work taken at another institution during the two terms immediately following the suspension. With the prior approval of the Provost, a suspended student may take one or more courses at another institution for transfer credit at Virginia Wesleyan; a student granted approval must submit an official transcript of all such course work at the other institution as one condition of readmission to the University.

After being out of University for two terms, summer counting as a term, a suspended student may apply to the Committee on Academic Standing, through the Office of Enrollment Services, for readmission. If the student is readmitted, the conditions are established by the Committee on Academic Standing at the time of readmission and communicated to the student in writing by the Office of Enrollment Services. Once suspended, students who do not meet the conditions of their final probation will be dismissed from the University.

Students who have been dismissed by the Committee on Academic Standing for five years or more may apply for readmission. Conditions for readmission include submitting a statement, along with relevant supporting documentation, of academic and/or work-related accomplishments since last being enrolled at the University. The material is intended to offer evidence that the student has grown in maturity, ability to handle responsibility, and commitment to achievement such that he or she should be able to experience academic success if permitted to begin their studies again at Virginia Wesleyan. If readmitted, the student is given the option of Academic Clemency.

Under the University’s selective retention policy, “the equivalent of one semester of full-time academic work” is defined as a minimum of 12 semester hours; two semesters, 24 semester hours; three semesters, 36 semester hours; four semesters, 48 semester hours.

The maximum course load for a student on academic probation is 16 semester hours. Any student with a cumulative grade point average of less than 2.0 is also limited to 16 semester hours. The limit can be exceeded only with the written endorsement of the student’s faculty advisor and the approval of the Provost.

Each student is responsible for being aware of his or her own academic standing relative to the University policy and is entitled to appeal the decision of the Academic Standing Committee. Letters of appeal should be directed to the committee chairperson located in the Registrar’s Office.

Probation and Suspension Thresholds for Full-Time Students

Number of semesters	Automatic Probation	Eligible for suspension or dismissal
After one semester	Below 1.6	Below 1.4
After two semesters	Below 1.8	Below 1.6
After three semesters	Below 2.0	Below 1.8
After four semesters	See Note*	Below 2.0
Special case, applicable to any semester		Failure of half or more of semester hours after completion of one or more semesters

After four semesters, students with a GPA below 2.0 can be placed on probation by the Committee on Academic Standing, or suspended or dismissed by the Committee.*

Selective Retention Policy for Part-Time Students

The general standards applicable to full-time students cover part-time students in both the day and EWP programs. For part-time students, however, the thresholds for probation and suspension are set out in terms of credit hours rather than semesters, according to the following table.

Probation and Suspension Thresholds for Part-Time Students

Number of semesters	Automatic Probation	Eligible for suspension or dismissal
After 8 credit hours	Below 1.6	Below 1.4
After 16 credit hours	Below 1.8	Below 1.6
After 24 credit hours	Below 2.0	Below 1.8
After 32 credit hours	See Note*	Below 2.0
Special case, applicable to any semester		Failure of half or more of semester hours after completion of one or more semesters

After 64 credit hours, students with a GPA below 2.0 can be placed on probation by The Committee on Academic Standing, or suspended or dismissed by the Committee.*

Academic Clemency

Virginia Wesleyan University recognizes that some students may, for a variety of reasons, develop academic records that do not reflect their true abilities. Students who leave the University with poor records may wish to request academic clemency upon their return. To encourage students to try again after an unsuccessful experience, the University is prepared to extend academic clemency based on the following policies:

- A student who returns to the University after an absence of at least ten consecutive fall and spring semesters may submit a request to the Provost for academic clemency.
- A student must request academic clemency at the time of first readmission following his or her return to the University. If clemency is granted, previous coursework with a grade below 2.0 (C) is not used to satisfy any graduation requirement, nor is it calculated in the cumulative GPA or hours earned.
- Academic clemency is granted only once, and once granted may not be rescinded. It is available only to degree-seeking students and applies only to previous coursework with grades below 2.0 (C). Students must identify the semester(s) for which clemency will be applied.

- Students readmitted under this provision must satisfy the requirements listed in the catalog that is current at the time of readmission.
- All coursework and forgiven grades remain on the academic transcript, but a statement of academic clemency is entered after each semester for which grades are forgiven.
- A student who has been granted academic clemency is not precluded from graduating with honors.

Student Rights and Responsibilities: Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA)

All educational records of students enrolled at the University are maintained in accordance with the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 as Amended. The Act was designed to protect the privacy of educational records, to establish the right of students to inspect and review their educational records, and to provide guidelines for the correction of inaccurate or misleading data through informal and formal hearings.

Student consent is required for the release of records covered by the Act to outside parties (i.e., prospective employers), except for those agencies entitled to access under the provisions of the Act (i.e., college personnel with a legitimate educational interest, federal education and auditing officials, federal and state law enforcement and judicial officials, and requests related to the application for or receipt of financial assistance).

Any other access must have written authorization from the student, with the exception of certain “directory information,” which includes the name, address, and telephone number of the student, e-mail address, major field of study, dates of attendance, degrees, awards and honors received (including dates), photographic view or electronic images, and the most recent previous educational agency or institution attended.

Evening and Weekend Program

Virginia Wesleyan University is committed to encouraging learning as a lifelong process. The Evening and Weekend Program (EWP) offers evening and weekend, and online courses to help meet the educational needs of adults age 23 or older whose work, family, and community commitments require scheduling courses outside of daytime hours. EWP courses take into consideration the special needs of adult learners while maintaining the academic quality found in all Virginia Wesleyan programs. Courses are offered for those who plan to complete a degree, as well as for those who wish to take individual courses for personal enrichment or career advancement.

Evening and Weekend students may pursue their studies either full-time (at least 12 semester hours per semester) or part-time (fewer than 12 semester hours) and either as classified students (i.e., pursuing a degree or other designated program) or unclassified students (taking individual courses for credit, but not towards a degree or designated program).

Admission

To start the application process, applicants must be at least 23 years of age and have graduated from high school with a 2.0 GPA, or have a high school equivalency certification. Transfer students must have at least a cumulative 2.0 GPA in previous college work and be in good financial standing with previous academic institutions.

To assist prospective students in structuring their program at Virginia Wesleyan, enrollment counselors in the Office of Enrollment Services will provide unofficial transcript evaluations when meeting one-on-one with prospective students. Official transcript evaluations will be provided by the Registrar’s Office once official transcripts have been received from all colleges and universities previously attended and individuals have been admitted to the University.

Enrollment Status

Changes in a student’s circumstances or goals may necessitate a change in enrollment status. A student who initially enrolls in the Evening and Weekend Program, may find work or life changes necessitate a change in enrollment status to the day program. Alternately, day students, age 23 or older, may find it necessary to change enrollment status to the Evening and Weekend Program. The University does not permit repeated switching between the two programs. However, a process exists to accommodate such change when circumstances warrant. Students interested in an enrollment status change should contact the Coordinator for the Evening and Weekend Program for information. Approval for an enrollment status change must be granted by the Vice President for Enrollment (forms available in the Office of Enrollment Services and Office of Support Services for the Evening and Weekend Program). Students who are interested in enrollment status change are bound by the foreign language requirement of the initial program of enrollment. The only exception to this policy is in the case of a student who has been out of the University for three full semesters (defined as fall and spring semesters only) or more. (In such cases of readmission, the student will follow the foreign language requirement of the readmission program [Day or Evening and Weekend]).

Tuition, Fees, and Financial Aid

Because traditional financial assistance is limited, Virginia Wesleyan has developed a unique Adult Incentive Grant through which the Evening and Weekend tuition rate is substantially reduced from the day program rate. The tuition rate for the EWP is $399 per credit hour. Please refer to the Office of Finance and Administration Policies in the catalog for further information on tuition, financial aid and related policies relevant to the Evening and Weekend program.

Basic financial aid information is available in the Financial Aid Office. The amount of traditional financial aid available to part-time students is limited. To qualify, students must demonstrate financial need and carry at least 6 semester hours per semester.

Another form of financial assistance is the Employer Tuition Deferral (ETD) program, which enables qualifying participants to defer their payment of tuition until their employer reimburses them at the end of the semester.

Military tuition assistance and veterans' benefits may be applied toward tuition for Evening and Weekend courses. A fixed Active Duty Military Rate provides for tuition compensation for those students who have not yet retired from military service.

The Evening and Weekend Corporate Rate Program offers a 10% reduction in tuition costs for employees of corporations and organizations that partner with the Evening and Weekend Program.

Public school teachers and teachers with a provisional license can take required VDOE recertification/certification coursework through the Evening and Weekend "Take Five" Program for a 50% reduction in the current Evening and Weekend tuition rate.

Finally, a limited number of scholarships are awarded annually to selected Evening and Weekend students, based on financial need and academic achievement. Details about these various forms of financial assistance and financial aid eligibility are available in Virginia Wesleyan's Financial Aid Office.

Major Programs

Several majors are available through the Evening and Weekend Program. For detailed information on each of these programs, see listings in the "Major Programs" and "Programs and Courses" sections of this catalog.

- Business
- Comprehensive Liberal Studies
- Criminal Justice
- History and Social Science
- Individualized Studies
- Social Science Major (with a concentration in Business, Criminal Justice, History, Political Science, Psychology, or Sociology)

Provisional and Recertification Programs

The provisional licensure program is designed for students who have been granted a provisional license by the VDOE and are taking classes to fulfill those requirements. Students will be required to provide a copy of the VDOE provisional letter and license.

The recertification program is intended for teachers licensed in the state of Virginia who are looking to accrue recertification points. Students will be required to provide a copy of their teaching license.

General Information

Degree Requirements

Requirements for completing a degree in the Evening and Weekend program are the same as those for day students, with the exception of the foreign language requirement. Regardless of how many semester hours they transfer in, EWP students can fulfill this requirement by:

1. Completing one language in high school through the second level with a final grade of C or higher;
2. Completing language studies through SPAN 105 or its equivalent; or
3. Completing a course offered by the Foreign Languages and Literatures department emphasizing linguistics and cultural understanding.

Audit

Adults from the local community may audit Evening and Weekend courses without record for a fee of $50 per semester hour. Certain courses may be audited only on a space-available basis. Audit registrations may not be changed to credit status at a later date. Students who audit with record are required to pay the current Evening and Weekend tuition rate and are graded on a satisfactory/unsatisfactory basis. Senior citizens age 62 or over may audit Virginia Wesleyan courses on a space-available basis for $50 per course.

Advising

Once enrolled, Evening and Weekend students receive academic advising by Virginia Wesleyan faculty. Counselors in the Office of Enrollment Services offer pre-enrollment advising for students currently attending another school who will eventually attend the Evening and Weekend Program to complete their degree.

Class Schedules

The Evening and Weekend class schedule accommodates the traditional work day, with classes that meet in the evening or on alternate weekends and some that incorporate hybrid and online classes. The program is flexible to accommodate busy schedules. The typical part-time student takes one or two courses each semester, but students may work towards a degree as slowly or as rapidly as they wish. Part-time students are especially encouraged to enroll in the summer sessions.

Additional Sources of Credit

College Level Examination Program (CLEP)

Virginia Wesleyan participates in the College Level Examination Program, a national program of credit-by-examination that offers a student the opportunity to obtain recognition for college-level achievement. Any currently enrolled student may earn college credit through CLEP in the subject areas as well as in five general areas (English composition, mathematics, natural sciences, humanities, and social science/history). CLEP credit must be earned prior to a student's last 32 semester hours at Virginia Wesleyan. A student may receive a maximum of 32 semester hours for CLEP (or a combination of CLEP/DANTES) credit. Currently enrolled students must obtain the Registrar's approval by applying through WebAdvisor before scheduling a testing session.

Military Credit

Virginia Wesleyan follows the guidelines set forth by the American Council on Education (ACE) when granting credit for educational experiences in the armed services. Veterans should submit an appropriate transcript (Joint Services, etc.). Credit awarded must be equivalent to courses offered at Virginia Wesleyan or logical extensions thereof and are subject to review by faculty in the academic field. A student may receive a maximum of 32 semester hours for military credit.

Professional Certifications

Virginia Wesleyan follows the guidelines set forth by the American Council on Education (ACE) when granting credit for professional certifications. In some cases, professional training and/or certification may earn American Council of Education (ACE) credits. Official paperwork should be submitted by the student to the Registrar's Office for evaluation. A student may receive a maximum of 32 semester hours for professional certifications using ACE credits, including any certifications for military training.

Programs and Courses

SPECIAL DESIGNATIONS

University courses are numbered at the 100, 200, 300, and 400 levels. Traditionally, these levels correspond roughly to the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior sequence of class standings. As a rule, courses numbered at 100 and 200 levels are introductory and have a broad educational utility. Courses numbered at the 300 and 400 levels generally build on previous introductory offerings and have a more specific educational utility.

100	freshman level
200	sophomore level
300	junior level
400	senior level

Courses which count toward a given General Studies requirement can be easily identified by a capital letter following the course title.

- A — Aesthetic Understanding
- H — Historical Perspective
- I — Senior Integrative Experience
- L — Laboratory Course
- Q — Quantitative Perspective
- S — Institutional and Cultural Systems
- T — Literary Textual Analysis
- V — Ethical Values and Faith Perspectives
- W — Writing Course

COURSE OFFERINGS

While the courses listed in the following pages are generally offered in the scheduling patterns indicated, factors such as staffing or demand result in some courses being offered at irregular intervals.

ACADEMIC SKILLS DEVELOPMENT

Virginia Wesleyan offers students many opportunities to strengthen their academic skills. Academic departments and individual professors often assist students needing help with specific courses. Tutoring and other academic support services are also available through the Learning Center where experienced, qualified students may serve as peer tutors for academic credit.

ACADEMIC SKILLS DEVELOPMENT COURSES (ASD)

301 Tutoring (I)

Upperclassmen with grades no lower than B in certain courses may participate in tutoring for credit.

To earn one semester hour, students fulfill a 30-hour tutoring contract. Tutoring sessions are supervised by the Director of Tutoring and approved by the instructor of the course tutored. Offered based on need for tutors.

AMERICAN STUDIES

DR. DANIEL S. MARGOLIES, Program Chair

The American Studies major invites students to explore the rich history and culture of the United States and the concept of “America” for diverse communities within and outside of the United States. This interdisciplinary major prepares students for careers in law, social service, teaching, journalism, business, library science, and the making of public policy, as well as for graduate and professional degrees. The flexible academic program allows students to design an individualized course of study drawing on a wide variety of disciplines, including history, political science, criminal justice, and government; art, film, theatre, journalism, and literature; education, economics, sociology, religious studies, and others. Virginia Wesleyan is located near many of the important places where history was made and continues to be made: Jamestown, Williamsburg, Washington, D.C., and the homes of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, and Robert E. Lee. Thus the program offers students an exciting educational experience both in and out of the classroom.

ART

Ms. SHARON SWIFT, Department Chair
 Mr. PHILIP GUILFOYLE
 Dr. JOYCE HOWELL
 Mr. JOHN RUDEL

The Art Department offers courses in studio art and art history, balancing art production with an awareness of related cultural values. The art major consists of core courses in studio art and art history, upper-level electives in a choice of media, and a capstone course that involves creating a body of work and exhibiting it. Class work is supported by ongoing art exhibitions in two campus gallery spaces and by field trips to local and regional museums and galleries, further enriching the curriculum. Art majors may also earn certification for teaching by supplementing the major with specific education courses and in-service teaching. Minors are offered in both studio art and art history. Students should select courses for the minor according to their interests or to strengthen skills needed for art-related careers in communications, design, business, recreation, therapy, arts management, and other creative fields.

*Students majoring in studio art and wishing also to complete a minor in art history must fulfill all upper-level course requirements for the major with studio (ART) courses only. Art history (ARTH) courses that fulfill the requirements for the art history minor may not also be used to fulfill the upper-level requirements for the studio art major.

ART COURSES (ART)105 Introduction to Studio Art (4) A

Introduces basic studio materials and techniques for making art in a variety of media that may include painting, drawing, ceramics, sculpture, printmaking, crafts, fibers, and/or electronic technology. Includes lectures, demonstrations, studio participation, museum or artist studio visits, and related historical information. Lab fee. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

204 Digital Art I (4) A

205 Drawing I (4) A

Acquaints students with the basic concept of drawing with various media, including pencil, charcoal, chalk, and pen and ink. Experiences in skill-building exercises are emphasized, as well as their practical application. Offered each semester.

206 Painting I (4) A

An examination of basic painting techniques. Students study and experiment with a variety of painting media, including watercolor, acrylics, and oil types on various working-surface materials. Students use these experiences to create their own pictorial interpretations. Studio course. Offered each semester.

207 Representations of Space (4) A

Uses studio exercises and group critiques of class projects to explore visual perception and two-dimensional representation of the world. Students explore traditional drawing techniques and photographic imagery to develop a repertoire of intellectual, visual, and graphic techniques. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

208 Photography I (4) A

Explores photography as an art form. Topics include the control of digital camera functions, composition, artistic techniques, and laws impacting the use of photos. Students must supply a digital camera and are responsible for the commercial development of all prints. Offered each semester.

209 Sculpture I (4) A

Explores the possibilities of sculptural form and three-dimensional problem solving through materials such as cardboard, paper, clay, plaster, wood, wax, etc. Emphasis is placed on understanding three-dimensional concepts of relief and sculpture-in-the-round through carving, modeling, and constructing. Lab fee. Offered intermittently.

213 Ceramics I (4) A

Provides an introduction to ceramic art production, balanced with ceramic art history, criticism, and aesthetics. Includes techniques for hand-building and throwing on the potter's wheel, clay and glaze preparation, glazing, and kiln firing. Provides students of all skill levels with a solid foundation in ceramics. Lab fee. Offered each semester.

220 Introduction to Glass (4) A

An introduction to making art with glass taught through a series of hands-on projects. In addition, the Chrysler Museum's extensive contemporary and historical glass collection and interaction with visiting and resident glass artists are utilized. Offered each spring.

303 Graphic Design (4)

Introduction to the tools, methods, principles and practice of graphic design. Covers visual communication, the use of type, the importance of visual research, communicating with vendors, clients and audiences, and the efficient use of graphics software. Students create an entry-level, interview-quality portfolio. Prerequisite: ART 204 or consent. Lab fee. Offered each semester.

304 Digital Art II (4)

Explores digital tools for personal expression and art production. Concentrates on the effective use of composition and color. Covers intermediate software features, web-based portfolios, and animation. Prerequisite: ART 204 or consent. Lab fee.

305 Drawing II (4)

An in-depth exploration of drawing techniques to include representational and expressive approaches in various media. This course builds on the tools of representational drawing from ART 205. Prerequisite: ART 205 or consent.

306 Painting II (4)

An in-depth exploration of painting focused on realism but also exploring abstraction and mixed media approaches. This course builds on concepts from ART 206. Prerequisite: ART 206 or consent.

307 Travel Photography (4) A

Travel to specific regions or foreign countries for on-location photography. Students experience local arts and cultures, and create interpretations of travel experiences. Students must supply a digital camera. Travel may be physically demanding. Prerequisite: consent. Offered in selected Winter and Summer Sessions.

308 Photography II (4)

Intermediate exploration of digital photography. Emphasizes the development of personally meaningful portfolios. Topics include digital retouch and creative Photoshop techniques. Students must supply a digital camera and are responsible for the commercial development of all prints. Prerequisite: ART 208 or consent. Offered intermittently.

309 Sculpture II (4)

A continuation of Sculpture I, with special emphasis on exploring material for sculpture as used in mobiles, constructions, installations, and environmental works. Prerequisite: ART 209 or consent. Lab fee.

313 Ceramics II (4)

A continuation of ART 213, with special emphasis on wheel techniques and thrown forms. Students experiment with clays and glazes and have the opportunity to fire their own works. Prerequisite: ART 213 or consent. Lab fee.

319 Studio Art Teaching Assistant (1)

Allows qualified students to assist art instructors in teaching their classes. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisite: consent. Offered each semester.

350 Topics in Studio Art (4) A

Focused, in-depth study of one studio art medium, including related aesthetic and historical considerations. Topics may include: mixed media, jewelry, prints, fibers, public art, raku, glass, etc. May be repeated for credit as topics change. Lab fee. Offered each semester.

404 Photo and Digital Art Lab (4)

Advanced studio art course designed for the student's continued growth and exploration of digital tools and techniques. May be repeated for additional credit. Prerequisites: ART 303, 304, 308 or consent. Offered intermittently.

406 Advanced Drawing and Painting Lab (4)

Advanced art and design course exploring two-dimensional image making in traditional and non-traditional drawing and painting media. Designed for continued growth and exploration of materials and concepts. May be repeated for additional credit. Prerequisite: ART 305, 306 or consent. Offered intermittently.

409 Sculpture and Ceramics Lab (4)

Advanced studio art course designed for the student's continued growth and exploration of three-dimensional methods and materials. May be repeated for additional credit. Prerequisites: ART 309, 313 or consent. Lab fee. Offered intermittently.

420 Advanced Topics (4)

Advanced, in-depth study of one studio art medium, developing content and technical skills in the context of aesthetic and historical considerations. Topics may include mixed media, jewelry, prints, fibers, public art, raku, glass, etc. May be repeated for credit as topics change. Prerequisite: consent. Offered intermittently.

450 Senior Art Seminar (4) I

Requires the development of a studio research project. Students create artwork for exhibition, an explanatory paper, and an oral presentation while acquiring professional skills appropriate to arts-related careers. Prerequisite: fall presentation of research topic and consent. Offered each spring.

485 Visual Art Internship (4)

Requires active involvement in an arts organization for a minimum of 130 hours, additional meetings with a faculty mentor, and submission of an electronic portfolio of materials including reflection on the internship experience. Prerequisite: junior/senior status, MUS 336, and consent. Offered each semester. Identical to ARTH 485.

ART HISTORY COURSES (ARTH)

231 Ancient and Medieval Art History (4) H

A survey of the visual arts and how they functioned in culture, from prehistoric cave paintings to the art and architecture of late Medieval Europe. The course concentrates on the Western tradition of painting, sculpture, and architecture. Offered each fall.

232 Renaissance to 20th-Century Art (4) H

A survey of the visual arts and their relationship to social, cultural, and political history from the Renaissance to the Modern era. Concentrates on the European tradition of painting, sculpture, and architecture, especially the changing social role of artists and the development of modern definitions of "fine art." This course is a chronological continuation of ARTH 231, but the latter is not a prerequisite. Offered each spring.

333 Art of Africa, Asia, and the Americas (4) W

Surveys the long-lived art traditions of diverse global cultures, including Africa, India, China, Japan, the Pacific, and Pre-Columbian and Native America. Prerequisite: successful completion of ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher.

341 American Art (4) H

A history of the visual arts in America from pre-colonial to modern times. Particular attention is paid to the relationship of the visual arts to social and political history, and the issue of American identity in the arts.

351 19th-Century Art History (4) H

A history of European and American art from the era of the French Revolution to the end of the 19th century. The works of major artists, such as David, Goya, Turner, Manet, Monet, Van Gogh, Munch, etc., are investigated within their historical contexts.

352 20th-Century Art History (4) W

A history of artists, works, and movements of 20th century European and American art investigated within their historical contexts. Prerequisite: successful completion of ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher.

360 Topics in Art History (4)

An in-depth study of one period of art history or some disciplinary aspect or problem. May be repeated for credit as topic varies.

485 Visual Art Internship (4)

Requires active involvement in an arts organization for a minimum of 130 hours, additional meetings with a faculty mentor, and submission of an electronic portfolio of materials including reflection on the internship experience. Prerequisite: junior/senior status, MUS 336, and consent. Offered each semester. Identical to ART 485.

BATTEN HONORS COLLEGE

DR. JOYCE EASTER, Batten Honors College Dean

The Batten Honors College at Virginia Wesleyan explores diverse disciplines from the humanities, social sciences, mathematics, and natural sciences through an interdisciplinary and thematic curriculum that educates and graduates lifelong learners interested in shaping the future and taking action to improve the world.

The Batten Honors College curriculum encourages independent thinking and self-discovery while challenging students to view the world from multiple perspectives and to integrate theory and practice. Students will gain a broader perspective and think critically about the problems we face today recognizing that solutions to contemporary issues require disciplinary expertise as well as innovation, collaboration, and an interdisciplinary framework.

Student experiences in the Honors curriculum will range from small, seminar-style courses to a faculty-led intensive, immersive global experience. The interdisciplinary seminars will include lectures and group discussions led by faculty from two or more disciplines. Students will develop analytical, leadership, collaboration, and communication skills within their learning community through the Honors courses and experiential learning opportunities that include study away, research or internship, and service projects at home or around the globe.

HONORS COURSES (HON)

110 Complex Global Challenges (4) S

An interdisciplinary course that explores scientific, ethical, economic, societal, and political aspects of contemporary issues with global environmental impact. Prerequisite: Batten Honors College. Offered each fall

200 Connections and Context (4) V

An investigation of concepts, issues, and ideas relevant to the culture and travel destination(s) that includes engagement in a service or research project that addresses the particular need(s) of that community and involves interaction with representative community members, constituencies and agencies. May be taken additional times for credit as topics change. Course fee based on destination. Prerequisite: Batten Honors College. Offered summer and winter session.

205 Topics in Leadership & Literature (4) T

This course will explore the personal lives, traits, practices and disciplines of leaders through the analysis of fiction and non-fiction with some attention given to forms of expression other than literature. Students will actively reflect on leadership with respect to their own personal aspirations and values by analyzing the visions and values of the leaders presented in the literature. Prerequisites: Batten Honors College, ENG 105 with C or better. Offered each spring.

225 Models of Decision Making (4) Q

An introduction to the use of mathematics to model real-world situations and the application of mathematical models to decision making in personal, business, and societal contexts. Models, methods, and selected case studies vary from semester to semester.

Prerequisites: Batten Honors College, Math Placement H, A, or B Offered each fall.

270 The Artist & Society (4)

An examination of selected topics and works of art to explore the arts as modes of aesthetic communication, the creative process and its ability to express, expand and influence social ideas. Students will engage in creative activity and explore the creative process in relation to the individual and society. Prerequisite: Batten Honors College. Offered each spring

480 Senior Seminar(4)

An integrative course in which students reflect upon their whole college experience; examine the nature, importance, and influence of their liberal arts education; and refine their liberal arts skills as they design, execute and present a capstone project.

Prerequisite: Batten Honors College, senior status. Offered each fall.

BIOLOGY

DR. MAYNARD H. SCHAUS, Associate Provost
 DR. PHILIP ROCK, Department Chair
 DR. SORAYA M. BARTOL
 DR. DEIRDRE GONSALVES-JACKSON
 DR. ERIC JOHNSON
 DR. VICTOR R. TOWNSEND, JR.

The Biology Department offers a diversified program that examines the life sciences by integrating multiple disciplines, including the molecular nature of cellular structure and physiology, the evolutionary mechanisms of biodiversity, and the study of plant and animal communities in relationship to the environment. The curriculum is designed to promote discovery and problem solving through scientific methodology, with most courses featuring an integrated laboratory component. In addition to mastering concepts, students learn to see the biological sciences as a process of discovery through the completion of a mandatory experiential learning opportunity such as undertaking undergraduate research, completing an internship, studying abroad in the natural sciences, or enrolling in a field course at a biological or marine field station. In addition to core biology courses, students are required to complete additional coursework in other natural sciences. Both B.A. and B.S. degrees are offered in biology. The curriculum for each degree is designed to prepare students for advanced study in the health sciences and biological research, thereby enabling motivated individuals to pursue successful careers as physicians, veterinarians, biologists, environmental researchers, policymakers, public health professionals, scientific journalists, and educators.

BIOLOGY COURSES (BIO)100 The World of Biology (4) L

An introduction to biology. Provides an overview of the study of life, including how biology affects our daily lives, including such topics as biodiversity, genetic engineering, and problems associated with the expanding human population. Designed for non-science majors. $50 lab fee. Offered each semester.

130 Principles of Biology I: Ecology and Evolution (4)

An introduction to the biological sciences. Topics include ecology, Darwinian evolution, population genetics, speciation, the origin of life, animal form and function, animal behavior, and biological conservation. Designed for students intending to pursue a major in biology, EES or ENV5. Offered each fall.

132 Principles of Biology II: Cell Biology and Genetics (4) L

Completes the introduction to the biological sciences for biology and EES majors. Lecture topics include biochemistry, cell structure and processes, cell respiration, fermentation, photosynthesis, cell division, Mendelian genetics, gene expression, cancer biology, and animal physiology. $50 lab fee. Offered each spring.

150 Introduction to Marine Biology (4) L

An introduction to the organisms and communities of marine and estuarine areas. Students examine the basic physical and ecological processes that are pertinent to marine habitats and the diversity of marine organisms and ecosystems. Includes field and laboratory identification of local organisms and investigations of local field habitats. Designed for non-science majors. $50 lab fee. Offered each fall.

200 Principles of Biology III: The Diversity of Life (4) L

Completes the introduction to the life sciences for Biology majors with a survey of all major lineages of organisms on the planet, including bacteria and archaea, fungi, plants, protists, and animals. $50 lab fee. Prerequisite: BIO 130 or BIO 132 and sophomore status or higher. Offered each fall.

221 Human Anatomy and Physiology I (4) L

An integrated lecture/laboratory experience that examines the anatomy and physiology of humans. Includes a survey of the nervous, muscular, skeletal, integumentary, and respiratory systems. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. $50 lab fee. Offered each fall.

222 Human Anatomy and Physiology II (4) L

An integrated lecture/laboratory experience that examines the anatomy and physiology of humans. Includes a survey of the cardiovascular, endocrine, digestive, urinary and reproductive systems. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. $50 lab fee. Offered spring on demand.

300 Plant and Fungal Evolution (4)

An investigation into the evolution of fungi and plants, including related algae, from cellular to organismal perspectives. The laboratory involves morphological observation of vegetative and reproductive structures critical to the understanding of how these organisms complete their life histories and interact with the environment. Prerequisite: BIO 200 with a grade of C or higher. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

308 Molecular Plant Physiology (4) W

A study of the molecular nature of how plants survive and respond to their environment. Topics include hormone regulations, carbon metabolism, plant cell identity, fluid transport and response to stress. Common techniques used in molecular biology will be introduced. Groups will design a short research project utilizing these techniques. Prerequisites: BIO 132 and sophomore status or higher, and ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Corequisite: BIO311. Offered on demand.

311 Genetics (4)

Principles of heredity as applied to both plants and animals. Prerequisites: CHEM 120 and BIO 130 and 132. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered each semester.

316 General Ecology (4) W

A study of the interrelationships between organisms and their environment. Topics will range from the individual level to the global scale, including both basic and applied ecological topics. Prerequisites: BIO 130, successful completion of ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, and sophomore status or higher. Identical to EES 316.

320 Ornithology (4)

A study of birds emphasizing diversity, behavioral ecology, and life history. Regular field observations are required and may occur under a variety of weather conditions. Prerequisite: BIO 130 and sophomore status or higher. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered on demand.

340 Tropical Marine Ecology

An introduction to major tropical marine habitats and ecological processes that control tropical marine ecosystems with a focus on coral reefs, mangroves and tropical seagrass beds. Organisms characteristic of these habitats and their symbiotic relationships will be examined. Prerequisites: BIO 130/131 or BIO 200 or consent. Offered on demand.

355 Marine Biology (4)

A study of organismal adaptation and community organization in marine and estuarine habitats. A variety of marine habitats are examined, with the laboratory focusing primarily on local species and habitat types. Prerequisite: two semesters of general biology or BIO 130 and sophomore status or higher. Offered each fall.

371 Histology (4)

A detailed study of the cells, tissues, and organs that comprise the mammalian body. Intended for students seeking careers in biology, medicine, or veterinary sciences. Prerequisite: a grade of C or higher in BIO 132 and sophomore status or higher. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered on demand.

372 Comparative Anatomy (4)

A study of the evolution, morphology, and physiology of vertebrates. An intensive laboratory-directed examination of the major organ systems of vertebrates as exemplified by the lamprey, dogfish, salamander, and cat. Intended for students seeking careers in biology, medicine, or veterinary sciences. Prerequisites: BIO 200 with a grade of C or higher or consent. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered on demand.

373 Marine Invertebrate Zoology (4)

A survey of the marine invertebrate phyla, emphasizing the classification, evolution, ecology, morphology, and life histories of these organisms. Includes laboratory examinations of representative groups and field sampling of local invertebrate fauna. Prerequisite: BIO 200. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered on demand.

375 Topics In Tropical Biology (4)

An intensive field experience in neotropical ecosystems (rainforests, coral reefs, mangroves, caves, etc.). Descriptive studies of local flora and fauna will be combined with an in-depth investigation of a topic of interest. Field activities will include moderately strenuous exercise under a variety of weather conditions. Destinations may include Belize, Costa Rica, Trinidad, or other tropical sites. Course fee required. Identical to EES 375. Prerequisite: BIO 130 and sophomore status or higher, and consent. Offered in select winter sessions. Runs concurrently with BIO 435

377 Entomology and Arachnology (4)

A comprehensive survey of the insects and arachnids of medical, economic, and ecological significance. Includes laboratory examinations of living and preserved specimens and field collections of select taxa. Prerequisite: BIO 200. Offered on demand.

380 Comparative Animal Physiology (4)

A study of the basic mechanisms by which animals function. Emphasizes how both invertebrate and vertebrate organisms change these basic mechanisms to adapt to environmental conditions. Prerequisites: a grade of C or higher in BIO 200 or consent. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered on demand.

385 Animal Behavior (4)

A study of the mechanisms and evolution of animal behavior. Topics include genetics and development of behavior, neural and physiological mechanisms of behavior, communication, social behavior, habitat selection, reproductive behavior, and parental investment. Laboratory exercises provide hands-on experiences for many of these concepts. Prerequisites: BIO 130 and sophomore status and higher or consent. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered on demand.

393 Scanning Electron Microscopy (SEM) (2)

Introduces the essentials and broad research applications of SEM. Topics include the preparation of biological and non-biological specimens, the use of secondary and backscattered electrons for imaging, and the operation of SEM in high vacuum and variable pressure modes. Hands-on training and independent operation of the SEM are mandatory. Identical to EES 393. Prerequisites: Sophomore status and consent. Offered in selected terms

395 Fluorescence microscopy (2)

Examines the applications of epifluorescence and confocal laser microscopy to the imaging of living cells and tissues. Topics include sample preparation and a review of the principles of fluorescence imaging. Practical training and independent operation of the instrumentation are strongly emphasized. Prerequisites: Sophomore status and consent. Offered in selected terms.

397 Advanced light microscopy (2)

Reviews the fundamentals of light microscopy, with an emphasis upon the compound light microscope, stereomicroscope and polarizing light microscope. Topics include dark-field, phase-contrast, differential interference contrast (DIC), simple fluorescence and basic staining techniques. Use of digital image capture and manipulation software is required. Prerequisites: Sophomore status and consent. Offered in selected terms.

399 Histotechnique

Introduces techniques used to prepare tissues for light microscopy. Topics include a review of laboratory safety procedures, specimen fixation, tissue processing and embedding, sectioning with a microtome, and staining. Hands-on training with a microtome is emphasized. Prerequisites: Sophomore status and consent. Offered in selected terms.

400 Scanning Electron Microscopy (SEM) (4)

Introduces the broad research applications of SEM. Topics include sample preparation, critical point drying, sputter coating, imaging, and x-ray microanalysis. Includes weekly hands-on training with the SEM and completion of an independent research project. Identical to EES 400. Prerequisites: junior/senior status and consent. Offered in select terms.

410 Evolution (4)

A study of the theory of biological evolution through natural selection. Topics include micro evolution, speciation, macroevolution, ecology and modern methods of determining phylogenetic relationships. Prerequisites: BIO 130 and 132 and junior/senior status. Offered on demand.

412 Chemical Ecology (4) W

A study of how organisms use chemicals to mediate interactions within and between species. Students will gain experience interpreting primary research articles as varying topics are discussed, such as plant-herbivore interactions, coral chemical defenses, and insect semiochemicals. Prerequisites: BIO 130, BIO 132, any 200-level CHEM course, ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Lecture three hours each week. Offered every fall.

420 Cell and Molecular Biology (4)

A study of the structure and function of prokaryotes and eukaryotes at the cellular and molecular level. Emphasizes the molecular nature of cellular structure, metabolism, and physiology. Prerequisite: BIO 311 (grade of C or higher). Offered spring of even-numbered years.

424 Topics in Molecular Techniques (2-4)

A focused study on molecular techniques necessary for research and biotechnology applications. Students' conceptual understanding, troubleshooting and lab-skills will develop on given topics. Topics vary with offerings and may include: gene cloning, gene expression analysis or characterization of protein expression and activity. May be repeated as topics vary. Prerequisite: BIO 311. Offered in selected semesters.

435 Tropical Ecology (4) SIE

An intensive field experience in neotropical ecosystems (coral reefs, rainforests, caves, mangrove swamps, etc.), that links ecological phenomena with social and historical factors to examine the conservation of biodiversity. Field activities require moderately strenuous exercise and considerable hiking. Destinations may include Trinidad, Belize, Costa Rica, or other tropical sites. Prerequisites: Students must have completed a lab science course (L) and have junior or senior status. Course fee is additional. Student may take this course one additional time for credit. Runs concurrently with BIO 375.

460 Zymurgy: The Science of Fermentation (4) I

Introduces the science and art of fermentation and considers the use of alcohol by human societies. Prerequisite: senior status or consent. Offered in selected Winter Sessions and spring semesters.

470 Internship in the Natural Sciences (2 or 4)

An intensive study of a specific field of science through an on-site field experience with hands-on learning opportunities that are relevant to the chosen site. Students may enroll for 2 or 4 hours in a given semester. A minimum of 80 hours devoted to the internship is expected for 2 semester hours, and a minimum of 160 hours is expected for 4 semester hours, but some placements may require more time. Students must coordinate their internship placement with the supervising faculty member at least two months prior to placement. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisites: junior/senior status and consent. Offered each semester.

475 Natural and Social History of the Chesapeake Bay (4) I

Provides a comprehensive view of one of the largest and most diverse estuaries in the world. Students examine the relationships between the natural history and the human history, including social and political aspects, use of the bay by various societies and their impact on and preservation of the bay. Saturday field trips required. Prerequisite: junior/senior status. Offered on demand.

482 Microbiology (4)

Teaches basic microbiological concepts and the role of microorganisms in various applied areas.

Topics include microbial physiology, cell structure, microbial genetics, pathogenic microorganisms and disease, and environmental and applied microbiology. Students practice aseptic technique, isolation and identification of bacteria, staining, and determination of microbial numbers. Prerequisite: BIO 311 (grade of C or higher). Offered each fall.

489 Research in the Natural Sciences (2 or 4)

Offers students the opportunity to conduct original scientific research in an area of interest. Students work closely with one or more members of the natural science faculty to develop and conduct a research project, then present their findings orally during the semester's undergraduate research symposium and as a formal research paper. Students are encouraged to present their findings at a conference. Prerequisite: junior/senior status and a major in the natural sciences, prior approval by the project advisor, and consent of the instructor. Students may enroll for 2 or 4 hours in a given semester. May be repeated for a maximum total of 8 semester hours. Identical to CHEM 489, CS 489, and EES 489. Offered each semester and most Winter Sessions (2 semester hours only).

Through a firm commitment to the liberal arts, global perspectives, and ethical decision-making, the Management, Business, and Economics Department develops leaders committed to creating sustainable social, environmental, and economic value through effective and responsible business practices. The business major combines a practical business education with a commitment to the Principles of Responsible Management Education (PRME) as developed by the United Nations in support of its Global Compact, a framework of universally accepted principles in the areas of human rights, labor, the environment, and anti-corruption. The MBE Department is firmly committed to the interdisciplinary nature of successful management education; thus the business major integrates its core curriculum with allied coursework in a variety of disciplines while providing opportunities for career-based specialization through coursework and internships. It prepares graduates with the skills, knowledge, and attitudes necessary to manage society's rapidly changing institutions both efficiently and humanely. Moreover, the interdisciplinary nature of the program provides solid preparation for a wide variety of graduate degree programs.

Certificate Program in Supply Chain Management & Logistics

Home of one of the largest commercial ports on the East Coast, Hampton Roads provides ample opportunities for business students as well as professionals to secure internships and jobs in the areas of transportation, manufacturing, distribution and numerous other allied fields. Virginia Wesleyan University is also one of the few educational institutions in the area enjoying membership in the Virginia Maritime Association. A certificate in Supply Chain Management and Logistics is designed to help students develop the skills needed to become successful in this existing and dynamic field.

An Associates Degree in Business from a regionally accredited college or university, or 60 credit hours to include Accounting I, Accounting II, Macroeconomics, Microeconomics, and Statistics (or Precalculus) are required for admission into this certificate program. Contact the Office of Enrollment Services for additional information.

BUSINESS COURSES (MBE)

100 Introduction to Economics (4)

Provides students with a solid foundation in economic literacy and reasoning. Topics include scarcity, incentives, and choice; resource allocation; exchange, competition, and markets; economic efficiency; investment, production, and income; money, interest rates, and GDP; business cycles and governmental policies. Emphasizes active learning and current economic issues and problems. Offered each semester.

101 Introduction to Business (4)

A general survey course designed for students who desire information about commercial activities to build a foundation for more advanced courses, to decide on a major, or to complement a major. Offered each semester.

112 Problem Solving and Decision Making (2)

Designed to provide the basic skills of management and to improve thinking skills regardless of a student's major. Examines various methods of problem solving and decision making, progressing from simple decisions under certainty to complex decisions under uncertainty. Both quantitative and creative methods are used. No prerequisites, but students should have elementary algebra skills and English skills beyond the 105 level. Offered intermittently.

201 Introductory Macroeconomics (4)

A study of contemporary economic systems and the analysis necessary to achieve the “economic way of thinking.” Prerequisites: elementary algebra skills (MATH 104 or placement level H, A, B) and sophomore status or above. Offered each fall.

202 Introductory Microeconomics (4)

The second semester of this two-part course enables students to understand and apply the tools of micro-economic analysis to contemporary profit or non-profit organizations. Prerequisites: elementary algebra skills (MATH 104 or placement level H, A, B) and sophomore status or above. Offered each spring.

203 Accounting I (4)

A study of the basic principles and systems of accounts that underlie general purpose financial reporting. Includes the analysis of accounting transactions and how they affect the balance sheet, the income statement, and the statement of cash flows. Introduces students to financial statement ratios commonly used in evaluating for-profit organizations. Offered each fall.

204 Accounting II (4)

The second semester of this two-part course covers the collection and interpretation of accounting data for use by management in planning and controlling business entities. Introduces students to cost-volume-profit analysis, budgeting, standard costing, and analysis of variances between budgeted amounts and actual results. Prerequisite: MBE 203. Offered each spring. Offered each spring.

206 Sustainability Accounting (2)

An overview of sustainability accounting. Includes traditional profit-oriented accounting and evaluates its impact on society. Introduces identifying, measuring, and reporting a firm’s commitment to its stakeholders and the planet. Offered each spring.

207 Economics and the Environment (4) S

Examines the harnessing of economic forces to both prevent and solve environmental problems in the context of current regulatory approaches to dealing with environmental issues. Prerequisite: MBE 100 or MBE 202. Formerly MBE 106. Offered each spring.

216 Taxation (4)

A study of the tax environment and the codes, regulations, and court decisions as they relate to income tax problems of individuals, including tax preparation and tax research. Prerequisite: sophomore status or above. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

222 Introduction to Financial Management

An introduction to Financial Management for students not majoring in Business, the course provides students with the basic tools of financial analysis and planning - leading to better decision-making in both their professional and personal lives. Topics include analysis of financial statements, the time value of money, and capital budgeting. Prerequisite: MBE 206. Offered each spring.

246 Personal Financial Planning (4)

Introduces the principles of individual financial planning. Topics include goal setting and decision making, career planning, saving and investing, credit, and insurance. Prerequisites: MATH 104/105 or equivalent and sophomore/junior/senior status. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

301 Principles of Management:
A Project Approach (4)*W

A study of the art and science of management in relation to the functions of planning, organizing, leading, and controlling in a project environment. Students learn the principles of management through project-based group experiences, with substantial writing about such experiences. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, MBE 201 and 203 or MBE 100 and 206, and junior status. Offered each semester.

303 Financial Accounting Theory I (4)

A study of the theory and application of generally accepted accounting principles. Emphasizes financial statement presentation, current assets and liabilities, intangible assets, and operational assets. Prerequisites: MBE 203 and 204. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

304 Financial Accounting Theory II (4)

A continuation of MBE 303. Emphasizes corporate equity accounts, long-term investments and liabilities, cash flows, pension costs, current value accounting, and foreign currency transactions. Prerequisites: MBE 203, 204, and 303. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

305 International Accounting Theory (4)

A study of accounting for firms engaged in international commerce: translation of foreign currency financial statements, and for branches, subsidiaries, mergers, acquisitions, and divestitures of multinational corporations. Prerequisites: MBE 203 and 204. Offered intermittently.

306 Business Law (4)

A study of contract law and the Uniform Commercial Code. Prerequisites: MBE 100, 101, 201 or 202 and junior/senior status. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

308 Comparative Economic Systems (4)

An in-depth, integrated study of the development and functioning of the American economic system compared with those of other countries. Prerequisite: MBE 100, 201 or 202. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

310 Money, Banking, and Financial Institutions (4)

The basics of monetary policy in terms of public policy. Includes the study of the Federal Reserve System, commercial bank lending, investments, money, and capital markets. Prerequisites: MBE 201 and 202. Offered each fall.

315 Managing Diversity in Organizations (4)

Promotes an awareness of cultural differences and positive attitudes toward these differences. Includes topics related to effective management of people who vary in race, gender, age, disability status, nationality, or sexual orientation. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

316 Marketing Principles (4)

Builds upon the analytical and communication skills gained in lower-level courses. Students gain an understanding of products and services, channels of distribution, pricing strategies, and elements of promotion. Prerequisites: MBE 201 or 202, MBE 203, and junior status. Offered each semester.

317 Advanced Taxation (4)

A comprehensive study of income tax problems relating to business entities. Topics include flow-through taxation (partnerships and limited liability companies), double-taxation (corporations), either/or taxation (estates and trusts), and other derivations from the three fundamental approaches. Additional topics include tax administration and the Federal estate tax. Prerequisite: MBE 216. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

322 Financial Management (4)

Students learn how to determine in what assets a firm should invest and what sources of funding are appropriate. Topics include mathematical analysis of operating and financial leverage, the cost of capital, management of working capital, and sources of money and capital. Prerequisites: MBE 201, 202, 203, and 204, and MATH 210 (formerly MATH 106). Offered each semester.

324 Human Resource Management (4) W

A study of the human resource process including such issues as recruiting, selection, training, performance appraisal, and compensation. Learning activities include experiential and group exercises, discussions, readings on HRM framework and application to cases, analytical issue papers, and oral reports. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and MBE 301, or consent. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

330 History of Economic Thought (4) H,W

An introductory course in the development of economic thought from Adam Smith to the present. Emphasizes on the correlation between successive stages of growth in economic theory. Writers covered Smith, Ricardo, Malthus, Marx, Marshall, Keynes, Galbraith, and Friedman. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with grade of C or higher, MBE 201 and 202. Offered intermittently.

331 Managerial Economics (4)

Emphasizes business applications of micro-economic tools and concepts. Includes analysis of demand, cost, production functions, and alternative pricing theories. Prerequisites: MBE 201 or 202, and MATH 210. Offered intermittently.

332 Economic Development (4) S,W

Introduces the student to the major problems and issues in economic development and the economies of less developed countries with respect to achieving social and economic goals. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with grade of C or higher, MBE 100, 201 or 202. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

333 International Business (4) S,W

Focuses on the increasing degree of international trade and multinational corporations. Analyzes international exchange, marketing, and personnel policies. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each fall.

334 Economic Modeling and Forecasting (4)

Develops and refines the ability to produce, interpret, and evaluate empirical research encountered in graduate study and professional pursuits. After a review of basic statistics, the course focuses on the bivariate regression model. Multiple regression, forecasting, and various topics in the verification of statistical models are also investigated. Prerequisites: MBE 100, MBE 201 or 202, and MATH 210.

335 Accounting Information Systems (4)

Students develop a conceptual framework for the development, implementation, and evaluation of an accounting information system. Primary topics include system understanding and documentation, risk analysis, and typical accounting transaction cycles. The lab experience provides application of system concepts to popular software applications. Prerequisite: MBE 203. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

340 Forensic Accounting (4)

The application of accounting methods to assist in solving economic-based crimes. The course includes discussion of criminal statutes relating to financial crimes, fraud investigation and prevention, techniques used in solving financial crimes, and current issues in financial investigation. Prerequisite: MBE 203. Identical to CJ 340. Offered intermittently.

343 Government and Not-For-Profit Accounting (4)

A study of appropriate accounting for such entities as governments, colleges, churches, hospitals, charities, and clubs. Prerequisite: MBE 203. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

345 Managerial Cost Accounting (4)

A study of cost accounting, budget analysis, and other advanced concepts used by manufacturers and other large businesses or non-profit organizations. Prerequisites: MBE 203 and 204. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

348 Social Marketing Management (4)

Marketing in the for-profit sector is primarily concerned with generating financial gain, while social marketing's primary aim is societal gain. Social marketing focuses on influencing behaviors to improve health, prevent injuries, protect the environment, and contribute to the welfare of communities. The objective of this course is to help students apply traditional marketing principles and techniques to influencing positive public behavior. Prerequisite: MBE 301 or MBE 316. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

350 Supply Chain Management and Logistics (4)

Provides an understanding of supply chain management and logistics processes as they apply to both service and manufacturing organizations. Special consideration is given to identifying ways in which the strategic use of supply chain management can create competitive advantages for firms. Prerequisite: MBE 301 or 316. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

355 Auditing (4) W

Primarily focuses on financial audits, but also addresses reviews, compilations, and other account attestation engagements. Additional topics include fraud detection, statistical sampling, account liability, and preparation of accountants' reports. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, MBE 203 and 204. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

360 Operations Management (4)

Reviews essential qualitative and quantitative techniques used in business decision-making and problem solving. Includes decision analysis, forecasting, linear programming, project scheduling, inventory cost minimization, TQM, process and queuing analysis. Emphasizes the practical application of these techniques to production and operations management problems in both the manufacturing and service sectors. Prerequisites: MATH 210 and MBE 301. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

373 Conflict Management (4) S,W

Examines conflict processes within and between organizations and alternative approaches to conflict management, drawing on the contributions of several disciplines and experience in organization, community, and labor dispute management. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Identical to POLS 373. Offered each fall.

389 Field Experience in Management (4)

Students participate in a non-paid or paid internship for at least 100 hours of field work undertaken after they complete a formal work and learning contract. All internships are reviewed by the department. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisites: junior status; a 2.5 GPA; MBE 301, 316, or 322 preferably taken concurrently. Offered each spring.

400 Seminar in Managerial Ethics (4) W

A course in which students construct for themselves a conceptual framework for examining and making decisions about ethical practices in managing organizations. Learning activities include self-evaluation exercises, class discussions, readings on ethical frameworks and applying them to cases, analytical issue papers, and oral reports. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, MBE 301, 316, 322, and senior status, or consent. Offered each semester.

406 Senior Seminar: Management Strategy (4) I,W

A case-oriented course that explains how and why a well-conceived, well-executed strategy nearly always enhances a company's long-term performance. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, senior status, MBE 301, 316, 322, 400, and all other general studies requirements completed at least concurrently. Offered each semester.

407 Senior Seminar:
Small Business Planning (4) I,W

By preparing a comprehensive business plan, students sharpen their understanding of management, integrate strategic thinking with operational constraints, and explore the role of small business in the American economy. They synthesize knowledge and skills gained in previous courses. Prerequisites: senior status, ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, MBE 301, 316, 322, 400 and all other general studies requirements completed at least concurrently. Offered intermittently.

414 Internship Exploration and Design (4)

Students find, design, and maximize the independent learning experience to be undertaken in the spring internship courses, MBE 416 and 417. A major outcome is the negotiation of a learning plan agreement with a sponsoring organization. Prerequisites: a major in business with a 3.0 or higher GPA, all required major and general studies requirements completed at least concurrently, and admission to the internship program. Offered each fall.

416 Management Internship (12)

Students implement the work-and-learning agreements devised in MBE 414 for full-time placement (14 weeks or a minimum of 560 total hours) as a professional in a sponsoring organization. They gain practical experience in applying previously acquired knowledge and managerial skills. Students self-evaluate and are evaluated by their organizational supervisor. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisite: MBE 414; must co-register for MBE 417. Offered each spring.

417 Internship Seminar (4) I

Integrates management theory, especially ethical analysis and action, with general studies knowledge while enhancing business skills during a full-time internship. Weekly written and oral reports, two major reflection papers, and a strategic management simulation enhance learning. Prerequisite: MBE 414; must co-register for MBE 416. Offered each spring.

490 Independent Study in Management (1-4)

Students undertake an experience-based project and/or do specific reading, research, and report writing on a topic in management not covered through the regular curriculum. Requires the approval of a supervising professor within the department. Applications must be made no later than the end of the preceding semester. Credit: 1-4 semester hours per semester; may be repeated for a maximum of 8 semester hours. Offered on demand, but preferably during the summer.

INFORMATION SYSTEMS
COURSES (ISP)*101 Fundamentals of Information Systems (4)

Introduces students to the fundamental principles and practices of utilizing information systems to help organizations achieve their goals and carry out their missions. While the course serves as the introductory course in the Information Systems Program curriculum, it is a suitable elective for any student interested in the subject. Students should have a working knowledge of Internet use and computer applications such as word processing, spreadsheets, presentation graphics, and e-mail. Offered each semester.

105 Information Systems and Computer
Applications (4)

Students explore current topics in the field of computer science/information systems beyond the introductory level covered in CS 100, including computer networks, Internet use, and ethical and legal issues related to the use of information technology. Students learn to use the more advanced features of software applications such as word processing, spreadsheet, database, and presentation programs. Offered intermittently.

CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF RELIGIOUS FREEDOM

DR. CRAIG WANSINK, Department Chair
DR. ERIC MAZUR

The study of religious freedom is inherently interdisciplinary. It is concerned with the critical First Amendment issues of free exercise of religion and church-state separation, as well as the larger political, social and religious contexts within which these issues arise. This means that it draws on a wide range of disciplines, including history, law, philosophy, political science, sociology, and religious studies. The study of religious freedom at Virginia Wesleyan University may be engaged through the many CSRF educational programs as well as through Center courses.

CSRF COURSES (CSRF)232 Religion and American Politics (4) V

Investigates the relationship between religion and politics in the United States, especially the role of traditional religious identities and issues, while acknowledging non-traditional religious movements, ideas, and issues. Emphasizes upcoming elections. Students are expected to be informed on the current debates in the various national elections which form basis of class discussions and student presentations. Identical to RELST 232. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

233 Religious Battles in Court (4) V

Introduces students to the relationship between religion and American law. Students explore the origins, history, and current legal foundations guiding disputes over religious freedom, providing the backdrop for discussions of current issues such as abortion, gay marriage, and euthanasia. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

312 Servant Leadership Internship (2)

An integrative experience that includes both academic and experiential elements, along with the development of specific skills related to mediation and community building. The field experience may be with government agencies, non-profits, religious organizations, or specific ministries. May be repeated for credit. Prerequisites: Sophomore status, 2.4 cumulative GPA, placement, and consent. Offered each semester.

CHEMISTRY

DR. JOYCE B. EASTER, Batten Honors College Dean
 DR. KEVIN KITTREDGE, Department Chair
 DR. MAURY E. HOWARD
 DR. DEBORAH E. OTIS

Chemistry, a vital component of the liberal arts curriculum, is an integral part of modern life from the substances we use like food, fuels, plastics, and pharmaceuticals to the processes used in important industries such as power plants, medical diagnostics, and manufacturing. Chemists use the scientific method in their pursuit to understand the physical and chemical properties of matter. The Chemistry Department provides a learning environment for students to engage in the study of empirical principles; to develop analytical and problem-solving skills; to acquire the laboratory skills necessary to design, perform, and evaluate experiments; and to become skilled at organization, evaluation, and presentation of the concepts of chemistry. Students are encouraged to approach the chemical sciences from quantitative, descriptive and historical perspectives, to experience them within the context of the physical and life sciences, and to make connections to the world around them.

Chemistry majors gain knowledge of chemical analysis, synthesis, and theory while acquiring competence in laboratory techniques, the use of chemical instrumentation, computer skills, written and oral communication, and effective use of the professional literature.

Chemistry electives at 300/400 level	8

CHEMISTRY COURSES (CHEM)

120 Introductory Chemistry (4) L

An introduction to chemical principles, including atomic and molecular structure, states of matter, chemical reactions, stoichiometry, thermodynamics, and chemical equilibria. Most of the work is quantitative in nature. Emphasizes development of problem solving skills. Lecture four hours, laboratory three hours each week. Prerequisites: CHEM PL or PHSC 100 and math placement H, A or B, or MATH 104 with a grade of C- or higher. Offered each semester.

200 Inorganic Chemistry (4)

An integrated lecture and laboratory experience introducing the concepts of inorganic chemistry in light of modern theory. Topics include chemical periodicity, bonding, kinetics, descriptive chemistry, coordination chemistry, oxidation-reduction, electrochemistry, and solid-state structure, as well as techniques for synthesis and characterization of inorganic compounds. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 120. Offered each spring.

210 Analytical Chemistry (4)

Applies analytical techniques to inorganic, organic, and biochemical systems. The experimental methods include volumetric and gravimetric analysis, chromatographic, and spectroscopic techniques. Prerequisite: CHEM 120. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

221 Organic Chemistry I (4)

A comprehensive survey of the chemistry of carbon compounds, including their structure, properties, reactions, reaction mechanisms, spectroscopy, and stereochemistry, with a focus on hydrocarbons, haloalkanes, and alcohols. Introduces modern organic laboratory techniques, including purification methods, organic synthesis, and product analysis. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 120. Offered each fall.

222 Organic Chemistry II (4)

A comprehensive survey of the chemistry of carbon compounds, including their structure, properties, reactions, reaction mechanisms, spectroscopy, and stereochemistry, with a focus on aromatic, amine, and carbonyl compounds. Development of organic laboratory skills, including microscale techniques, organic synthesis, product analysis, and spectroscopy. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 221. Offered each spring.

270 Environmental Chemistry (4)

An exploration of the earth system and human perturbations to that system from a chemical perspective. Topics covered include ozone depletion, persistent organic pollutants, wastewater treatment, and toxicity of environmental contaminants. Laboratory exercises give students experience in environmental sampling and analysis. Prerequisites: CHEM 120. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Identical to EES 270. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

305 Teaching Experience (1)

Qualified students assist chemistry faculty in teaching chemistry courses and laboratories. May be repeated for credit, but students may apply no more than 4 semester hours toward graduation. Prerequisite: consent. Offered each semester.

310 Metrology: Measurement Science (4)

An introduction to metrology, measurement systems and standards. Topics include the production and certification of measurement standards, standard reference materials and test methods, as well as the regulations of those standards, requiring compliance with methods and verification of product specifications in industry. Prerequisites: CHEM 120, and an additional 4 credit 200 level Chemistry course (CHEM 210 recommended). Offered winter of odd-numbered years.

330 Biochemistry (4)W

A survey of the chemistry within biological systems, including the structure and function of biomolecules, molecular components of cells, enzymes, and cellular metabolism. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Prerequisites: successful completion of ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and CHEM 222. Offered each fall.

345 Forensic Science Methods (4)W

A comprehensive evaluation of current developments in research, instrumentation, and laboratory technology used to detect, identify, analyze, and compare evidence generated by criminal activity. Prerequisites: any 200 level Chemistry course and ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

346 Physical Chemistry I (4)

A mathematical treatment of physical-chemical properties and chemical reactions, with emphasis on quantum mechanics, spectroscopy, and kinetics. Laboratory includes advanced experiments concerning the fundamental physical nature of chemical phenomena. Experiments include infrared spectroscopy, kinetics, and molecular modeling. Prerequisites: CHEM 210, MATH 172, and PHYS 222. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

347 Physical Chemistry II (4)

A comprehensive survey of the physical-chemical behavior of matter, including thermodynamics, equilibrium, and electrochemistry. Introduces electrochemistry, modern laboratory techniques, including instrumental-based studies of equilibrium, electrochemical properties, and mixture analyses. Prerequisite: CHEM 346. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

425 Medicinal Chemistry (4)

A comprehensive, yet balanced introduction, to medicinal chemistry with an emphasis on the chemical and pharmaceutical principles related to understanding structure-activity relationships and molecular mechanisms of drug action. The course will cover the discovery and design of drugs, pharmacokinetics, drug metabolism, natural product discovery and isolation, organic synthesis, as well as drug development from the research stage through to marketing of the final product. Prerequisites: CHEM 222 and 330. Offered winter or spring of even-numbered years.

438 Advanced Biochemistry (4)

A comprehensive study of complex biochemical processes, with an emphasis on cellular metabolism and its regulation, cellular signaling, and cellular information transfer. Prerequisite: CHEM 330. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

450 Biogeochemistry (4)

Explores the connections among the atmosphere, hydrosphere, lithosphere, and biosphere through exploration of global cycling of nutrients and pollutants. Students investigate these biogeochemical cycles through analysis of primary research articles, field measurements, chemical analysis, and a self-designed research project. Prerequisites: senior status and any 200 level Chemistry course. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Identical to EES 450. Offered each spring.

455 Advanced Chemistry Topics (4)

A focused, in-depth study of a selected topic in chemistry. Taught as a seminar, with an emphasis on interpreting data and critical analysis of primary literature, and may involve laboratory work. May be repeated for credit as topics change. Prerequisite: consent. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

470 Internship in the Natural Sciences (2 or 4)

An intensive study of a specific field of science through an on-site field experience with hands-on learning opportunities that are relevant to the chosen site. Students may enroll for 2 or 4 hours in a given semester. A minimum of 80 hours devoted to the internship is expected for 2 semester hours, and a minimum of 160 hours is expected for 4 semester hours, but some placements may require more time. Students must coordinate their internship placement with the supervising faculty member at least two months prior to placement. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisites: junior/senior status and consent. Offered each semester and most Winter Sessions (2 semester hours only).

480 Instrumental Methods of Analysis (4)

A study of the instrumental methods used in characterizing chemical systems. Topics include optical methods, electroanalytical methods, atomic and molecular spectroscopy, and chromatography methods. Examines analytical techniques from an instrumental and chemical point of view. Prerequisites: CHEM 210 and 8 additional semester hours in chemistry. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours each week. Offered each spring.

489 Research in the Natural Sciences (2 or 4)

Offers students the opportunity to conduct original scientific research in an area of interest. Students work closely with one or more members of the natural science faculty to develop and conduct a research project, then present their findings orally during the semester's undergraduate research symposium and as a formal research paper. Students are encouraged to present their findings at a conference. Prerequisite: junior/senior status and a major in the natural sciences, prior approval by the project advisor, and consent of the instructor. Students may enroll for 2 or 4 hours in a given semester. May be repeated for a maximum total of 8 semester hours. Identical to BIO 489, CS 489, EES 489, and MATH 489. Offered each semester and most Winter Sessions (2 semester hours only).

CLASSICS

DR. BENJAMIN S. HALLER, Department Chair

The Classics Department offers students the opportunity to explore the Greek and Roman roots of European and American cultures. By taking courses in classical civilization, students understand the richness and diversity of the Greek and Roman cultures, while using the ancient world to gain wider perspectives on many elements of modern life. Through courses in Latin and Greek languages, students attain a more direct experience of the lives of the ancients in their own living words, while gaining valuable understanding of the roots and usage of English and other modern languages.

Two major programs are available to students interested in Classics. The major in Classical Studies offers immersion in the culture, literature, and history of the ancient Greek and Roman worlds through readings in English translation with only a small amount of required coursework in ancient language. Students seeking to acquire expertise in the Latin language in addition to a foundation in ancient history and literature may elect the major in Latin.

Students may not major both in Classical Studies and in Latin.

The Classics Department has a VDOE endorsement in the Teaching of Latin, permitting successful students who undertake the appropriate coursework to leave VWU certified to teach high school Latin. Students intending to attend graduate school in Classics or a related field, or to pursue careers teaching Latin at a secondary level, should major in Latin. In addition to completing requirements for a major in Latin, those considering attending graduate school in Classics should also plan to take at least three years of Greek before applying to a graduate program. Latin is also a useful second major for medical or law school. The Classical Studies major, in conjunction with appropriate additional coursework or a second major, is an excellent choice for students interested in graduate study or teaching in fields such as history, art history or art, law, or in careers in museum studies, business, or government.

CLASSICS COURSES (CLAS)105 Classical Mythology (4) W

Explores methods of interpreting myths in their original contexts and affirms the continued relevance of mythology in modern society. Readings include Homer, Hesiod, Sappho, Aeschylus, Sophocles, Euripides, Plato, Aristotle, Virgil, and Ovid. Offered each fall.

120 Introduction to Classical Archaeology (4) H

Introduces students to the methods common to both Old and New World archaeology, followed by an introduction to and interpretation of the material remains of the ancient Greek, Roman, and Mediterranean worlds. Offered on demand.

209 Greek History (4) H

Uses readings in primary sources to portray life in ancient Greece for its own intrinsic interest and for its relevance to today's world. Special attention is given to the first writers of history and to the development of Athenian democracy.

210 Roman History (4) H

Students read and analyze wide-ranging secondary and primary sources from history, literature, and archaeology to explore Roman civilization from its earliest beginnings, through the period of Republican expansion and transition into a vast empire, concluding with the Empire's ultimate decline and dissolution. Special attention is given to Roman historiography and to the political changes from Republic to Empire.

263 World Literature I (4) T

A chronological survey of major literary works from Ancient Near Eastern Epic to the European Middle Ages. Emphasizes the close reading of ancient literature within its immediate cultural context and the analysis of this literature in well-argued papers. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Identical to ENG 263. Offered when circumstances permit.

264 World Literature II (4) T

A survey of major works in world literature from the Renaissance to the present day emphasizing texts outside the British and American traditions. Particular attention is given to texts that put themselves in dialogue with Ancient Near Eastern and Classical Greek and Roman literary traditions. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Identical to ENG 264. Offered when circumstances permit.

330 Classical Epic and the Epic Tradition (4) W

A study of epic works from the ancient Mediterranean and other cultures. Potential topics include Roman epic, Ancient epic, J.R.R. Tolkien and the epic tradition, and the oral-traditional epic. May be repeated for credit if topics vary. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with grade of C or higher.

350 Women in the Ancient World (4) W

Examines gender roles and sexual identities in ancient Greece and Rome through readings in primary sources supplemented by current scholarship. Explores contrasts between representations of women in Classical literature and the limitations they historically faced and the changes that occurred in women's status according to place and time. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with grade of C or higher.

356 Classical Studies Abroad H

Travel to a relevant area within the cultural orbit of ancient Greece and Rome for on-site study of ancient Greco-Roman history and literary and material culture.

360 Classical Virginia (4) H

An exploration of how classical narratives of exploration, political thought, literature, and art and architecture helped to shape the culture of the state of Virginia. Offered Winter Session when circumstances permit.

370 The Ancient World in the Cinema (4) A

Studies how ancient Greece and Rome continue to interest and influence us through the modern medium of cinema. Includes readings of selected classical texts and comparisons with modern screen treatments. Attention is given both to modern cinematic adaptations of ancient literary works and to epic "historical" spectacles. Examines directorial creativity, audience expectation, historical accuracy, and modern myth-making.

450 Senior Seminar in Classics (4) I,W

Offers students the opportunity to do sustained research on a chosen topic and to present the results in a substantial (20-30 page) piece of work. Upon completion of the project, students present their work in a public oral defense. Prerequisites: successful completion of ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and senior status, with a major in Classical Studies or Latin. Offered annually as needed.

GREEK COURSES (GREK)

121 Beginning Ancient Greek I (4)

An introduction to the grammar, syntax, and vocabulary of ancient Greek. Completion of the year-long sequence prepares students to read connected passages in ancient texts such as the dialogues of Plato or the New Testament; emphasis on Attic Greek or Koine dialects varies according to the instructor and interest of the class. Does not count toward the foreign language requirement. Offered on demand.

122 Beginning Ancient Greek II (4)

An introduction to the grammar, syntax, and vocabulary of ancient Greek. Completion of the year-long sequence prepares students to read connected passages in ancient texts such as the dialogues of Plato or the New Testament; emphasis on Attic Greek or Koine dialects varies according to the instructor and interest of the class. Does not count toward the foreign language requirement. Offered on demand.

213 Intermediate Ancient Greek (4)

Begins with a thorough review of basic Greek grammar as covered in GREK 121-122. Students then undertake extended readings in an ancient Greek text such as the New Testament or the Dialogues of Plato. Emphasizes translation and reading skills rather than speaking/listening skills. Prerequisite: GREK 122 with a grade of C or higher or placement. Offered on demand.

LATIN COURSES (LATN)

111 Beginning Latin I (4)

Introduces the elements of the language of the Ancient Romans: vocabulary, syntax, and grammar. Students learn how to translate sentences and short stories. Focuses on translation and reading skills. Offered each year.

112 Beginning Latin II (4)

Introduces the elements of the language of the Ancient Romans: vocabulary, syntax, and grammar. Students learn how to translate sentences and short stories. Focuses on translation and reading skills. Prerequisite: LATN 111. May be used toward fulfillment of the language requirement. Offered each year.

213 Intermediate Latin (4)

Introduces students to advanced grammar as they read a real Latin text such as the poems of Catullus or the speeches of Cicero. The primary goal is to gain facility in reading Latin, but the course also introduces students to ancient Roman literary aesthetics and culture. Focuses on translation and reading skills rather than speaking/listening skills. May be used toward fulfillment of the language requirement. Prerequisite: LATN 112 or equivalent. Offered each year.

305 Topics in Latin Prose (4)

Reading and translation from one or more Latin prose authors arranged by author (e.g., Apuleius) or by topic or genre (e.g., the Roman novel, Arthurian legends, etc.). May be repeated for credit as the topic varies. Prerequisite: LATN 213 or placement. Offered on demand.

306 Topics in Latin Poetry (4)

Reading and translation from one or more Latin poets, arranged by author (e.g., Virgil) or by topic or genre (e.g., lyric, epic). May be repeated for credit as the topic varies. Prerequisite: LATN 213 or placement. LATN 305 is not a prerequisite. Offered on demand.

471 Practicum in the Teaching of Latin (4)

A workshop that introduces advanced students of Latin to current teaching methods in the language. Students serve as assistants in Elementary Latin while meeting regularly with the instructor to gain hands-on experience in the practical aspects of teaching Latin. Ordinarily taken in the semester prior to EDUC 445/446. Prerequisites: LATN 305 or 306 and consent. Offered on demand.

COMMUNICATION

DR. LISA LYON PAYNE, Department Chair

DR. KATHY MERLOCK JACKSON

DR. TERRENCE LINDVALL

DR. STUART C. MINNIS

The Communication Department offers courses and opportunities for individual work in the areas of film, journalism, and digital media. The department stresses the artistic and humanistic bases of its disciplines, as well as professional and career interests. The communications industry is one of the fastest growing industries in today's world. Students who major in communication might expect to find career opportunities in radio, television, film, newspapers, magazines, digital media, advertising, public relations, teaching, and related fields. Courses in journalism are designed to introduce students to the field and offer opportunities to gain experience in reporting, writing, design, and editing. There is a strong emphasis on the ethical aspects of gathering and reporting news. A wide variety of internship opportunities are available to communication majors.

COMMUNICATION COURSES (COMM)

101 Introduction to Media Studies (4) S

Introduces students to the role played by mass media in culture. Media institutions and technologies are examined in terms of their histories, economic and legal characteristics, and contemporary social influence. Offered each semester.

210 Audio Production Workshop (1)

Introduces students to fundamental aspects of a variety of audio applications, including field recording, studio recording, and multi-track production. Offered each spring.

220 Experimental Film and Video (4)

Explores the history and theory of experimental film and video through lecture, discussion, reading, and screenings and through creative action. Students produce their own avant-garde videos as they learn the form's aesthetic heritage and contemporary developments. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

221 Understanding Film (4) A

A survey of film as an artistic and cultural medium. The course explores film historically and aesthetically, considering aspects of film technology, style, narrative, genre, and ideology. Emphasis is placed on historically important films, filmmakers, and film movements, but contemporary trends are also addressed. Offered each semester.

222 Public Speaking (4)

An individualized introduction to the theory and practice of informative and persuasive speech communication. Extemporaneous speaking is explored in depth while impromptu and group communication are also examined. The communication model is stressed, including sender, receiver, message (verbal and non-verbal) channel, noise, and feedback. Offered each semester.

250 Introductory Filmmaking (4)

Introduces students to the techniques and traditions of fictional narrative filmmaking. Emphasis is placed on principles of visual storytelling and conventions of continuity and composition, videography, lighting, editing, and production management. Students also learn the fundamentals of screenwriting. Offered each semester.

300 Media Law and Ethics (4)

Examines the legal principles and regulatory structures, primarily in the areas of First Amendment law and copyright, governing print and electronic media. Additional discussion concerns ethical standards and potential ethical dilemmas faced by working media professionals. Prerequisites: COMM 101 and junior/senior status. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

312 The Art of Animation (4)

An in-depth look at the history of animation as a developing art form. The course also looks at animation as a reflection of culture and as a business. Prerequisite: COMM 101 or consent. Offered intermittently.

321 Theories of Mass Communication (4)

An overview of the major theories that characterize the study of mass communication. Addresses both humanities and social sciences approaches and explores theory as a lens for conducting research. Students majoring in communication will typically take COMM 321 (Theories) in the fall and COMM 331 (Mass Communication Research Methods) in the spring of their junior or senior year. Prerequisites: COMM 101 and junior/senior status. Offered each fall.

325 Organizational Communication (4)

Examines all forms of communication in any profit or non-profit organization. Combines theory and practice to understand intended and unintended messages. Topics include culture, networking, impact of technology, medium and channel, and rhetorical purpose. Offered each spring and summer.

326 Persuasion and the Media (4)

An examination of the methods and techniques that advertisers use to persuade audiences. Prerequisites: COMM 101 and junior/senior status or consent. Offered each fall.

327 Children and the Media (4)

A study of children as a media audience with a particular focus on contemporary televisual media. Attention is given to both prosocial and antisocial effects of the media. Prerequisite: COMM 101 or consent. Offered each spring.

328 Public Relations (4)

An introduction to the public relations and advertising profession with an emphasis on writing. Students examine the role of public relations and advertising in a free society and the demands and constraints, including ethical ones, placed upon them. They write background or briefing papers, press releases, informational and persuasive copy, and find promotable elements in products and services. Identical to JOUR 328. Offered each fall.

331 Mass Communication Research Methods (4)

Introduces mass communication research methods and includes field, survey, and experimental methods as well as content analysis. Prerequisite: junior/senior status. Offered each spring.

333 Special Topics in Media Studies (4)

An investigation of selected themes, genres, directors, periods, or topics in mass media and cultural studies. Sample topics include "American Silent Film," "The Movies of 1939," "The Films of the Coen Brothers," "Women and Film," "The Documentary Tradition," and "The Western." Prerequisite: COMM 101 or consent. May be repeated if the topic is different.

335 Christian Theology and Film (4) V,W

Explores how the fields of theology and film studies cross-fertilize each other, with special attention given to the ways in which film functions as religious discourse. Students investigate the historical evolution of film as a means of communicating theological doctrines or themes through its narrative patterns and analyze how religious and secular films can be constructed as cultural texts that advise not only how one should live, but what one should believe. Emphasizes the sermonic nature of film, various hermeneutics of film, and how audiences receive and appropriate both manifest and latent religious meanings. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, 3 semester hours in communication, English, history, philosophy, or religious studies. Identical to RELST 335. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

350 Advanced Filmmaking (4)

Expands on the concepts introduced in Introductory Filmmaking with students developing more artistically and technically sophisticated work. Covers fundamental disciplines such as videography, lighting, editing, audio, and production management in significant depth using professional-grade equipment. Students demonstrate their mastery through various exercises and a primary short film production project. Prerequisite: COMM 250. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

411 Senior Seminar in Communication Studies (4) I,W

In-depth investigation into the art, history, culture, and ethics of various media through the lens of a particular topic. For example, students may explore the construct of celebrity or friendship as formulated, manufactured, and disseminated through mediated channels. Prerequisites: successful completion of ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, COMM 101, and COMM 321. Offered each fall.

450 Documentary Film Production (4)

A guided individual study with primary focus on the production of a documentary short film. The production work will be supplemented by guided study in the history and theory of documentary film. Course enrollment is limited to one student per semester. Prerequisite: COMM 250 and consent. Offered selected semesters.

481 Internship in Communication (4)

A significant, practical learning experience for the student of communication and, as such, a required component of the program of studies. Students may complete one or two internships as part of the major. All internships must be approved by the Department Chair. Offered each semester.

JOURNALISM COURSES (JOUR)

201 Writing for the Mass Media (4)

An introduction to the study of newsgathering, reporting, and writing across multiple media platforms, including ethical, legal, and stylistic concerns. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each semester.

210 Journalism Workshop (2)

A practical workshop in which students discover and develop a specialty writing for the student newspaper. The course may be repeated one time; however, the student must work on two different sections of the newspaper. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher or consent. Offered each semester.

328 Public Relations

An introduction to the public relations and advertising profession with an emphasis on writing. Students examine the role of public relations and advertising in a free society and the demands and constraints, including ethical ones, placed upon them. They write background or briefing papers, press releases, informational and persuasive copy, and find promotable elements in products and services. Identical to COMM 328. Offered each semester.

333 Special Topics in Journalism (4)

An investigation of selected topics in journalism. Sample topics include "Design and Editing," "Creative Nonfiction," and "Critical Writing." Prerequisite: JOUR 201. Offered when circumstances permit.

385 Editors in the Workshop (2)

An opportunity for editors of The Marlin Chronicle to superintend the professional performance of their sections. Editors run weekly budget meetings; make assignments; encourage, assist, and evaluate staff; and produce a responsible, quality publication. May be repeated for credit. Prerequisite: consent. Offered each semester.

397 Feature Writing (4)

Students pursue the principles of researching, interviewing, and writing several different kinds of feature stories, including editorials, columns, and lifestyle pieces. Special topics include sports, travel, food and humor. Prerequisite: JOUR 201 or consent.

435 Advanced Newswriting (4)

W

An advanced course in the collection and reporting of news in which students are expected to demonstrate independence and initiative in their work. Each student learns to develop a beat and make use of sources. Emphasis is placed on skepticism. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and JOUR 201.

COMPREHENSIVE LIBERAL STUDIES

DR. BENJAMIN S. HALLER Program Chair

The Comprehensive Liberal Studies major (CLS) offers students the opportunity to design an individual program of study that reflects the interdisciplinary nature of the liberal arts. Unlike the departmental majors, this major allows students to create a unique major that integrates studies in all three academic schools of the University in a coherent program with a clear intellectual focus.

The major consists of 44 semester hours chosen from courses in the three academic schools. Each student's program must adhere to the following guidelines:

- Sixteen semester hours must be taken in each of two academic schools, while 12 semester hours must be taken in a third academic school.
- At least 24 of the 44 total semester hours in the major must be taken at the 300/400 level. These 24 upper-level semester hours must be distributed across at least two academic schools.
- Four of the 24 required 300/400 level semester hours must be taken in a course designated "Senior Integrative Experience" in VWU's General Studies program, with a copy of the major SIE project submitted to the CLS director upon completion of that course.
- No more than half of the semester hours from courses in any one school may be taken in the same department or discipline.
- One interdisciplinary course designated INST may be included in the major and counted either as a humanities or social sciences course. An INST course may not be counted in the major as a natural sciences and mathematics course.
- At least one laboratory science course must be included as part of the major.
- English and foreign language courses taken to satisfy core requirements in the Program of General Studies may not be included in the major, but courses satisfying other General Studies requirements may be included.
- A 2.5 grade point average in all courses included in the CLS is required for graduation.

A student wishing to declare the CLS major must file a Declaration of Major form with the Office of the Registrar at least two semesters before graduation, summer not counting as a semester. In addition, a contract outlining the plan of study must be worked out in close consultation with an academic advisor, who may be a full-time faculty member from any one of the three academic schools. This contract must include (1) a list of the courses the student plans to take and include in the proposed CLS major; and (2) an essay explaining the student's goals and reasons for choosing the CLS major and articulating a unifying theme that will define and give clear direction to the major; and (3) a statement identifying courses that will be used to fulfill the university's requirements for oral communication competence computer proficiency and showing how those courses will fulfill these requirements.

The contract must be approved by the student's faculty advisor and by the Director of the CLS major, who sign the completed contract, which is kept on file by the advisor. The contract may be renegotiated if the courses listed become unavailable, but any changes must be approved by the student, the advisor and the CLS director.

Finally, students completing the CLS course of study are required to write a reflective essay, to be composed and approved by the CLS director during the final semester of attendance at VWU. The essay will review the goals and unifying intellectual theme of the major as stated in the declaration essay and will explore in some detail how the goals and themes of the major have been realized.

COMPREHENSIVE LIBERAL STUDIES—CURRICULAR EMPHASIS

DR. MALCOLM LIVELY, Director of the Education Program

It is recommended that students seeking initial teacher licensure with endorsement in Elementary Education (preK-6) or Special Education: General Curriculum (K-12) complete a major that reflects the interdisciplinary and interdependent nature of the liberal arts. The Comprehensive Liberal Studies major allows licensure candidates in the above areas to pursue studies in the University's three academic schools while meeting the competencies of teachers recommended in the Virginia Board of Education's Regulations Governing the Review and Approval of Education Programs in Virginia. A 2.5 GPA in the major is required for recommendation for licensure. Students must complete all courses in the major with grades of C- or higher. Students seeking initial licensure with an endorsement in elementary or special education must also complete the appropriate professional education coursework outlined in the Education section of the VWU Catalog.

EARTH AND ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCES

DR. MAYNARD H. SCHAUS, Associate Provost
 DR. J. CHRISTOPHER HALEY, School Dean
 DR. ELIZABETH G. MALCOLM, Department Chair
 DR. KATRINA HENRY

Earth and environmental sciences is a multi-disciplinary field that addresses the interactions between humans and the environment. Study in this field includes an understanding of the basic principles that govern geological, biological, and chemical interactions, as well as the applied context of developing solutions to current environmental problems. The earth and environmental sciences curriculum is designed to provide a solid foundation in both earth science and environmental science and to support coursework in chemistry and biology. The B.A. program is designed to provide a broad background in the fundamentals of earth science for students who plan careers in secondary education, business, law, and other areas, or wish to pursue a double major. The B.S. program is intended for students who plan graduate work in earth or environmental sciences and thus require additional upper-level EES courses and additional preparation in mathematics. Those seeking secondary certification in Earth Science have additional course requirements and must plan a course of study in consultation with faculty advisors from both the Earth and Environmental Sciences and the Education Departments.

EARTH AND ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCES COURSES (EES)

130 Physical Geology without Laboratory (4)

Identical to EES 131 but with web-based assignments in lieu of a formal laboratory. Intended for those interested in learning about geology but who do not wish to take a lab, especially those pursuing teaching certification. Students intending to major in EES should take EES 131. Offered each fall.

131 Physical Geology with Laboratory (4) L

Investigates the materials and processes that characterize the interior of our dynamic and ever-changing planet. Topics include rocks and minerals, volcanism, earthquakes, the origin of mountains, the vastness of geologic time, and the unifying theory of plate tectonics. Intended for those seeking laboratory general studies credit and/or those interested in pursuing a major in EES. Offered each fall semester and occasional spring semesters.

132 Environmental Geology without Laboratory (4)

Identical to EES 133 but with web-based assignments in lieu of a formal laboratory. Intended for those interested in learning about environmental geology but who do not wish to take a lab, especially those pursuing teaching certification. Students intending to major in EES should take EES 133. Offered each spring.

133 Environmental Geology with Laboratory (4) L

Investigates the interaction between people and the earth. Acquaints students with issues surrounding the origin, distribution, and exploitation of water, mineral, and energy resources. Natural hazards and their mitigation and issues surrounding Earth's climate are investigated. Intended for those seeking laboratory general studies credit and/or those interested in pursuing a major in EES. Offered each spring.

200 Oceanography (4) L

Explores the geology of the ocean basins and the physical and chemical nature of seawater. Topics studied include ocean waves, tides, and currents. Links between the oceans and the atmosphere are explored with special emphasis on the effect of oceans on climate, El Nino, and climate change. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Designed for science and non-science majors. Prerequisite or corequisite: math placement level H, A, or B, or MATH 104. Offered each fall.

210 Meteorology (4) L

An introduction to the atmosphere and the science behind weather phenomena such as clouds, hurricanes, and tornadoes. Students practice weather forecasting, use meteorological instrumentation, and analyze global meteorological datasets. Designed for science and non-science majors. Prerequisite or corequisite: math placement level H, A, or B, or MATH 104. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Offered each spring.

250 Field Experiences in Earth and Environmental Sciences (2 or 4)

Provides students with an intensive field experience in selected habitats as they conduct studies to examine various geological sites and sample particular habitats. May be repeated for credit as topics change. Does not fulfill the Natural Science requirement for Latin honors. Lab fee. Prerequisite: consent. Offered in selected Winter Sessions or summers on demand.

270 Environmental Chemistry (4)

An exploration of the earth system and human perturbations to that system from a chemical perspective. Topics covered include ozone depletion, persistent organic pollutants, wastewater treatment, and toxicity of environmental contaminants. Laboratory exercises give students experience in environmental sampling and analysis. Prerequisites: CHEM 120. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Identical to CHEM 270. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

300 Introduction to Geographic Information Systems (4)

Introduces the computer-literate student to the underlying theory and practical applications of Geographic Information System (GIS) technology. Lectures are interwoven with hands-on computer exercises that illustrate the principles, develop technical competence, and demonstrate the versatility of GIS. Individualized projects reinforce concepts and help students acquire the knowledge and confidence required to use GIS outside the classroom. Does not fulfill any requirements for Latin honors. Prerequisites: math placement level H, A, or B, and junior/senior status, or MATH 104, or consent. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

305 Teaching Experience (1)

Qualified students assist physics instructors in the teaching of physics courses and laboratories. May be repeated for credit, but students may apply no more than 4 semester hours toward graduation. Prerequisite: Consent. Offered every semester.

316 General Ecology (4) W

A study of the interrelationships between organisms and their environment. Topics will range from the individual level to the global scale, including both basic and applied ecological topics. Prerequisites: BIO 130, successful completion of ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, and sophomore status or higher. Identical to BIO 316.

320 Energy and the Environment (4)

An introduction to the fundamental physical concepts underlying energy, its conversion, and its impact on the environment. Topics include fossil fuels, nuclear-fueled power plants, renewable forms of energy, pollution, and energy conversion. Prerequisite: math placement level H or A, or MATH 135. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

330 Advanced Topics in Geology (4)

An in-depth study of some aspect of geology. Topics may include structure and evolution of mountain belts, paleontology, earth materials, and sedimentology. May be taken multiple times for credit as topic varies. Prerequisite: EES 131. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

340 Climatology (4) W

An examination of the earth's climate system and the science of climate change. Topics include the dynamics and feedbacks of the climate system, ocean and biosphere influences on climate, reconstruction of past climate, predications of future climate, and human influences on global and regional weather patterns. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, and EES 200 or EES 210. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

375 Topics In Tropical Biology (4)

An intensive field experience in neotropical ecosystems (rainforests, coral reefs, mangroves, caves, etc.). Descriptive studies of local flora and fauna will be combined with an in-depth investigation of a topic of interest. Field activities will include moderately strenuous exercise under a variety of weather conditions. Destinations may include Belize, Costa Rica, Trinidad, or other tropical sites. Course fee required. Identical to BIO 375. Prerequisite: BIO 130 and sophomore status or higher, and consent. Offered in select winter sessions.

393 Scanning Electron Microscopy (SEM) (2)

Introduces the essentials and broad research applications of SEM. Topics include the preparation of biological and non-biological specimens, the use of secondary and backscattered electrons for imaging, and the operation of SEM in high vacuum and variable pressure modes. Hands-on training and independent operation of the SEM are mandatory. Identical to BIO 393. Prerequisites: Sophomore status and consent. Offered in selected terms.

394 Energy Dispersive Spectrometry (2)

Explores the applications of Energy Dispersive X-ray Spectroscopy (EDS) in determining the chemical composition of specimens. Topics include sample preparation, specimen-beam interactions, and gun alignment procedures useful for generation and collection of x-rays in high vacuum and variable pressure. Hands-on training of the SEM and EDS system are emphasized. Prerequisites: BIO or EES 393 and consent. Offered in select terms.

400 Scanning Electron Microscopy (SEM) (4)

Introduces the broad research applications of SEM. Topics include sample preparation, critical point drying, sputter coating, imaging, and x-ray microanalysis. Includes weekly hands-on training with the SEM and completion of an independent research project. Identical to BIO 400. Prerequisites: junior/senior status and consent. Offered in select terms.

410 Physical Hydrology (4)

An introductory class covering the hydrologic cycle including groundwater, precipitation, surface water, the vadose zone, and coastal hydrology. Topics include flow to wells, runoff processes, floods, capillarity, unsaturated flow, saltwater intrusion and effect of sea level changes. Laboratory and field exercises will illustrate aspects of the hydrological cycle. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours a week. Prerequisites: EES 132 or EES 133 and math placement H or A, or Math 135 (C- or higher.) Offered spring of even-numbered years.

425 The Age of Oil (4)

Explores all aspects of oil: its chemistry and origin; how we find it and turn it into myriad products; the influence that cheap, abundant oil has had on our society; and its role in politics and war. Environmental effects and the questions about the future supply will also be considered. Prerequisites: senior status or consent. Offered when circumstances permit.

450 Biogeochemistry (4)

Explores the connections among the atmosphere, hydrosphere, lithosphere, and biosphere through exploration of global cycling of nutrients and pollutants. Students investigate these biogeochemical cycles through analysis of primary research articles, field measurements, chemical analysis, and a self-designed research project. Prerequisites: senior status and any 200 level Chemistry course. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Identical to CHEM 450. Offered each spring.

470 Internship in the Natural Sciences (2 or 4)

An intensive study of a specific field of science through an on-site field experience. Internships involve hands-on opportunities in the sciences that are relevant to the chosen site. Students may enroll for 2 or 4 semester hours in a given semester. A minimum of 80 hours devoted to the internship is expected for 2 semester hours, and a minimum of 160 hours is expected for 4 semester hours, but some placements may require more time. Students must coordinate their internship placement with the supervising faculty member at least two months prior to placement. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisites: junior/senior status and consent. Offered each semester and most Winter Sessions (2 semester hours only).

489 Research in the Natural Sciences (2 or 4)

Offers students the opportunity to conduct original scientific research in an area of interest. Students work closely with one or more members of the natural science faculty to develop and conduct a research project, then present their findings orally during the semester's undergraduate research symposium and as a formal research paper. Students are encouraged to present their findings at a conference. Prerequisite: junior/senior status and a major in the natural sciences, prior approval by the project advisor, and consent of the instructor. Students may enroll for 2 or 4 hours in a given semester. EDUCATION

DR. B. MALCOLM LIVELY, Director of the Education Program, Department Chair

DR. HILVE A. FIREK

DR. WILLIAM J. MCCONNELL

DR. JAYNE E. SULLIVAN

The mission of the Teacher Education Program is to prepare reflective, engaged teachers of good character who will adhere to the highest standards of professionalism, and who are willing to advance the cause of education and cultivate and inspire a love of learning in their students and in the communities where they teach.

This mission is driven by a conceptual framework based on the current research in teacher preparation, the needs of America's public schools, and the work of exemplary scholars and writers on the importance of character, the growth and worth of knowledge, the impact of global education, and in accordance with our United Methodist heritage. Graduates of the Teacher Education Program know they will be able to make a positive difference in the diverse classrooms of the 21st Century.

Unique features of the Teacher Education Program include a rigorous, comprehensive liberal arts education, early and multiple field experiences, strong mentoring by faculty and staff, and career assistance through the Career Development & Internship Program in both the undergraduate and graduate programs. The Teacher Education Program is reviewed periodically by the Virginia Department of Education and approved by the Virginia Board of Education. All endorsement programs fulfill the curricular requirements for initial licensure detailed in the Regulations Governing the Review and Approval of Education Programs in Virginia.

Departmental Policies

1. Students interested in becoming teachers must apply for admission to the Teacher Education Program and are urged to do so by their sophomore year. Application packets for the undergraduate and graduate programs are available from the Education Department, located in Pruden Hall, and on the Teacher Education Program's website
2. Students must maintain the required GPA in their major and a 2.8 GPA overall to obtain admission to, and maintain candidacy in, the Teacher Education Program. Candidates must complete all required education courses with a C or higher prior to the student teaching semester. Undergraduate candidates seeking licensure in elementary education preK-6 or special education: general curriculum K-12 also must complete all required CLSCE courses with a C- or higher prior to the student teaching semester. Candidates in all programs must pass all required licensure assessments prior to submitting placement requests for student teaching.
3. Education Candidates must maintain an electronic portfolio of their work in the Teacher Education Program.
4. The Teacher Education Program strives to prepare teachers who possess and demonstrate outstanding character, ethical behavior, and the professional dispositions found in successful teachers. Because the Director of the Education

Program must sign a verification form attesting to a Virginia licensure applicant's character and ethics, candidates must report ANY violation of the Virginia Wesleyan University Honor Code to full-time faculty immediately. Any Level I Honor Code violation will necessitate a meeting of the candidate, the Director of the Education Program, and the full-time Education faculty, during which remedial action will be developed and planned. Any Level II Honor Code violation will result in the candidate's immediate dismissal from the Teacher Education Program

5. Field experience requirements are regularly updated and detailed in the Clinical Experience Handbook available on the Program website. Candidates must meet required deadlines in order to participate in practica and student teaching experiences. With regard to student teaching, all candidates who desire spring semester placements must complete the Application for Student Teaching and submit passing scores on all professional licensure assessments no later than October 31 of the preceding year; candidates who desire fall semester placements must submit the Application and passing scores no later than March 15.

These requirements are not exhaustive and are subject to change. Detailed policies are available in the online Teacher Education Program Candidate Handbook accessible from the Program website. The Teacher Education Program is accredited and approved by the Virginia Board of Education and therefore must comply with all changes in regulations in a timely manner. Program faculty and staff will dutifully inform candidates of any changes, but ultimately it is each candidate's responsibility to be aware of changes to policies, licensure requirements, and University graduation requirements.

Elementary Education Program

It is recommended that students seeking elementary preK-6 licensure complete the Comprehensive Liberal Studies-Curricular Emphasis (CLSCE) major, along with the required general studies courses and the sequence of professional education courses. Careful coordination of these requirements is essential if the course of study is to be completed in four years. Candidates must earn a grade of C- or higher in each course in the CLSCE major. This program prepares successful candidates for licensure with an endorsement in elementary education preK-6.

Secondary Grades (6-12) and PreK-12 Education Programs

Beginning Fall 2017, students seeking licensure in a specific content area at the secondary (6-12) or PreK-12 level complete the appropriate VDOE-approved content area major, along with the required general studies courses and other graduation requirements, graduate, then matriculate into the 5th-Year BA/BS to MAEd Program in Secondary and PreK-12 Education to complete a one-year, set sequence of professional education coursework. Students may apply for admission to this program as early as their sophomore year, but no later than October 31 of the senior year, to ensure accurate advising. Secondary and PreK-12 candidates are required to complete COMM 222 to be admitted to the MAEd program and to fulfill VDOE requirements for licensure. Careful coordination of these requirements is essential if the course of study is to be completed in four years. The MAEd program prepares successful candidates for licensure with an endorsement in one of the following:

Secondary Grades 6-12: Biology, Chemistry, Earth Science, Mathematics, English, or History and Social Sciences.

PreK-12: Visual Arts, Theatre Arts, Music Education-Vocal/Choral; or Foreign Language: French, German, Spanish, or Latin.

EDUCATION COURSES (EDUC)

225 Characteristics of the Learner (4)

In today's information-based society, the ability to use and analyze the spoken and written word has become critically important. In recognition of this fact, the English Department offers students a range of courses in English language, writing, and literature, focusing on the development of skills in independent inquiry and analysis, training in literary and rhetorical traditions that deepen students' appreciation of language and literature, and preparation to become astute analysts of culture and sophisticated writers.

English courses teach the skills of critical thinking, writing, and research, as well as the historical and theoretical frameworks through which literature can be read. They are designed to help students read for pleasure and understanding, write with skill and grace, appreciate diverse cultures and values, understand the relationship between art and life, discover the liberating qualities of the imagination, and prepare themselves for careers that require skill with the English language. As such, courses in English are valuable not only to those students majoring in English, but also to any student, regardless of major, who plans to enter a professional field in the 21st century. English majors develop the skills and flexibility that are increasingly necessary in today's workplace. They prepare for a variety of careers in business, industry, and government, for teaching, writing, publishing, journalism, law, and ministry, and for graduate study in English and related fields.

Major Programs in English

Students interested in majoring in English should consult with a member of the English Department early on in their time at Virginia Wesleyan. They have several options to choose from, including focusing on literary study, concentrations in secondary education, creative writing, or professional writing, and the major in theatre and English, as outlined below.

English majors are expected to take ENG 289, Approaches to Literary Study, either in the spring of the freshman year or in the fall of the sophomore year, and before upper-level courses in the major. Majors are likewise expected to take ENG 311, Theory and Research, in the fall of the junior year. ENG 489, the senior capstone experience, includes an extensive independent research or creative writing project and a formal oral presentation before the department and invited Virginia Wesleyan community. It must be taken in the fall of the senior year, with required preliminary work in the spring of the junior year.

Internships for English Majors

Writing internships may be taken by English majors who have completed three English courses at Virginia Wesleyan. The internship must be approved by the student's advisor and the Department Chair and must be with an organization approved by the department. In the past few years, internships have been approved for such organizations as the Space and Naval Warfare Command, the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce, and the Virginia Aquarium and Marine Science Center.

ENGLISH COURSES (ENG)

001 Writing Review (2)

A workshop for students who would benefit from brushing up on their writing skills before taking ENG 105. Includes meetings with a supportive small group and weekly conferences with the instructor. Prerequisite: placement or consent. No academic credit is awarded for this course, but the course grade does count toward the course load and overall GPA as if it were a 2-semester hour course. Offered each semester.

105 The Art of Writing (4)

An argumentative writing course focused on critical thinking, reading, researching, and composing, with special attention to rhetorical techniques. Students will engage in the writing and revisions processes and will demonstrate knowledge of writing conventions. A grade of C or higher is required to satisfy the ENG 105 requirement. Prerequisite: placement. Prerequisite for enrollment during Winter Session or Summer Session 1: consent. Offered each semester.

107 Practical Grammar (1)

A course in practical grammar, usage, and mechanics covering the most important rules to follow when proofreading. Emphasizes application of skills to students' own writing. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

216 The Short Story (4) T

An introduction to the short story, focusing primarily on contemporary and innovative fiction by authors from diverse backgrounds. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered in selected semesters.

222 Teaching Grammar and Writing (4)

A survey of theoretical and practical approaches to teaching grammar, usage, and writing. Students observe and/or interview experienced elementary, secondary, or college-level teachers of writing and tutor one or more student writers on or off campus. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Does not fulfill General Studies "T" requirement. Offered each fall.

230 Environmental Literature and Ecological Reflection (4)

Students read and discuss influential works of environmental writing, and then travel to a field location where they engage in the practice of environmental writing through a series of reflective and creative writing exercises. A portfolio of student work is published via a course website. Field locations vary. May not be repeated for additional credit without special permission. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered in selected Winter and Summer Sessions.

232 Literature Into Film (4) A

An examination of the differences between literary and film narrative. Both popular fiction and classics are used in examining how plot, characterization, setting, spectacle, and other aspects of storytelling change depending on whether the medium is the written word, the stage, or the screen. Does not fulfill General Studies "T" requirement. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

242 Writing for Business and Organizations (4)

Covers skills needed to write various types of business and organizational communications. Emphasizes planning, drafting, and editing as well as developing a professional writing style to achieve results. Gives attention to global ethical issues concerning business and to intercultural communication. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, a "T" course, and sophomore status or above. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

248/348 Topics in Travel Writing (4)

An opportunity to study and participate in the diverse and popular genre of travel writing. Considers origins and evolution of the genre, theoretical frameworks, influences, and touchstone and contemporary texts. Students will research, produce, draft, and revise journals and travel essays. This course will include a study away component. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, or consent Offered in selected semesters.

250 Studies in Literature (4) T

Selected topics that approach literature from various generic, historical, or methodological perspectives. Versions of the course may include several different media, but the focus is always on literature. At least 20 pages of writing are required, including at least one documented essay. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each semester.

251 Diversity in American Literature (4) T

An opportunity to study—and to listen to—voices in American culture that have often been silenced or ignored. Focuses on ethnic groups such as Native American, African-American, Asian-American and Hispanic-American, but also includes people marginalized because of class, gender, or sexual orientation. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered spring of even numbered years.

A study of the fiction, non-fiction, and poetry of African-American authors from the 18th century to the present. Authors may include Phillis Wheatley, Frederick Douglass, Charles Chesnut, Langston Hughes, James Baldwin, Toni Morrison, and Octavia Butler, as well as new, young writers. Some attention is given to forms of expression other than literature. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered in selected semesters.

259 Literature of Mystery, Crime, and Noir (4) T

A study of the mystery genre and its offshoots, crime and noir. Focuses on seminal texts in the genre and contemporary reinterpretations of its formulas. Authors may include Raymond Chandler, Jim Thompson, Patricia Highsmith, Paul Auster, Sara Gran, James Ellroy, and Richard Price, among others. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered in selected semesters.

261 Woman Writers (4) T

A study of women and their writing. Focus shifts from semester to semester. Topics may include memoir, American writers, contemporary literature, or global perspectives. Students examine societal attitudes and customs and use literary and cultural theory to contemplate questions of gender. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered in selected semesters.

262 Introduction to LGBTQ Literature (4) T

An exploration of literary texts written by and about lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and queer writers with attention to historical and cultural contexts. Texts studied may include fiction, poetry, drama, essays and memoirs written primarily, but not exclusively, in the 20th and 21st centuries. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered in selected semesters.

263 World Literature I (4) T

A chronological survey of major literary works from Ancient Near Eastern Epic to the European Middle Ages. Emphasizes the close reading of ancient literature within its immediate cultural context and the analysis of this literature in well-argued papers. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Identical to CLAS 263. Offered in selected semesters.

264 World Literature II (4) T

A survey of major works in world literature from the Renaissance to the present day emphasizing texts outside the British and American traditions. Particular attention is given to texts that put themselves in dialogue with Ancient Near Eastern and Classical Greek and Roman literary traditions. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Identical to CLAS 264. Offered in selected semesters.

265 Love, Sex, and Marriage in Western Literature (4) T

A study of the history of the various ways through which we understand romantic love and to a lesser extent, sexuality, masculinity, femininity, and marriage, as they are represented in literature from the ancient Sumerians to the present; considerable attention is also given to art forms other than literature. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each semester.

266 Transatlantic Romanticism (4) T

An intensive exploration of the fertile cross-pollination between British Romantic writers, such as William Wordsworth and Samuel Taylor Coleridge, and American writers of the 19th century such as Henry David Thoreau, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Emily Dickinson, and Walt Whitman. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered in selected semesters.

A survey of major authors, works, and literary traditions from the beginning to the contemporary period. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered in selected semesters.

285 Contemporary American Literature (4) T

A study of major authors, works, and literary trends from the end of the 20th century to the present. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each spring.

286 Banned Books (4) T

An interdisciplinary exploration of banned books; the legal battles in U.S. history that created, supported, and ended censorship; and the literary, legal, aesthetic, and socio-political contexts that influenced both the artists and the changing conceptions of obscenity that marked their works as controversial. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Prerequisite for Winter Session: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and consent. Note: Students who receive credit for ENG 286 may not also receive credit for HIST 286. Offered in selected spring semesters and Winter Sessions.

287 Modern and Contemporary Literature (4) T

A survey of major authors, works, and literary trends from the beginning of the 20th century to the present. Emphasizes British and American literature, though attention may also be given to European, world, and postcolonial literature. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered in selected semesters.

289 Approaches to Literary Study (4) T

Introduces close reading, selected critical approaches, literary genres, periods of literary history, discipline-specific information literacy such as scholarly databases and online research, and conventions for citing literary works and criticism. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each semester.

298 Introductory Poetry Writing (4) A

A poetry writing workshop, with class discussions of student work and the work of established poets. Emphasizes experimentation and creative exercises as well as engagement with issues of craft and intensive reading of a broad range of poetry. Non-majors welcome. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each fall.

299 Introductory Fiction Writing (4)

An introductory-level workshop with class discussions of student work and established authors. Students study and experiment with the craft of fiction. They also analyze and write critically about fiction to help them understand their work more clearly. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each spring.

301 Topics in Earlier British Literature (4) W

304 Topics in World Literature (4) W

An in-depth study of some aspect of literature, especially texts outside the British and American traditions. May be repeated for credit as the topic varies. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and any "T" course. Offered each spring.

305 Postcolonial Literature (4) W

Introduces postcolonial literature and the historical forces and literary influences shaping writers from countries with a history of colonialism or writers who have migrated from formerly colonized countries. Course may focus on a selected religion, movement, tradition, or theme, and features Anglophone literature and, occasionally, works in translation. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and any "T" course. Offered each spring.

306 Ecopoetry (4) W

An in-depth exploration of the various ways in which contemporary poets and critics seek to understand past and present poetics as negotiating the often porous boundaries between the human and non-human in our experiences of the world. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and any "T" course or consent. Identical to ENVS 306. Offered in selected semesters.

310 Distinctive Voices in Contemporary American Poetry (4) W

A study of the many and varied voices in contemporary American poetry, especially selected works of poetry published since 1960. Authors studied include Jorie Graham, Harryette Mullen, Yusef Komunyakaa, and Adrienne Rich. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, one 200-level literature course, and junior status or consent. Offered spring even-numbered years.

311 Theory and Criticism (4)

A survey of key debates in the history of literary theory and criticism from Plato to the present, with an emphasis on contemporary approaches to interpretation and emerging directions in literary studies. Students also pursue research emphasizing methodological preparation for ENG 489, the senior English project. Prerequisites: a "T" course, junior/senior status, a declared English major, or consent. Offered each fall.

314 The English Language (4) W

A study of the English language from its origins to the present. Includes discussion of recent trends, dialect variation, and social and political issues relating to English today. Students write several papers, including an original research study on a topic of interest. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and junior status or consent. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

315 The Experience of Poetry (4)

An intensive introduction to poetry through examining the poem's relationship to universal human experiences. Students gain a thorough understanding of the elements of poetry and engage with literary criticism of poetry. They may also experiment with writing original poetry. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and a literature course designated "T"; second-semester sophomore status or above recommended. Offered in selected semesters.

317 Children's Literature (4)

An introduction to children's literature that presents a wide variety of texts and approaches to literature. Focuses on appreciating the texts as literature through the use of literary and cultural theories. Contemporary and canonical novels and picture books are discussed. Prerequisites: any "T" course and junior/senior status or consent. Offered each spring.

318 Adolescent Literature (4) W

An overview of adolescent literature. Literary and cultural theories are used to consider issues of ideology, identity, coming-of-age, gender, censorship, race, class, and ethnicity. Students examine many societal attitudes and issues and contemplate adolescence as well as the larger society. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, any "T" course and junior/senior status or consent. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

319 Feminist and Gender Theory (4) W

Examines contemporary arguments about the nature of women and men and the biological, social, and aesthetic categories of male, female, intersex, masculine, feminine, heterosexual, and trans gendered. Gender issues are studied in relation to historical and cross-cultural contexts, in relation to Western women's movements of the 19th and 20th centuries, and in relation to local and global issues affected by the politics of gender. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher; WGS/SOC 219, WGS 220, or ENG 311; or consent. Identical to SOC 319. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

321 Introduction to Linguistics (4)

An introduction to the way language works. Includes several main areas of linguistic study: phonetics, phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics, and language acquisition, variation, and change. Students conduct an original research study on a topic of interest. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and junior/senior status or consent. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

327 The British Novel (4) W

A study of the British novel from the 18th century to the present, with emphasis on its 18th and 19th century developments. Considers theories of the novel in relation to representative texts in their literary, historical, social, national, and international contexts. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, any "T" course and junior status or consent. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

333 Hybrid Prose (4) W

A study of hybrid forms in fiction. Students examine texts in which formal concerns dominate and in which typical distinctions between fiction and other mediums such as poetry, essay, memoir, and the fine arts, break down. Students write both critical and creative work that engages hybrid prose. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and a "T" course or consent. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

336 Spenser and Milton (4) W

A study of England's two greatest epics, The Faerie Queene and Paradise Lost. Includes discussion of the epic tradition, Christian theology, Renaissance humanism, the nature of masculinity and femininity, armed combat with dragons, forbidden picnics, and many others in two of the Western traditions most varied, inclusive, and interesting works of art. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and junior status or consent. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

342 Peer Tutoring—Writing Center (1)

Peer writing tutors help other students understand their writing problems and improve their skills. They work three hours per week on an arranged schedule and are trained, supervised, and evaluated by the Director of the Writing Center. Prerequisites: junior status, ENG 105 with a grade of B or higher, recommendation of an English faculty member and consent of the Writing Center director. Offered each semester.

344 Practicum in Teaching English (2)

Selected students work closely with faculty members in the teaching of ENG 105 and other courses. Students gain experience in the various aspects of teaching grammar, composition, and literature. Prerequisite: consent. Offered on demand.

Authors include Cather, Eliot, Faulkner, Fitzgerald, Hemingway, Pound, Stein, Stevens, and Williams. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and a "T" course. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

374 The Postmodern (4) W

Seminar exploring the variety of texts that have been identified as "postmodern" and the debates that continue to surround that term. Topics include postmodernism's engagement with modernism, race, gender, technology, and economics. Authors include Pynchon, Vonnegut, Reed, Acker and DeLillo. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and a "T" course. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

375 Africana Literature (4) W

Seminar focusing on selected topics in African-American and literature of African diaspora, including works from the Caribbean, South America, Europe and other locations where blacks dispersed from Africa. Some topics may give consideration to forms of expression other than literature. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and any "T" course. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

378 The American Novel (4) W

A study of the development of the American novel from the mid-19th century to the present day. Explores historical context and theories of the novel. Includes American classics as well as lesser-known works. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and a "T" course. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

385 American Protest Literature (4) W

Covers the diverse tradition of American protest literature, focusing in particular on texts responding to racial, gender-based, and class-based oppressions. Explores the aesthetic and literary traditions of each text, as well as its historical and cultural contexts. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and a "T" course. Offered in selected semesters.

388 British Literary History (4)

A survey covering British literature from the medieval period to the twentieth century. Provides students with a sense of the historical breadth of British literature. It is highly recommended that students read the major works over the summer, as the reading list is substantial. Prerequisite: Any "T" course. Offered fall of odd years.

398 Advanced Poetry Writing Workshop (4) W

Advanced workshop with discussion of students' poems and the poetry and poetics of established authors; emphasizes craft, the creative process, and aesthetic evaluation of discussed works. Students complete a sequence of thematically related poems in addition to other assignments. Non-majors welcome. May be repeated twice for credit. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, a 200-level literature course, and junior status or consent. Offered each spring.

399 Advanced Fiction Writing (4)

An advanced-level workshop in the writing of fiction with class discussions of student work as well as the work of established authors. Students work on a collection of short stories with an aim towards publication. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and a "T" course. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

410 Environmental Writings (4) I,W

A study of the important environmental writings and how they have shaped our understanding of the relationship between humans and nature. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and junior/senior status. Identical to ENVS 410 Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

472 Senior Integrative Seminar (4) I,W

An in-depth study of some aspect of literature or literary theory. This course is an S.I.E., so the topic and its treatment have a strong interdisciplinary component. May be repeated as the topic varies. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and junior status or consent. Offered intermittently.

483 English Internship (4)

A required part of the Professional Writing track and optional for all other English majors. Provides practical field experience at a professional setting related to the student's individual interests. Prerequisite: 20 hours of English or consent. Offered on demand.

489 Senior Thesis Workshop (4) W

Writing workshop in which students present the results of their independent research for a capstone project on a topic of their choice, which may also incorporate service learning and field work. May satisfy four hours of the Latin honors research requirement. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and consent. Offered each fall.

ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

DR. JOSH A. WEINSTEIN (English), Program Chair
 DR. STEVEN M. EMMANUEL (Philosophy)
 DR. WILLIAM A. GIBSON (Political Science)
 DR. J. CHRISTOPHER HALEY (Earth and Environmental Sciences)
 DR. LAWRENCE D. HULTGREN (Philosophy)
 DR. ELIZABETH MALCOLM (Earth and Environmental Sciences)
 DR. MAYNARD H. SCHAUS (Biology)

The environmental studies major is designed to teach students how to understand their physical and social environments as the intersection of a variety of overlapping forces, including constraints of biology and climate, as well as the influence of law and public policy, literature and philosophy. The major prepares students for a variety of careers in such diverse fields as law, public policy, scientific research, environmental literature, and teaching. As the major draws upon courses from across all three academic schools of the university, the skills and knowledge imparted to students are correspondingly broad, yet centered around an abiding concern with the environment.

In addition to practicing scientific, social science, and humanities approaches to the study of the environment, students will learn to understand the interrelationships among science, society, technology, culture, and nature. Through an interdisciplinary approach, the major prepares students to recognize and address such challenges as resource depletion, habitat loss, environmental degradation, pollution, and loss of biodiversity, with the ultimate goal of fostering a sustainable human society.

ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES COURSES (ENVS)

106 Humans, the Environment, and Sustainability (4) S

Examines the interactions between our society and the environment, with the goal of achieving sustainability. Topics include society's energy and water requirements, biodiversity conservation, food production, urban planning, sustainable development, and other current topics. Although the course emphasis is a social systems perspective, environmental issues necessitate an interdisciplinary approach. Offered on demand.

283 Seminar in Alaska (4)

The natural laboratory of SE Alaska, together with collaborations with local experts and native elders, provides opportunities for students to gain hands-on experience with environmental issues. Emphasis will be placed on understanding the complexity of environmental issues and the interdisciplinary nature of the search for appropriate solutions. May be repeated for credit as topics change. Course fee required. Offered selected summers.

304 Environmental Ethics (4) V

From ancient Sumer to the present, ecological realities have required human beings to reflect on their values and their responsibilities to nature. Students examine the relevance of philosophy to environmental questions and, in particular, explore the connection between the environment and ethics. Identical to PHIL 304.

306 Ecopoetry (4)W

An in-depth exploration of the various ways in which contemporary poets and critics seek to understand past and present poetics as negotiating the often porous boundaries between the human and non-human in our experiences of the world. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and any "T" course or consent. Identical to ENG 306. Offered in selected semesters.

326 Environmental Policy Analysis (4)S,W

Examines environmental politics and policy by studying a set of substantive environmental policy issues to establish the issue context, define the policy problems, and evaluate alternative solutions. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Identical to POLS 326. Offered each semester.

410 Environmental Writings (4)I,W

A study of the important environmental writings and how they have shaped our understanding of the relationship between humans and nature. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and junior/senior status. Identical to ENG 410. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

444 Communicating Ocean Science to Informal Audiences (COSIA) (4)

Helps students improve their ability to communicate scientific knowledge through presenting science activities in a museum setting. The course will combine instruction in inquiry based science teaching methods with six weeks of supervised teaching at the Virginia Aquarium, plus the preparation of an additional informal environmental education project. Prerequisites: Students must have completed a lab science course (L), and have junior or senior status. It is highly recommended that they have taken a 300/400-level course in the natural sciences and/or a 300/400-level course in ENVS or EDUC, because this course will require an understanding of advanced scientific concepts and the effective dissemination of that knowledge to a lay audience. Offered each semester.

470 Internship in Environmental Studies (2 or 4)

An intensive study of the environment through on-site field experience. Placements involve hands-on experiences such as education, grassroots activism, public policy, and habitat management. Students may enroll for 2 or 4 semester hours in a given semester. A minimum of 80 hours devoted to the internship is expected for 2 semester hours, and a minimum of 160 hours is expected for 4 semester hours, but some placements may require more time. Students must coordinate their internship placement with the supervising faculty member at least two months prior to placement. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisites: junior/senior status and consent. Offered each semester and most Winter Sessions (2 semester hours only).

DR. REBECCA HOOKER, Director

In addition to inviting students to pursue a major field of interest, a liberal arts education emphasizes the pursuit of broad knowledge and intellectual and imaginative capacities that enable students to approach any challenging issue with analytical precision, creative vision, and ethical and civic responsibility.

The First-Year Experience at Virginia Wesleyan initiates students into a community of learners. Through summer and fall orientation programs, students learn the ropes of residential and campus life and are introduced to the university's academic programs. Through the one-semester hour seminar, students work closely with a faculty member, peer advisors, and a small cohort of other new students to learn what it means to pursue a liberal arts education, connect to the university community, and build academic resourcefulness that will foster learning throughout their college years.

FIRST-YEAR EXPERIENCE COURSES (FYE)101 First-Year Experience (1)

Designed to help students engage and succeed both academically and socially in the Virginia Wesleyan community. Led by a faculty mentor, a small, close-knit group of new students engage in an array of activities and exercises that invite them to explore the nature of liberal education, connect to the campus community, and develop the personal resourcefulness that leads to college success. Required of freshman and transfer students entering with fewer than 12 semester hours. Offered each fall.

401 Peer Advising (1)

A leadership experience allowing experienced students to serve as mentors and teaching support for FYE 101. Does not fulfill any requirements for Latin honors. Prerequisites: sophomore status and consent. Offered each fall.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES AND LITERATURES

DR. ALAIN GABON, Department Chair
DR. DIANA E. RISK
DR. MAVEL Z. VELASCO
DR. SUSAN M. WANSINK

Virginia Wesleyan's programs in French Studies, German Studies, and Hispanic Studies are designed to prepare students for meaningful international and intercultural exchange in a competitive, globalized world. In keeping with the university's commitment to a liberal arts education, students pursuing one of these majors will acquire a multidisciplinary and comprehensive understanding of the target culture, its language, and its impact on the world at large. Each major provides communication skills in a foreign language and a strong knowledge base that will support a career in business, communications, political science, journalism, criminal justice, education, law, and many others.

FRENCH STUDIES

The French Studies major aims to develop in its students the skills, knowledge, attitudes, and values necessary for living and working in a French-speaking society with little or no dependence on English. Students attain language skills at the high-advanced level, as well as knowledge of French history, literature, and the arts, including cinema.

Courses are designed to help students understand contemporary French culture as compared to their own and deepen their appreciation of these differences. The major also prepares students for meaningful exchange in an increasingly complex, globalized, transnational, and multicultural world where interaction with non-English speaking people has become not just desirable, but unavoidable and where liberal arts graduates should have a sense of enlightened understanding of, appreciation for, and solidarity with other countries, nations, and peoples. The major prepares students for careers in education, diplomacy, business, communications, political science, and journalism, and for graduate study.

FRENCH STUDIES COURSES (FR)

111 Beginning French I (4)

An introduction to French as a spoken and written language. Emphasizes the development of oral and written skills and cultural awareness. Four classes each week. Offered each year.

HISTORY

DR. DANIEL S. MARGOLIES, Department Chair
 DR. RICHARD E. BOND
 DR. KATHLEEN B. CASEY
 DR. CLAYTON J. DREES
 DR. SARA A. SEWELL

Course offerings in history are intended to familiarize students with both the American and Western heritage, as well as with some aspects of the history of the non-Western world. The study of history is presented as a means of integrating college experiences and developing certain perceptual and analytical skills. Students are exposed to a broad range of modern historical methodologies, making connections between history and many other academic disciplines. The study of history is aimed at students who are motivated by diverse goals. It offers excellent preparation for careers in law, civil service, journalism, business, foreign service, museum work, and archives, and for graduate study, including law school.

The History Department offers a major in history and one in history and social science. The history major offers students a broad choice of courses that emphasize high-level analytical skills and historical inquiry. It introduces students to a wide range of methodologies, including oral history, intellectual history, social history, cultural history, and gender history. The major requirements, although flexible, are designed to ensure that all students will gain some knowledge of both U.S. and non-U.S. history beyond the introductory level. They also ensure that every student majoring in history will confront a diversity of historical interpretations and practice designing and conducting historical research.

The history and social science major is designed for students who plan to teach history and/or social studies at the secondary level. It meets all content requirements for teacher certification in social studies in Virginia. In addition to history, areas of study include government, civics, international studies, economics, and geography. This major also emphasizes historical interpretation and offers students opportunities to pursue independent historical research.

Applies advanced historical exploration of a variety of geographical, temporal, cultural, social, and political subjects in world history. Students focus on understanding how societies change over time, analyze primary documents in their historical context, and develop independent arguments based on analysis of primary sources. Courses may be repeated as topics change. Prerequisite: successful completion of ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher.

352 U.S. Women's History (4) H,W

Examines the history of women in the United States from the colonial period to the present. Focuses on how women's roles and ideas about femininity have changed over time in the context of the social, economic, political, and cultural development of the United States. Takes account of what American women have shared, as well as how they have differed across lines of class, race, ethnicity, and region. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and junior/senior status. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

353 History of Women in Europe Since 1700 (4) H,W

Explores the history of women in Europe from the 18th century to the present. Focuses on women's roles in society, both public and private. Examining women in the spaces they have historically occupied, students probe some of the central questions concerning the history of women in Europe: how did society define "woman," and why was she generally seen as the "other"? How did society construct women's roles, and to what extent did women contest traditional gender roles? How did industrialization shape women's lives? To what extent did women participate in political struggle, and how did their political goals and means of struggle vary from those of men? How did contemporaries view the female body? Why did some women oppose "emancipation", as defined by feminists? Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and sophomore/junior/senior status. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

360 Junior Research Seminar (4) W

Designed to provide history majors with skills for producing research within the discipline, culminating the following fall semester in HIST 460. Students begin the process of designing their research project, produce a historiographical review of their topic, and craft a research proposal for review and discussion. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, a declared major in history or history and social science and sophomore/junior/senior status. Offered each spring.

380 Dos Passos' USA (4) H

An intensive exploration of John Dos Passos' great trilogy, U.S.A.: The 42nd Parallel: 1919: The Big Money. Students read and discuss the books, explore and evaluate Dos Passos' innovative narrative and experimental styles, his political agenda and social critique, his understanding of the flow of American history, his enduring appeal, and his great utility to the student of American history. Using the books as a guide and a lodestar, they construct an understanding of the American experience before, during, and after the First World War and gain insight into the connections between literature and history and between art and memory. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

381 The South of Erskine Caldwell (4)

An intensive reading and discussion seminar which explores the tenor of early 20th century Southern life and culture through the fiction and non-fiction works of Erskine Caldwell, a much-overlooked genius of American letters. Caldwell stands alongside William Faulkner as one of the two most important interpreters of life, culture, and society in the South during the early 20th century. Covers rural Southern life, the race question in the South, radical Georgia politics, social change during the Great Depression, and the broader flow of events in American history between 1900 and 1945, along with other important topics. Prerequisite: sophomore/junior/senior status. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

385 Seminar in the History of Socialism, Communism, & Marxism in Europe (4) H

Explores the development of socialism in Europe from the late eighteenth century through today. Examines the theoretical origins of socialism in the late eighteenth century and the beginning of the nineteenth century. Includes an analysis of Marxism and Communism as developed by Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels in the mid-nineteenth century, as well as critical socialist thinkers after Marx, including August Bebel, Lenin, Rosa Luxemburg, and Geog Lukacs. Includes an analysis of socialist/communist feminism, aesthetics, literary theory, and home furnishing. Investigates the historical application of socialist theory to the political world from the mid-nineteenth century to the Russian Revolution, to the collapse of communist regimes in Eastern Europe in the 1990s. Prerequisite: sophomore/junior/senior status. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

415 Comparative Colonial Empires, 1500-1800 (4) H,W

Introduces students to the major topics and themes arising from the innumerable connections that existed between peoples who crisscrossed the Atlantic Ocean between 1500 and 1800. Students examine topics such as encounter, environment, migration, piracy, slavery, and revolution in Africa, Europe, North America, and South America. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

417 History of the Old South (4) H

An intensive study of life, politics, culture, economics, gender, and race in the American South between the Civil War. Topics include life in the Antebellum South; the experience of the frontier, mountain, Tidewater, piedmont, and Gulf Coast; the complex relationships among Black, White and Native Americans; the notion of Southern honor; the interplay of sectionalism, radicalism, Southern nationalism, and expansionism; and the experience of plantation life for master and slave. Students analyze an array of historiographical interpretations and schools of thought on the history of the Old South. Prerequisite: senior status or consent. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

418 History of the New South (4) H

An intensive study of life, politics, culture, economics, gender, and the race question in the American South between the end of Reconstruction and the present. Topics include the shifting legacies of the Civil War and of Reconstruction, the Jim Crow segregation system, New South ideology, the life and working experiences of Southerners, and globalization in the South. Students analyze an array of historiographical interpretations and schools of thought on the history, meaning, and memory of the New South. Prerequisites: 3 semester hours in history and senior status or consent.

425 Brother Can You Spare a Paintbrush The Arts Programs of the New Deal (4) I

Students use the creative projects and administrative documents available in online archives to pursue intensive research and analysis of the arts programs of the Works Progress Administration. They examine the cultural, social, and political significance of these projects in the context of one of the most dynamic and fascinating periods in modern American history. They also create New Deal-style art, individually and in groups, which is presented to the campus community at the end of the Winter Session. Prerequisite: senior status. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

426 European Heresy and the Witch-Hunt (4) I,W

An intensive examination of the varying themes and viewpoints historians grapple with in their study of religious dissent in Medieval and Early Modern Europe. Includes a formal research paper in a student-led seminar format. Prerequisite: senior status or consent. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

433 Globalization and Empire in American History (4) I

Traces and evaluates the development of systems of liberalized trade, cultural exchange, communication, and transportation known as globalization and the related American pursuit of empire and power in this capitalist world system. Topics include the legal, administrative, political, ideological, cultural, and military systems and strategies created over time by policymakers in the United States to shape and dominate an increasingly interconnected and interdependent world. Students analyze and dissect the different theoretical approaches developed by legal and foreign policy historians to explain the meaning of globalization and empire in American history. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

440 Seminar in American History (4) W

Intensive study of selected topics that vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit as designated topics change. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and sophomore/junior/senior status. Offered on demand.

450 Seminar in European History (4)

Intensive study of selected topics that vary from semester to semester. Prerequisite: senior status or consent. Offered on demand.

451 History of the Holocaust (4) I

Examines the Holocaust from a variety of perspectives based on the General Studies Frames of Reference. Topics include the history of anti-Semitism, the emergence of racial ideologies at the end of the 19th century, the conditions that contributed to the rise of the Nazi Party, and the memory of the Holocaust. Includes a class project that commemorates Kristalnacht on November 9, which develops students' historical knowledge, communication skills, and aesthetic sensibilities. Prerequisite: consent. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

460 Senior Thesis Seminar (4) W

A workshop in which senior history majors apply previous learning. Each student selects a historical problem, develops appropriate research methodology, and carries out the project under faculty supervision and in close contact with other members of the seminar. Students are encouraged to consider a variety of approaches to historical investigation, including oral history, quantification, and archival research. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, senior status, and HIST 360 or consent. Offered each fall.

489 Pop and Rock Music Seminar (4) I

Examines the history of Western popular music in the twentieth century. Situates pop and rock music in their socio-cultural contexts, investigating the nexus between socio-political developments and musical expression. Focuses on the interactions between different cultures, the development of international youth styles, music as political expression, and cultural imperialism. Prerequisites: junior or senior status and consent. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

HUMANITIES

HUMANITIES COURSES (HUM)

150 Service Learning in a Global Context (4) V

Students engage in service projects in communities that have been damaged by the effects of violence, poverty, and social injustice. They learn about the target community, engage in a service project that addresses the needs of that community, and reflect on the service experience. May be repeated for credit. Prerequisite: students should be prepared to travel abroad (have valid passports, etc.). Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

201 Travel in the Humanities (1 or 2)

A group travel experience to domestic or international location or locations guided by faculty. Students will have the opportunity to experience new locations and/or cultures and to reflect on their experiences. Emphasis on artistic and humanistic aspects of the location, but will incorporate a variety of experiences. May be repeated for credit. Offered in selected semesters.

231/431 A Tale of Two Cities (4) A, I*

An individualized travel and research course through which students experience and analyze the culture of two important cities, as represented in their museums, architecture, and historic sights, and in their living culture. The course is tailored to each student's research interests and includes components before, during, and after the trip. Prerequisite for 431: 75 semester hours. Offered in selected Winter Sessions. *HUM 231: (A); HUM 431: (I).

INDIVIDUALIZED STUDIES MAJOR

A student who has discovered a well-defined problem area or theme that cannot be addressed through Virginia Wesleyan's established major programs may develop an individualized major. Because this type of study requires considerable initiative and imagination, students pursuing this option must demonstrate preparedness by having completed at least 32 credit hours of college work with an overall GPA of at least 2.7. At least 16 semester hours must have been completed in residence.

Eligible students must identify an advisory board consisting of a faculty sponsor and two additional faculty members. The members of the advisory board must be familiar with the student's academic work or have expertise in the proposed area of study. In consultation with these faculty, the student will develop a comprehensive academic plan of study, to include coursework in at least two different departments/programs. The major must reflect between 40 and 48 semester hours of approved coursework, with at least 20 hours at the 300/400 level, including a senior thesis or capstone project. No more than two courses may count toward both the major and general studies requirements.

The proposal must be completed and submitted to the office of the Provost for approval before the student has completed 64 semester hours, which is typically before the end of the student's sophomore year. In unusual cases where a student can show progress already made toward the proposed major, the student may submit a proposal during the subsequent semester, but in no cases after the student has completed 80 or more semester hours. The deadline for the proposal is April 15 for a spring semester submission and November 15 for a fall semester submission. If the proposal is approved and completed, the student's transcript will describe the major as "Individualized Studies." The application form for the Individualized Studies Major can be found in the Registrar's Office.

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES COURSES (INST)

The Interdisciplinary Studies designation is used for courses that cannot be appropriately placed under a single, dual or triple course rubric. Faculty members proposing such courses must seek approval from all three schools before the courses can be approved by the Educational Programs Commission.

105 Effective Learning Strategies (2)

An introductory course in critical thinking, study strategies, goal setting, time management, and study skills and their relationship to academic success. Designed to help students develop strong academic skills. Offered each semester.

106 Analyzing and Understanding College Reading (2)

An introductory course in critical thinking as it relates to college reading success. Designed to help students develop their skills in these areas. Offered each semester.

108 Developing a Roadmap to Research (2)

Introduces students to the research process and helps them develop the information literacy skills needed to succeed in college and in life. Students learn how to determine the extent of information needed, use effective research strategies, and evaluate and communicate research results, citing sources responsibly. Prerequisite: Freshmen/sophomore status or consent. Offered in selected semesters.

111 Orientation Seminar for Non-Traditional Students (1)

Designed to help non-traditional students develop the academic skills needed to excel in their coursework. Emphasizes critical thinking. Offered each semester as needed.

114 Read, Research, Respond (4)

This course explores the intersections between reading, research and response, both generally and in specific disciplinary contexts. Students will go through the research process from determining purpose and selecting a topic to communicating research effectively. Through this process, students will explore topics and research practices in potential fields of interest. Offered each winter session.

123 Service Learning in Hampton Roads (1)

Raises civic consciousness by fostering engaged citizenship where students perform a week of direct community service. Orientation and preparation before the direct service, as well as a reflection journal, document student learning. May be repeated for credit. Identical to PORT 123. Offered each winter session.

124 Service Learning and Issues of Civic Engagement in Hampton Roads (4)

Students are introduced to a community-based project and investigate the issue involved through research, reading, and lecture, followed by a week of direct community service. Includes reflection, assessment, and consideration of broader contexts. May be repeated for credit. Identical to PORT 124. Offered each winter session.

126 Music and Folk Culture of the Southern Appalachians (1)

Introduces students to the music and folk culture of the Southern Appalachians, including Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, and Alabama. Emphasizes the unique pre-World War II styles of rural dance music, social and religious music, and early commercially recorded music, including the old-time string band, jug bands, clawhammer style of banjo playing, unaccompanied fiddling, shape note singing, and balladry. Students examine the history, development, and structure of these regional music styles and try playing the music themselves in an old-time string band or jug band. Offered in selected winter sessions.

161 Bees and Beekeeping (1)

An introduction to the history, technique, biology, and practices of apiculture and to the fundamentals and pleasures of keeping bees as either a hobby or a business. Covers the long history of beekeeping around the world, the various metaphorical and cultural meanings assigned to bees and beekeeping over time, the development of the Langstroth hive, and the theories behind the most modern hive management practices. Includes essentials such as the building of hives, supers, and frames; the capture of swarms; the installation of packaged bees; management of the hive throughout the seasons, queenening, and the harvesting of a honey crop. Also includes the basics of bee biology and hive organization, and methods of preventing disease and maintaining a healthy, productive colony. Offered in selected winter sessions.

202 The School and Society (4) S

A study of the historical, philosophical, and sociological foundations of public education in the United States. Topics include the foundations of instructional design based on assessment data, the legal status of teachers and students, including federal and state laws and regulations, the school as an organization/culture, and contemporary issues in education. Offered each semester.

203 Applied Technology for Innovative Instruction (4)

Students master educational technologies to enhance student learning in K-12 classrooms. Course includes best practices in online and blended learning environments. Teacher candidates meet Technology Standards for Instructional Personnel (TSIP) and grade-level and content-specific technology standards as outlined in the Virginia SOLs. Blended/hybrid course. Offered each semester.

303 Resident Community Leadership (1)

Resident Assistants (RAs) develop their skills as peer counselors and group leaders. RAs share their experiences through group discussions and structured processes. Enrollment is limited to current resident assistants. (Previously PSY 303). Pass/fail grading. Offered each semester.

305 Study Abroad Pre-Departure Seminar (1)

Offers students the opportunity to prepare for semester study abroad, focusing on the knowledge and skills necessary for a successful experience abroad. Students examine a host of intercultural and international issues important for preparation to studying and living abroad. Issues related to practical study abroad preparation are also covered, including academics abroad, health, safety, and finances. Prerequisite: acceptance into the Global Scholars Program. Offered every semester.

319 Internship Preparation (1)

Prepares students to undertake a professional internship. Students identify areas of expertise, skills, interests, and values; create professional materials; research employment fields, and develop skills to achieve academic and professional goals. Prerequisite: Sophomore Status. Offered each semester.

401 Study Abroad Re-Entry Seminar (1)

Offers students the opportunity to reflect on their semester study abroad experiences. Students explore the ways that study abroad has developed their personal, inter-personal, intellectual, and professional skills and knowledge. Special attention is devoted to examining cultural competencies and global understanding in light of students' study abroad experiences. Prerequisite: semester study abroad. Offered each semester.

470 Developments in Science and Technology (4) I,W

Explores the nature of scientific inquiry and the role of science and technology in our society by tracing the historical development and current state of several areas of science and technology. Considers the influence of culture, politics, religion, economics, and society on these developments and the impact of these developments on the society. Does not fulfill any requirements for Latin honors. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, junior/senior status, and one "L" course. Offered winter sessions of even-numbered years.

482 Issues in Education (4) I,W

Offers students the opportunity to develop a descriptive research study. The student chooses a topic, conducts a review of the related literature, designs the study, develops research questions, gathers and analyzes data, and reports the results. Does not fulfill divisional requirements for Latin honors but may fulfill research requirement for summa cum laude. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and junior/senior status. Offered each semester.

485 Selected Topics (1 to 4)

Provides opportunities to explore current topics, trends, and issues related to curriculum, methodology, and evaluation. Offered on demand.

INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

DR. LESLIE CAUGHELL, Program Chair

The International Studies major emphasizes an interdisciplinary approach that teaches students to think critically about international political, economic, cultural, and business processes and problems. The program contains a core of required courses, but offers students the opportunity to develop an individualized program in one of three concentration areas: international politics, international business, and international cultural studies. Classroom study is supplemented by real-life international experiences with internship or study abroad opportunities. Virginia Wesleyan University is located in the international port of Hampton Roads. Intergovernmental organizations, including the United Nations, have offices here, as do national intelligence, security, and military branches of the government; thus the area can offer students international intern experiences without leaving the region. Students prepare for careers in international work with governments, with non-government organizations, and in international business. The major consists of a minimum of ten courses and either an internship or study abroad. Students must demonstrate proficient in a foreign language.

Mathematics is at its heart the search for pattern or structure. It is an essential component of the liberal arts: A mathematician finds a structure and develops a vocabulary or theory for describing, exploring, and extending it further. Each course in mathematics engages students in the search and in the articulation of the consequences. The study of mathematics requires both creativity and rigorous, logical thinking. Mathematics courses are designed to meet two goals: (1) to introduce some of the most influential ideas and techniques in mathematics; and (2) to develop problem-solving ability by teaching students to combine creative mathematical searching with rigorous reasoning.

Computer science is a discipline involving the analysis, design, implementation, and maintenance of computer systems; it is a key component of a modern education. The computer science program includes programming and software design, algorithms, system architectures, operating systems, language theory, databases, and online information systems design. Computer science courses are designed to prepare students for a lifetime of learning that will enable them to move beyond current technology to meet the challenges of the future.

The Mathematics and Computer Science Department offers majors in mathematics and in computer science leading either to the B.A. degree or the B.S. degree. Each program provides a broad education in fundamentals and problem-solving strategies. The B.A. options offer basic majors in mathematics and computer science. The B.S. options are designed for students with an additional strong interest in science or engineering. Both options are appropriate for students who plan to pursue graduate study in the same or related fields. Minors in mathematics and in computer science complement majors in many fields, including biology, business, chemistry, and earth and environmental science. The department also offers courses to support secondary teacher certification in cooperation with the Education Department through the MAEd. The program meets all content requirements for effective high school teaching and for licensure in Virginia. Further, the department offers coursework for students seeking certification in elementary education.

The department supports the general studies curriculum by offering courses that meet the quantitative perspectives “Q” requirement. All “Q” courses carry a mathematics placement prerequisite. The math placement codes indicate levels of mathematics preparation for incoming students. A student’s application file, transcripts, and SAT or ACT scores form the basis for placement. The levels are coded by letters: H, A, B, C, D. Students may challenge their placements by contacting the department chair.

MATHEMATICS COURSES (MATH)

005 Algebraic Preliminaries (4)

Students develop basic computational skills and strengthen their understanding of fundamentals in preparation for courses that involve more difficult quantitative concepts. Students with placement level D must complete this course with a grade of C or higher before attempting MATH 104. Topics include operations on whole and signed numbers, fractions, decimals, exponents, variables, linear equations, and elementary problem solving. Traditional grading only. While students receive no credit for this course, the course grade does count toward their overall grade point average as if it were a 4 semester-hour course. Prerequisite: placement or consent. Offered each spring.

104 Algebra and its Applications (4) Q

Presents topics in algebra through traditional and applications-based methods. Topics include functions, exponents and scientific notation, linear, exponential, rational and quadratic functions and graphs, systems of equations, quadratic and linear inequalities. Prerequisite: placement level C, Math 005 with a grade of C or higher, or consent. Students must have a TI-83 or TI-84 graphing calculator. Offered each semester.

135 Calculus with Precalculus, Part I (4) Q

Students learn the basic tools of calculus, why they work, and how to apply them in various contexts. Symbolic, graphical, and numerical approaches are considered. Topics include limits, derivatives, and applications. Includes sufficient coverage of functions and trigonometry to support the study of calculus and of other sciences. The two-course sequence, MATH 135 and 136, is sufficient preparation for MATH 172 Calculus II. Prerequisite: placement level B, MATH 104 with a grade B or higher, or consent. Offered each fall.

136 Calculus with Precalculus, Part II (4) Q

A continuation of MATH 135. Topics include applications of derivatives, the Riemann integral, and the Fundamental Theorem of Calculus. Includes sufficient instruction in advanced algebraic techniques to support the study of calculus. Prerequisite: MATH 135 with a grade of C- or higher or consent. Offered each spring.

150 Topics in Modern Mathematics (4) Q

Course exposes students to areas of modern mathematics. Topics vary but may include voting theory, game theory, mathematics and art, elementary number theory, graph theory and scheduling problems, management science, and others. Focus is on critical thinking skills, communicating mathematics orally and in writing, and applications to other disciplines. Prerequisite: placement level A or B. Offered each semester.

171 Calculus I (4) Q

Students learn the basic tools of calculus, why they work, and how to apply them in various contexts. Calculus I develops the differential calculus through symbolic, graphical, and numerical approaches. Topics include differentiation of algebraic and transcendental functions, applications in modeling and optimization, and the Fundamental Theorem of calculus and an introduction to differential equations. Prerequisite: placement level A or consent. Offered each fall.

172 Calculus II (4) Q

A continuation of Calculus I. More advanced techniques are studied and used to solve quantitative problems in various contexts. Topics include integration techniques, applications of definite integration, polar coordinates, parametric equations and sequences and series. Prerequisite: MATH 136 or 171 with a grade of C- or higher or consent. Offered each semester.

189 Games and Decisions (4) Q

In this course, we use discrete mathematics (game theory, logic, probability) to model real-world situations involving decision making. Prerequisite: placement level H, A or B. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

205 Foundations of Logic and Proof (4) Q

Introduction to abstract mathematical thinking and logical reasoning skills needed in upper-level Math/CS courses. Topics include logic, argument, proofs, induction, sets, and abstract functions and relations. Emphasizes mathematical writing. Identical to CS 205. Prerequisite: MATH 172 or CS 212 with a grade of C or higher or consent. Recommended spring of sophomore year. Offered each spring.

210 Introductory Statistics (4) Q

Introduces students to learning from data. Topics include the basics of data production, data analysis, probability, Central Limit Theorem, and statistical inference. Statistical software is used for data management, calculation, and visualization. No previous knowledge of statistics is required. Students cannot receive credit for both MATH 210 and PSY 210. Prerequisites: sophomore status or higher. Placement level B or A or H, or MATH 104 with a grade of C- or higher. Not appropriate for first-year students. Students must have a TI-83 or TI-84 graphing calculator. Offered each semester.

217 Linear Algebra (4)

The study of vector spaces and linear equations in several variables. Topics include systems of linear equations, vector spaces, linear dependence of vectors, bases, dimension, linear transformations, matrices, determinants and applications. Prerequisite: MATH 172 (grade of C- or higher) or consent. Offered each fall.

273 Multivariable Calculus (4)

Topics include functions of several variables, curves, surfaces, partial differentiation, multiple integrals, and vector analysis. Prerequisites: MATH 172 (grade of C- or higher) or consent. Offered each spring.

274 Ordinary Differential Equations (4)

Explores the theory and applications of ordinary differential equations and their solutions. Topics include linear and non-linear first order equations, higher order linear equations, series solutions, systems of linear differential equations, Laplace transforms, and numerical methods. Prerequisite: MATH 172 (grade of C- or higher) or consent. Offered each fall.

300 Teaching Assistants' Program for Math (1)

Qualified students assist math instructors in teaching their classes. Enrollment is by invitation of the MATH/CS department. Although the course is useful for students seeking certification in secondary education, enrollment is not limited to them. A student may enroll more than once, but may apply no more than 3 semester hours earned in this manner toward graduation. May not be used to satisfy major or minor requirements in mathematics, although one semester of MATH 300 is required for secondary education certification. Offered each semester.

310 Statistical Models (4)

W

A course in applied data analysis. Emphasizes construction of models for authentic data sets. Statistical software is used extensively for analyzing real data sets from various contexts. Topics include parametric and non-parametric tests, simple and multiple regression, and ANOVA. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, MATH 172 with a grade C or higher and MATH 210 with a grade C or higher or consent. Offered spring of even numbered years.

316 Probability (4)

Approaches probability as a discipline with applications throughout mathematics and the sciences. Topics include classical and axiomatic probability, random variables, common distributions, density functions, expectation, conditional probability, independence, the Law of Large Numbers, and the Central Limit Theorem. Prerequisites: MATH 273 (grade of C- or higher) or consent. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

319 Algebraic Structures I (4)

An introduction to algebraic structures focusing on rings and fields. Topics include homomorphisms and isomorphisms, ring structure, equivalence classes, quotient structures and polynomial rings. Prerequisite: MATH/CS 205 (grade of C- or higher) and MATH 217 (grade of C- or higher). Offered each fall.

325 Theory of Elem Mathematics I (4)

Develops a professional knowledge of the mathematics generally taught in elementary schools (K-6). Part I focuses on number systems, arithmetic, number theory and algebraic concepts. Does not count as an elective for any mathematics major. Prerequisites: Any credit-bearing Mathematics course: MATH 150 is highly recommended. Junior/senior status and admission to the program for Elementary or Special Education Teacher Certification. Offered each spring.

326 Theory of Elem Mathematics II (4)

Develops a professional knowledge of the mathematics generally taught in elementary schools (K6). Part II focuses on geometry, probability and statistics. Does not count as an elective in any mathematics major. Prerequisites: MATH 325 (grade of C or higher). Offered each fall.

333 Number Theory (4)

W

An introduction to the study of the set of natural numbers. Topics may include linear congruence, greatest common divisor, Euler's totient function, Chinese Remainder Theorem, Fermat's Little Theorem, Wilson's Theorem, Legendre symbol, and quadratic reciprocity. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and MATH/CS 205 (grade of C- or higher) or consent. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

340 Modern Geometries (4)

Explores Euclidean and non-Euclidean geometries and the cultural impact of non-Euclidean geometries. Topics may include geodesics, plane geometry, non-Euclidean geometries, finite geometries, complex numbers, and geometric transformations. Prerequisites: MATH/CS 205 (grade of C- or higher), MATH 217 (grade of C- or higher), or consent. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

350 Numerical Methods (4)

Examines efficient methods used in solving numerical problems with the aid of a computer. Topics include floating point arithmetic, interpolation and approximation, integration, roots of non-linear equations, ordinary differential equations, and systems of linear equations. Prerequisites: MATH 172 (grade of C- or higher) and CS 112 (grade of C or higher), or consent. Identical to CS 350. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

410 Mathematical Models (4)

W

An introduction to mathematical models and sensitivity analysis. Emphasizes construction of models for real world applications in a variety of area. Mathematical software is used extensively for problem solving. Topics include optimization models, linear and discrete programming, dynamic models and probability models. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, MATH 217 and MATH 273 with grade of C- or better. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

419 Algebraic Structures II (4)

A continuation of Algebraic Structures I, focusing on groups, homomorphism theorems and Galois Theory. Prerequisite: MATH 319 (grade of C- or higher). Offered spring of even-numbered years.

470 Internship in Mathematics (2-4)

An intensive mathematics project conducted in a professional setting. Pass/Fail only. Prerequisites: junior/senior status, cumulative GPA of at least 2.5 and consent. Offered on demand.

471 Real Analysis (4)

A theoretical treatment of continuity and real-valued functions. Topics may include sequences, series, limits, the derivative and the integral. Prerequisite: MATH 319 (grade of C- or higher). Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

480 Advanced Topics in Mathematics (4)

Enables students to explore areas of advanced mathematics which are otherwise not included in the curriculum. Students may repeat the course for credit as the topic varies. Prerequisite: consent. Offered intermittently.

487 Mathematics Senior Seminar (1)

Students read and discuss current journal articles in mathematics. Topics vary and may include problem solving. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisites: declared mathematics major and senior status or consent. Offered each spring.

489 Research in Mathematics (2 or 4)

Offers students the opportunity to conduct original scientific research in an area of interest. Students work closely with one or more members of the natural science faculty to develop and conduct a research project, then present their findings orally during the semester's undergraduate research symposium and as a formal research paper. Students are encouraged to present their findings at a conference. Prerequisite: junior/senior status and a major in mathematics, prior approval by the project advisor, and consent of the instructor. Students may enroll for 2 or 4 hours in a given semester. May be repeated for a maximum total of 8 semester hours. Identical to BIO 489, CHEM 489, CS 489, and EES 489. Offered each semester and most Winter Sessions (2 semester hours only).

COMPUTER SCIENCE COURSES (CS)100 Computer Concepts and Applications (4)

Topics include basic concepts of computer hardware and software; the development of the computer, networks, and the Internet; programming logic; Web page development with HTML/CSS; application software such as word processing, spreadsheet, database, and presentation software; and social concerns associated with the widespread use of computers. Prerequisite: CS 112 or higher by consent only. Offered each spring.

110 Introduction to Programming with Visual BASIC (4) Q

An introductory programming course that uses Visual BASIC programming language. Topics include the program development process, structured programming, data types, assignment, selection, looping, subroutines, one-dimensional arrays, files, and random numbers. Prerequisite: placement level H, A, or B, or a grade of C- or higher in MATH 104, or consent. Students with credit for CS 112 or higher by consent only. Offered on demand.

112 Computer Programming I (4)

Java and C++ languages are introduced. Topics include the program development process, structured programming, data types, variables and expressions, input/output, assignment, selection, looping, functions, and arrays. Prerequisite: placement level H, A, or B, or a grade of B or higher in MATH 104, or consent. CS 110 or a high school programming class is strongly recommended. Offered each fall.

201 Intro to 3D Modeling/Printing (2)

Introduction to 3D modeling and printing. Several software packages are used to create and manipulate 3D models. Topics also include a survey of current applications of 3D printing, the mechanics of basic 3D printing technology, and factors involved in achieving a successful 3D print. Prerequisites: Sophomore status or higher. Placement level B or higher, or Math 104 (grade of C or higher). Offered on demand.

205 Foundations of Logic and Proof (4) Q

Introduction to abstract mathematical thinking and logical reasoning skills needed in upper-level Math/CS courses. Topics include logic, argument, proofs, induction, sets, and abstract functions and relations. Emphasizes mathematical writing. Identical to MATH 205. Prerequisite: MATH 172 or CS 212 with a grade of C or higher or consent. Recommended spring of sophomore year. Offered each spring.

212 Computer Programming II (4)

A continuation of CS 112. Topics include advanced programming design in user-defined data types, arrays, structures, pointers, array-based lists, binary searching, recursion, and introduction to object-oriented programming techniques. Prerequisite: CS 112 (grade of C or higher) or consent. Offered each spring.

310 Introduction to Computer Systems (4)

Introduces the basic concepts of computer organization and assembly language. Specific topics include CPU and memory organization, machine language, addressing techniques, macros, program segmentation and linkage, and assembler construction. Satisfies the oral competency requirement for computer science majors. Prerequisite: CS 212 (grade of C or higher) or consent. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

311 Data Structures (4)

An introduction to commonly used computer data structuring techniques. Topics include abstract data types, classes, queues, stacks, linked lists, algorithm analysis, sorting, searching, tree, and graph. Prerequisites: CS 212 (grade of C or higher) or consent. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

331 Systems Analysis and Design (4)

Introduces the concepts, principles, and stages of computer-based information systems analysis and design. Topics include the system development environment, project management, system requirements definition, interface and structure design, and system implementation and administration. Prerequisite: CS 212 (grade of C or higher) or consent. Offered on demand.

350 Numerical Methods (4)

Examines efficient methods used in solving numerical problems with the aid of a computer. Topics include floating point arithmetic, interpolation and approximation, integration, roots of non-linear equations, ordinary differential equations, and systems of linear equations. Prerequisites: MATH 172 (grade of C- or higher) and CS 112 (grade of C or higher), or consent. Identical to MATH 350. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

380 Programming Languages (4)

Introduces students to the historical development of programming languages and to the decisions involved in the design and implementation of such programming language features as elementary, structured, and user-defined data types, subprograms, sequence control, data control, and storage management. Selected features of several existing languages are examined in the context of these issues. Prerequisite: junior/senior status and CS 212 (grade of C or higher), or consent. Offered on demand.

430 Database Management Systems Design (4)

Emphasizes the concepts and structures necessary to design and implement database systems using a relational database management system. Various database management system architectures illustrating hierarchical, network, and relational models are discussed. Physical data storage techniques, file security, data integrity, and data normalization are also explored. Prerequisite: CS 212 (grade of C or higher) or consent. Offered on demand.

440 Operating Systems (4)

Introduces the principles of operating systems emphasizing intrasystem communication. Examines concepts and techniques necessary for understanding and designing these systems. Topics include I/O and interrupt structure, concurrent processes, process scheduling, and memory management and protection. Prerequisite: CS 212 (grade of C or higher) or consent. CS 310 is recommended. Offered on demand.

470 Internship in Computer Science (2-4)

An intensive Computer Science project conducted in a professional setting. Pass/Fail only. Prerequisites: junior/senior status, cumulative GPA of at least 2.5 and consent. Offered on demand.

480 Advanced Topics in Computer Science (4)

An in-depth study of an area of advanced computer science. Specific content varies according to the interests of students and the instructor. May be repeated for credit as the topic varies. Prerequisites: CS 212 (grade of C or higher) and consent. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

489 Research in Computer Science (2 or 4)

Offers students the opportunity to conduct original scientific research in an area of interest. Students work closely with one or more members of the natural science faculty to develop and conduct a research project, then present their findings orally during the semester's undergraduate research symposium and as a formal research paper. Students are encouraged to present their findings at a conference. Prerequisites: junior/senior status and a major in computer science, prior approval by the project advisor, and consent of the instructor. Students may enroll for 2 or 4 hours in a given semester. May be repeated for a maximum total of 8 semester hours. Identical to BIO 489, CHEM 489, EES 489, and MATH 489. Offered each semester and most Winter Sessions (2 semester hours only).

The Music Department offers students the opportunity to study music in a program that places the specific discipline of applied music study within the context of a liberal arts curriculum. All students have the opportunity to explore the creative process embodied in this art form and to investigate the manner in which music reflects historical trends and cultural patterns in society. The study of music provides individuals with personal fulfillment, enhances and complements everyday life, and creates an opportunity for students to discover and experience aesthetic beauty. Our program of study encourages all learners to appreciate as well as critically articulate their responses to this important part of our culture. Virginia Wesleyan offers majors in applied music, and applied music with endorsement in vocal music education, music in the liberal arts, as well as courses for the non-musician. Students may prepare for careers in private teaching, church music, music merchandising, arts management, music librarian ship, or for graduate study in music or the humanities.

Certificate Program in Music Technology and Sound Recording

Music and Technology are becoming increasingly integrated, and it is now essential for anyone interested in pursuing musical activities to be familiar with the tools and techniques of music technology. Music educators are expected to teach MIDI Sequencing and Digital Production classes at the middle and high school levels. Increasingly, both professional and amateur musicians find the affordability of sound recording equipment and editing software make it possible to create their own home recording studios.

This certificate will allow both music majors and non-music majors to augment their area of study by developing skills and experience in the field of music technology. Contact the Office of Enrollment Services for additional information.

Certificate Requirements: Music Technology and Sound Recording

Note: To be successful in this certificate, it is strongly suggested that students have a basic understanding of music theory and some degree of competency on the piano. Students who feel deficient in this capacity are encouraged to take MUS 101 or MUS 225 to prepare for the certificate coursework.

Certificate Program in Church Music

This certificate offers practical and theoretical knowledge for church music ministry career preparation, and has been recognized by the College Board for its excellence in programming. Prior experience in some aspect of church music, a strong desire to serve the Church, plus basic musicianship and keyboard skills are beneficial.

Certificate Requirements: Church Music

Three semester-length courses, which may be taken for college credit (MUS 310) or as continuing education units, provide a theoretical basis of study. These include: Sacred Music History, Directing Church Choirs, Hymnology and Choral Literature (or "Psalms, Hymns, and Spiritual Songs"). Optional courses can also be taken in Organ History and Design and Children's Choirs. In addition, during the course of study, students complete a 15-hour program of observation with a variety of area professional church musicians.

MUSIC COURSES (MUS)

100 Introduction to Listening (4) A

Offers a user-friendly introduction to the music of such great classical composers as Bach, Beethoven, and Mozart while including limited encounters with the musical expressions of popular culture. An ideal survey for non-musicians lacking musical knowledge and performance skills, the course also serves as a helpful introduction to the realm of classical music for those who are contemplating a music major. Films, recordings, lectures, web pages, and live concerts on campus and in the community provide opportunities to develop a deeper understanding and enjoyment of our musical heritage. Offered on demand.

101 Basic Musicianship (4) A

Fundamentals of music, including pitch and rhythmic notation. Students learn to interpret music notation by singing, playing the piano and percussion instruments. Students may not receive credit for MUS 101 if they have already taken MUS 102. Offered most winter sessions.

102 Basic Musicianship with Guitar (4) A

No previous musical experience is necessary, but basic fundamentals of music notation (pitch and rhythm) are taught. Students learn to make music from a written score using the guitar. Students may not receive credit for MUS 102 if they have already taken MUS 101. Offered on demand.

110 A World of Music (4) A

Students listen to music as it exists in the real world, exploring the diversity of the world's music to acquire a sense of what exists beyond their own experience. Students learn about American folk, religious, jazz, popular, and ethnic music, as well as some world music. The course concludes with a thorough overview of Western classical music. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

120 Music and the Brain (4) A

Listen to and discuss a variety of music and musical styles and their connection to the brain and our emotions. Investigate how we understand and appreciate the aesthetic values of various genres and periods of music. Develop basic musical skills and music literacy. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

201 Music & Art Around the World (4) A

Explores connections between music and art around the world. Cultural areas and historical periods explored will include West Africa, East Asia, European historical periods, Harlem Renaissance, and contemporary urban artistic expression. Class discussions will focus on how the arts reflect the sociocultural conditions of their time and place. Offered on demand.

213/313 Music History I (4) A,W*

A chronological study of music from its origins through the early 18th century. A research project and some analysis are required for MUS 313. Prerequisites: for MUS 213: MUS 110, 201, or consent; for MUS 313: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, MUS 110, 201 or consent. Offered fall of even-numbered years. *MUS 213: (A); MUS 313 (A,W).

214/314 Music History II (4) A,W*

A continuation of MUS 213/313 from the 18th century to the present. Prerequisite: for MUS 214: MUS 110, 201, 213/313, or consent; for MUS 314: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, MUS 110, 201, 213/313 or consent. Offered spring of odd-numbered years. *MUS 214 (A); MUS 314 (A,W).

225 Intermediate Musicianship I (4)

A study of music theory, sightsinging, and ear training as part of a program to develop complete musicianship. Music theory is the logical and systematic study of the rationality of music that eventually justifies and broadens natural musical instincts and intuitions. Sightsinging and ear training enhance the musician's ability to envision the sound of a musical composition from an examination of the printed score. Includes elementary harmony and analysis, modes, triads and inversions, melodic construction, and simple harmonization with primary and secondary triads. Prerequisite: ability to read music notation. Offered each spring.

226 Intermediate Musicianship II (4)

A study of music theory, sightsinging, and ear training are part of a program to develop complete musicianship. Music theory is the logical and systematic study of the rationality of music that eventually justifies and broadens natural musical instincts and intuitions. Sightsinging and ear training enhance the musician's ability to envision the sound of a musical composition from an examination of the printed score. Includes elementary harmony and analysis including modes, triads and inversions, melodic construction, and simple harmonization with primary and secondary triads. Prerequisite: ability to read music notation and a grade of C or higher in MUS 225. Offered each fall.

254 Principles of Music Technology (4) A

Introduces the core concepts of music technology and how to use them in creating, recording, and producing music. The course includes a discussion of the principles of sound, MIDI, audio editing/recording software, music notation software, and using music technology in performance. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

310 Topics in Sacred Music (4)

An in-depth study of some aspect of sacred music including, but not limited to, hymnology and sacred choral literature, sacred music history, and choral directing, all within the context of a variety of religious traditions. Offered each semester.

318 Great Works (4) A,W

A focused musical study of historically significant works curated within a particular topic (topics may include Popular Music, Symphonic Music, or Choral Music). Each class will also connect the music to its place in a larger historical context. This course may be repeated as topics change. Prerequisite: successful completion of ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each spring.

321 Conducting and Vocal Methods I (4)

Teaches basic conducting techniques. Introduces basic principles of healthy vocal production and how to practice and teach those skills. Includes conducting patterns, basic rehearsal technique, and score study. Prerequisite: MUS 226 and APMU 111 or equivalent. Offered each spring.

325 Advanced Musicianship I (4)

A continuation of MUS 225 and 226. Focuses on a wide range of musical styles from the Renaissance to the present. More complex chords and larger forms such as the fugue, rondo, theme and variations, and sonata are studied. Various strategies for analyzing musical compositions are investigated. Post-impressionist and serial composition techniques are included. Theoretical analysis and study are accompanied by parallel exercises in sightsinging and ear training. Prerequisite: MUS 226 with C or higher. Offered each spring.

326 Advanced Musicianship II (4)

A continuation of MUS 225 and 226. Focuses on a wide range of musical styles from the Renaissance to the present. More complex chords and larger forms such as the fugue, rondo, theme and variations, and sonata are studied. Various strategies to analyze musical compositions are investigated. Post-impressionist and serial composition techniques are included. Theoretical analysis and study are accompanied by parallel exercises in sightsinging and ear training. Prerequisite: MUS 325 with C or higher. Offered each spring.

336 Arts Management (4)

Essentials of arts management including organizational and audience development, fundraising, program planning, and public relations. Designed primarily for students in the performing and visual arts, this class will complement their training as artists, teachers, and practitioners, and lay the foundation for participation in arts organizations as leaders, participants or supporters. Offered each year.

350 Music from the Baroque Era (1600-1750) (4) A

A listening course exploring music from the Baroque. Students listen to works from this period in their entirety and discover how this music reflects the cultural history of the era. Works by Vivaldi, Couperin, Scarlatti, Handel, Bach, and others are included. Students have the opportunity to attend selected live performances as part of their course work. Offered on demand.

351 Music in the Classic Era (1750 to 1825) (4) A

A listening course exploring music from the Classic era. Students listen to works from this period in their entirety and discover how this music reflects the cultural history of the era. Works by Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven, and others are included. Students have the opportunity to attend selected live performances as part of their coursework. Offered on demand.

352 19th-Century Music (4) A

A listening course exploring music from the 19th century. Students listen to works from this period in their entirety and discover how this music reflects the cultural history of the era. Works by Beethoven, Schubert, the Schumanns (both Clara and Robert), Chopin, Liszt, Verdi, Berlioz, Brahms, and others are included. Students have the opportunity to attend selected live performances as part of their coursework. Offered on demand.

353 20th-Century Music (4) A

A listening course exploring music from the 20th century. Students listen to works from this period in their entirety and discover how this music reflects the cultural history of the era. Works by Debussy, Ravel, Puccini, Bartok, Stravinsky, Schoenberg, Ives, Copland, Varèse, Barber, Glass, Gorecki, Pärt, Zwilich, and others are included. Students have the opportunity to attend selected live performances as part of their coursework. Offered on demand.

354 Conducting and Vocal Methods II (4)

A continuation of the skills learned in MUS 321, teaching advanced conducting and rehearsal techniques. This course covers facets of vocal music education in Elementary, Middle and High School areas. This course also serves as preparation for the Praxis II Music Content Knowledge test. Prerequisite: MUS 321. Corequisite: APMU 111. Offered each spring.

355 Digital Music Workshop (4)

Develop an understanding of the strategies needed to create digital music in a variety of styles using computer software and MIDI sequencing. Prerequisite: MUS 254. Offered intermittently.

356 Sound Recording Workshop (4)

This course builds on skills developed in MUS 254 and gives students more advanced skills in recording, editing, mixing, and mastering music. As part of a final project students will be able to produce 20-30 minutes of recorded music using a variety of styles and techniques. Prerequisite MUS 254. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

401 Integrative Music Research (4) I

Integrate multiple academic Frames of Reference into a research and analysis based on music project. Students will spend the semester reviewing and responding to selected readings designed to review the methods that characterize four of the seven academic Frames of Reference integral to a complete education at Virginia Wesleyan University. Students will present a short oral presentation on each of four academic frames and will write a large research and analysis paper for the final. All Music majors are strongly encouraged to take this course the semester before they present their Senior Recital/Project. Offered intermittently.

480 Senior Project (2)

The culminating experience in the music major. Students present a formal recital or write an historical or critical thesis. Using music selected from each major historical period, they demonstrate their ability to apply knowledge gleaned from the study of music history and music theory to their interpretations or investigations of the chosen repertoire. Students electing to perform a recital take MUS 480 concurrently with the final semester of applied music study and receive 2 semester hours. Students writing a thesis receive 4 semester hours. Prerequisite: grades of C or higher in MUS 313 and 325. Prerequisites/corequisites: MUS 314 and 326.

APPLIED MUSIC COURSES (APMU)101 Percussion Ensemble (1) A

An exploration of music associated with the hand drums and preparation for group performances. Ensembles meet for 75 minutes weekly to develop ensemble performance skills. In addition, students are expected to practice their individual parts and participate in active focused listening assignments on a weekly basis. Offered on demand. *Four semester hours must be completed to fulfill the "Aesthetic" general studies requirement.

111 Wesleyan Choirs: Bravura (1) A*

Bravura is an open-enrollment choir that offers freshmen and non-majors a venue to sing quality choral music from a variety of styles and genres while they develop their skills as a singer and as a musician.

The choir performs once per semester and engages in service learning opportunities as part of their performances. No audition necessary.

113 Class Voice (2) A*

Offered in conjunction with APMU 211, Virginia Wesleyan Choral. Students study basic vocal techniques to develop the voice for both solo and choral use. Offered on demand. *Four semester hours must be completed to fulfill the “Aesthetic” general studies requirement.

121 Open Level Applied Music Lessons: 161 (Instrumental, Voice, Piano/Organ, Guitar, and Composition) (2) A*

No previous musical background needed. A serious commitment to learning musical literature and technique is required. Students may repeat this level for credit with no Jury required. Students intending to advance to the 200-level must perform a jury and earn a grade of C+ or higher. Applied music fee of $250. Students registered for Private Study Voice will also have a $150 fee for weekly accompanist session. Voice students must participate in Wesleyan Singers, APMU 111. *Four semester hours must be completed to fulfill the “Aesthetic” general studies requirement.

201 Jazz Ensemble (1) A*

An exploration of music associated with the jazz ensemble and preparation for group performances. Ensembles meet for 75 minutes weekly to develop ensemble performance skills. In addition, students are expected to practice their individual parts and participate in active focused listening assignments on a weekly basis. Offered each semester. *Four semester hours must be completed to fulfill the “Aesthetic” general studies requirement.

202 Orchestra (1) A*

An exploration of music associated with classical chamber ensembles and preparation for group performances. Ensemble will meet weekly to develop ensemble performance skills. In addition, students are expected to practice their individual parts and participate in active focused listening assignments on a weekly basis. Offered each semester. *Four semester hours must be completed to fulfill the “Aesthetic” general studies requirement.

211 Wesleyan Choirs: Camerata (1) A*

Camerata is an auditioned ensemble of 30-40 singers (freshmen-seniors) that sing repertoire from the standard choral canon, including major works with orchestral accompaniment. As the flagship ensemble of Virginia Wesleyan, this choir tours regularly. Students must be enrolled in APMU 111 or have already taken it for one year. Consent only.

212 Wesleyan Choirs: Vox Vera (1)

Vox Verum is the top chamber ensemble in the Virginia Wesleyan Choirs program for sophomores, juniors, and seniors. An auditioned mixed choir of 12-16 singers, the choir sings entirely unaccompanied music from a variety of styles and genres, including a capella, jazz, and contemporary music. This ensemble will participate in regional and national tours along with Camerata. Members of Vox Verum must pass an audition and sing in Camerata. Consent only. Offered each semester.

221 Lower Division Music Major Applied Lessons: 261 (Instrumental, Voice, Piano/Organ, Guitar, and Composition) (2) A*

Students who wish to enroll in the 200-level APMU lessons must perform a jury and successfully pass APMU 100 with a grade of C+ or higher. Applied music fee of $250. Students registered for Private Study Voice will also have a $150 fee for weekly accompanist session. Prerequisite: consent. *Four semester hours of APMU lessons must be completed to fulfill the “Aesthetic” general studies requirement.

230 Virginia Wesleyan Choral Tour (4) A

Discover the life changing experience of taking musical learning out of the classroom and into the community. Students meet for a two-week intensive rehearsal prior to leaving for a one-week tour. Corequisite: enrolled in the Spring session of Wesleyan Singers. Offered each Winter Session.

300 Chamber Music (2)

Students explore the body of chamber music written for their instrument and select and prepare a chamber music composition for performance with a professional ensemble. A weekly one-hour coaching session offers rehearsal strategies as well as discussion of musical ideas and interpretations. In addition, students prepare a listening journal that documents their listening experiences and generate an annotated bibliography of chamber music compositions for their instrument. Applied music fee of $250.

321 Upper Division Music Major Applied Lessons: 361 (Instrumental, Voice, Piano/Organ, Guitar, and Composition) (2) A*

Students who wish to enroll in the 300-level APMU lessons must successfully pass the Upper Division Barrier Jury. Applied music fee of $250. Students registered for Private Study Voice will also have a $150 fee for weekly accompanist session. Prerequisite: consent. *Four semester hours must be completed to fulfill the “Aesthetic” general studies requirement.

421 Senior Recital Preparation Applied Lessons: 461 (Instrumental, Voice, Piano/ Organ, Guitar, and Composition) (2) A

Students should only enroll in the 400-level APMU lessons if they have successfully completed two semesters of APMU lessons at the 300-level and are planning on performing a senior music recital this semester. Applied music fee of $250. Students registered for Private Study Voice will have a $150 fee for weekly accompanist session. Prerequisite: consent.

PHILOSOPHY

DR. PATRICK A. GOOLD, Department Chair
 DR. STEVEN M. EMMANUEL
 DR. LAWRENCE D. HULTGREN
 DR. R. CATHAL WOODS

The Greek word philosophia (“philosophy”) derives from the roots philein (“to love”) and Sophia (“wisdom”) and is commonly translated “love of wisdom.” For Socrates, and those who followed his example, the love of wisdom took the form of a disciplined reflection about human life and conduct. Convinced that intellectual and moral integrity go hand in hand, Socrates raised fundamental questions about the nature of justice, virtue, and the good life. Proceeding by careful analysis and rigorous dialectic, he sought a knowledge of reality on which to establish a firm foundation for making sound moral judgment. Though philosophical practice has taken many different forms over the centuries, the conception of philosophy as a process of critical inquiry aimed at a deeper understanding of self and world remains the dominant one. The study of philosophy promotes the development of analytical, critical, and interpretive abilities that are important for life in general. Properly pursued, philosophical study cultivates the appetite and capacity for self-examination and reflection, for the open exchange and debate of ideas, for responsible and intelligent participation in community affairs, and for lifelong learning.

Philosophy courses provide students with a coherent intellectual structure of study, while acquainting them with the broad diversity of ideas and approaches within the Western philosophical tradition and beyond. The curriculum covers significant periods and prominent figures in the history of intellectual thought, as well as the central subfields of philosophy and their distinctive problem sets. Though the department recognizes that a philosophy major is a valuable preparation for careers in many fields, its approach to teaching reflects a basic commitment to the idea that philosophy is best thought of as a practice and way of life.

PHILOSOPHY COURSES (PHIL)

101 Individual and Society (4) V

An introduction to philosophy as critical thinking and analysis through an examination of questions of human value(s). Students learn how to recognize and analyze the values by which they live, examine the issues of self and society, and develop a philosophical skill in seeing the basic values that influence these personal and social issues. Offered each fall.

102 Contemporary Moral Issues (4) V

Introduces the practice of moral reasoning through the study of representative moral theories and their application to controversial issues in contemporary life. Students develop the critical and analytical skills required for thinking clearly about moral problems and forming their own conclusions about them. Offered each spring.

105 Meaning, Happiness, and the Good Life (4) V

Examines key texts from philosophy and literature, East and West, on the meaning of life. Students attempt to grapple with questions such as, Can happiness be found in the fulfillment of our desires, or in their elimination, or in the worship and service of a universal being? Is a meaningful life a happy life? and What does the question “What is the meaning of life?” mean? Offered intermittently.

109 Critical Reasoning (4)

Argument analysis and diagramming, and evaluation of everyday reasoning patterns such as emotional appeals, appealing to sources, and basic logic. Supplemental topics may include conscious and unconscious thinking, advertisements, rhetorical techniques, biases, character traits of critical thinkers, and group reasoning. Offered each fall.

110 Perennial Questions (4)

V

A critical examination of several great issues that confront us in modern philosophical thought, including the question of the existence of God, the nature of ultimate reality, the sources of human knowledge, the principles of moral values, and the problems of aesthetic judgments. Offered each spring.

203 The Examined Life (4)

T

Approaches philosophy through the close reading and interpretation of Socratic dialogues. Engages the substance of the dialogues, the sort of knowledge Socrates seeks, how he searches for it, and why he thinks this search is necessary. Literary technique and the role of rhetoric in philosophical argument are considered. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered intermittently.

204 Philosophical Fiction (4)

T

What futures are opened and what foreclosed by choices we make now? What assumptions constrain our thinking about what is ultimately real, meaningful, just or good? A course of reading, discussing and writing about famous stories that explore different possibilities and imagine realms where different assumptions shape perceptions. May be repeated for credit as the topic varies. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered intermittently.

209 Methods of Logic (4)

Analysis and evaluation of argument along with an introduction to induction, correlation and causation, and to specific methods of argument evaluation such as categorical logic, propositional logic, truth tables, truth trees, and first-order logic. Background readings in the philosophy of logic and the psychology of reasoning. Offered each spring.

211 The Human Condition (4)

An introduction to philosophical inquiry through an examination of fundamental issues and arguments concerning the nature of human beings. What is distinctive about being human? Does human life have a special meaning, or is “meaning” simply an illusion we’ve created to comfort ourselves? Selected literary, scientific, and philosophic accounts of being human are studied and criticized.

212 Practical Ethics (4)

Explores the potential of moral reasoning as a tool for conflict resolution and consensus building. Through a series of practical exercises, students learn to use moral argumentation as a means of fostering constructive dialogue and mutual understanding. Students develop the ability to listen carefully, distinguish real from apparent disagreements, discover common ground, and find creative solutions to moral problems. Offered intermittently.

221/321 Ethics and Health Care (4)

V

Foregoing life-sustaining treatment, procurement of organs and tissue for transplantation, artificial reproduction, allocation of scarce health resources, AIDS: public health vs. private rights. Such questions of health care confront all of us at some time both as matters of individual concern and as issues of public policy. Students examine the ethical principles that should undergird decisions in health care and apply these principles to concrete cases. Offered each spring.

250 Topics in Philosophy (4)

A focused introduction to the practice of philosophy that concentrates on a single topic. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, or consent. Offered intermittently.

253/353 Social and Political Philosophy (4)

V

Other humans: can’t live with them, can’t live without them. This course surveys theoretical tools for understanding this dilemma and specific social issues. Topics include self and society, friendship and justice, authority and anarchism, democracy and other forms of government; issues such as identity politics, social change, and political rhetoric. Identical to PHIL 353. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

272/372 Beyond the Western Tradition (4)

V

We live in a world characterized by multiplicity, plurality, and difference. Students enter into frames of reference of people with differing experiences of, and assumptions about, the world. We are educated in this world to the degree that we are aware of our own boundedness, and that we become skilled in critically understanding and integrating the perspectives of others. Examines the beliefs of Native Americans, West Africans, Chinese thinkers, and philosophers of India. Offered each spring.

292/392 Alternative Futures (4)

Is there hope for human beings? Can we forecast futures as other than more of the same? What choices might we exercise in shaping futures? After initial reflections on the human prospect, students work in groups to conjecture sensibly and usefully about possible alternative futures. Topics include future shock, coping, population, resources, war, environment, and genetic engineering. Offered intermittently

304 Environmental Ethics (4) V

From ancient Sumer to the present, ecological realities have required human beings to reflect on their values and their responsibilities to nature. Students examine the relevance of philosophy to environmental questions and, in particular, explore the connection between the environment and ethics. Identical to ENVS 304.

310 Theory of Knowledge (4)

What is the basis of our knowledge about the world, other people, ourselves? Focusing on work done in the 20th century, students examine some recent theories about the nature of human knowledge, as well as the related concepts of truth, justification, and belief. Offered on demand.

315 Philosophy of Religion (4) V

What is religion? What makes a belief or practice religious? Is there a distinctively religious form of experience? What is the function of religious belief in the modern world? Prerequisite: sophomore status or consent. Previously PHIL 215.

316 Needs of the Soul (4) V

Investigates a model for political theory found in the writings of Simone Weil, Simone de Beauvoir, Hannah Arendt and Danielle Allen. History, religion, culture, and human nature are considered in order to formulate a politics that addresses the true needs of human beings. Prerequisite: one course in philosophy or consent. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

328 Buddhist Philosophy (4) V

Introduces the major themes in Buddhist philosophy. Readings and lectures are aimed at understanding the way Buddhist thinkers approach questions in ethics, epistemology, metaphysics, and philosophy of mind. Course readings are drawn from various canonical sources that record the teachings of the historical Buddha. These are supplemented by additional readings that discuss the development of these teachings in various schools of Buddhist thought. Special emphasis is placed on the Mahayana and Zen Buddhist traditions. Offered intermittently.

332 Ancient Greek Philosophy (4) W

An introduction to ancient Greek philosophy. Focuses on Socrates, Plato, and Aristotle; may also include the early scientific thinkers or “pre-Socratics,” who abandoned the supernatural and the Hellenistic schools, which conceived of philosophy as a way to find peace of mind. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and sophomore/junior/senior status. Freshman by consent. Offered each fall.

336 Early Modern Philosophy (4) H

An exploration of the momentous changes in philosophy occurring in the 17th Century that defined a new era in the life of European civilization. Key themes include the philosophical grounding of religious toleration and the emergence of a new scientific culture. Offered each spring.

338 19th-Century Philosophy (4)

Surveys major trends in post-Kantian European philosophy. Readings are drawn from the work of Fichte, Hegel, Marx, Kierkegaard, Nietzsche, and others. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

340 Twentieth Century Philosophy (4)

Surveys major trends in 20th-century philosophical thought, with special emphasis on developments in Anglo-American Philosophy. Important texts by pragmatists, ordinary language philosophers and conceptual analysts are read and considered in their historical context with the goal of gaining understanding of the purpose and value of philosophical analysis. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

350 Existential Thought (4) V

Intensive study of recent phenomenological investigation into human existence. Thinkers such as Kierkegaard, Nietzsche, Heidegger, Sartre, and Merleau-Ponty are discussed. Offered each fall.

400 Philosophy Seminar (4)

An in-depth study of the work of a single major philosopher or of a specific topic in philosophy. The figure or topic changes with each offering. Contact the department coordinator for the current selection. Offered intermittently.

480 Research in Philosophy (4) W

Capstone course for the philosophy major. Students conduct a research project of their own design, under faculty supervision, that culminates in an oral presentation, an extensive essay and a viva voce examination. Students must have completed most of the requirements for the major before taking this course. Consent Required. Offered on demand.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE

DR. DEBORAH E. OTIS

PHYSICAL SCIENCE COURSES (PHSC)

100 Introduction to Physical Science (4) L

Emphasizes the relevance of physical science in the everyday world and explores the connections between chemistry and physics. The laboratory component allows students to explore the principles of physics and chemistry using hands-on experiences. Topics include energy, electricity, magnetism, heat, work, light, the atom, chemical bonds, and chemical reactions. Intended for non-science majors. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours each week. Prerequisites: MATH placement H, A or B or MATH 104 with a grade of C- or higher. Offered each semester.

PHYSICS

DR. KATRINA HENRY, Department Chair

PHYSICS COURSES (PHYS)

141 Introduction to Astronomy (4) L

A survey of the history of astronomy; telescopes; the sun, planets, moon, meteors, and comets; the constellations; the nature of the stars; stellar evolution; white dwarfs, neutron stars, and black holes; the structure and evolution of the Milky Way; other galaxies, quasars; cosmology. Designed for non-science majors. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

221 University Physics I (4) L

A calculus-based introduction to kinematics, Newtonian dynamics, work and energy, gravitation, waves, fluid mechanics, kinetic theory, and thermodynamics. Prerequisite: Grade of C or better in MATH 136 or 171. Course fee of $50. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours. Offered each fall.

222 University Physics II (4) L

A continuation of PHYS 221. Topics include electric fields, circuit analysis, magnetism, geometrical and wave optics, relativity, and atomic structure. Prerequisite: PHYS 221 with a grade of C- or higher. Corequisite: MATH 172. Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours. Offered each spring.

305 Teaching Experience (1)

Qualified students assist physics instructors in the teaching of physics courses and laboratories. May be repeated for credit, but students may apply no more than 4 semester hours toward graduation. Prerequisite: Consent. Offered every semester.

489 Research in the Natural Sciences (2 or 4)

Offers students the opportunity to conduct original scientific research in an area of interest. Students work closely with one or more members of the natural science faculty to develop and conduct a research project, then present their findings orally during the semester's undergraduate research symposium and as a formal research paper. Students are encouraged to present their findings at a conference. Prerequisite: junior/senior status and a major in the natural sciences, prior approval by the project advisor, and consent of the instructor. Prerequisites: Junior or Senior standing, prior approval by project advisor, and permission of the instructor. Offered each semester and most Winter Sessions (2 semester hours only.)

Students of politics learn to examine and critically analyze political ideas, behavior, culture, institutions, and legal systems, while studying U.S. and foreign political systems, and international relations. They build on the foundational concepts studied in introductory courses and learn to develop strategies for exploring and making political choices about important political questions and issues. Faculty in the political science major utilize interdisciplinary frameworks in teaching political science, including economics, psychology, sociology, history and philosophy. Students graduating with a degree in political science are prepared for careers in government, non-profit organizations, private business, law, and international organizations, as well as preparing for effective citizen participation in the political process. In addition to fulfilling the core requirements, the major allows students to follow an interest track in Pre-Law.

POLITICAL SCIENCE COURSES (POLS)

103 Global Realities (4) S

Designed for students who want to begin learning about international relations. Begins with a broad overview of political, economic, and cultural patterns in today’s global environment; followed by an inventory, evaluation, and comparison of information sources about international affairs, including print, broadcast, and cable media, the Internet, and CD-ROM and simulation software. Concludes with one or more case studies of current global issues, such as international terrorism, the control of rogue states, denuclearizing warfare, international women's issues, international environmental problems, and the impact of global consumerism. Through these case studies, students learn how to identify key international problems, track them in the media, gather information about them, and develop and evaluate possible solutions. Offered each semester.

111 Introduction to Political Science (4) S

Introduces students to the fundamental concepts and issues in the study of politics. Primary emphasis is placed on ideologies, such as liberal democracy, conservatism, socialism, communism, fascism, nationalism, and on political institutions and behavior, including legislatures, executives, interest groups, political parties, political socialization, participation, the expression of political opinion, revolution, and types of political systems. These concepts and issues are considered from both behavioral and traditional perspectives. Offered each semester.

112 Introduction to American Government (4) S

Offers a citizen's guide to the American political system, providing a brief overview of the Founders' constitutional design, the federal system, and politics and policy-making in the presidency, bureaucracy, Congress, and the Supreme Court. Covers key judicial rulings on civil rights and liberties and national powers. Gives special attention to the electoral process, the media, and the ways that ordinary citizens can influence governmental policies. Offered each fall.

200 Topics in Political Science (4)

An examination of selected topics in Political Science. Offered on demand.

201 State and Local Politics and Government (4) S

Based on both theoretical and practical experiences in state and local government and politics. Explores the relationship between local, state, and federal systems. Features office holders and local officials as guest speakers. Offered each fall.

202 Politics and Film (4)

A use of film to explore basic concepts within political science. Topics include war and peace, democratic governance, and social justice. Offered on demand.

203 Politics and Literature (4) T

Provides a literary path to exploring the human experience and discovering the role politics plays in that experience. Through readings and discussion of classical utopian and dystopian novels, students explore arguments and concepts detailed in classic political philosophy. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

204 Introduction to Feminist Political Thought (4) V

Feminist theory has always had a political agenda: to improve the situation of women in society. It also has theoretical import, asking basic questions about personal identity and equality, about ethical obligations to others, about justice and fairness, and about the history of political theory. This course brings together both of these strands, focusing on feminist theory, feminist politics, and the contributions that feminist theory can make in thinking about politics in general. Offered on demand.

205 Introduction to Political Theory (4) V

Introduces students to the classic works of political philosophy. Readings address issues of justice, obligation, equality, the common good, human rights, the role of reason, aims of government, and the nature of politics. Students consider the power of ideas in political life. Offered each fall.

206 Introduction to Comparative Politics (4) S

An introduction to cross-national comparative analysis, with particular attention to social movements, democratization, globalization, and the relative political and economic autonomy of the countries examined. Country cases include Britain, Germany, India, Iran, Mexico, Nigeria, and the United States. Students engage in cross-country case-studies to compare and contrast major political and economic institutions, political culture, parties, and interest groups; and discuss class-based perspectives on political conflicts over wealth distribution and social justice. Offered each spring.

210 Introduction to International Relations (4) S

Drawing on both historical and contemporary experience, students study the behavioral and institutional features of the nation-state and its global environment in their political, military, economic, and cultural aspects. Main topics include power, foreign policy, diplomacy, international organization and law, arms control, and the global economy considered in the context of the post-Cold War world. Issues examined include overpopulation, food and energy scarcity, national and ethnic movements, economic development, environmental problems, and militarism. Offered each fall.

239 American Political Thought (4) V

Explores major ideas shaping American institutions of government and politics from the founding generation to the present. Evaluates the writings of many different individuals relating to such issues as slavery and race, capitalism and social justice, and feminist political theory. Readings include the Federalist Papers, selections from Democracy in America and works by Malcolm X, Dr. Martin Luther King, and Betty Friedan. Offered each spring.

240 Topics in International Organizations and Diplomacy (4)

Examines topics of contemporary relevance to the function of international organizations and diplomacy. Topics include diplomatic leadership, international terrorism, and refugee crises. Prerequisite: POLS 210. Offered on demand.

250 Introduction to International Political Economy (4) S

An overview of the political institutions and conflicts that structure our contemporary international economy. Readings and discussions examine major issues at the center of current political science research, policy debate, and popular political discourse. Postwar systems of international trade and finance, as well as divergent policy goals of states and societies of the North and South are examined. Offered each spring.

265 Research Methods (4) Q

Introduces the political science major to the methods of political research. Students learn how political scientists know what they know, and how they gain tools with which to explore, describe, explain, present, and debate this knowledge. Students actively experience every dimension of the research process as they plan, design, and carry out their own projects, then communicate their findings in written and oral formats. Daily classes include lecture and discussion of class readings, and individual student research. Prerequisite: Math placement H, B or A or Math 104 with grade of C- or higher. Offered each fall.

300 Topics in Comparative Politics (4)

Examines selected topics in comparative politics. Course may include Asian Pacific Rim, South Asia, Latin America, Contemporary Africa, or the Middle East and North Africa. May be repeated for credit as topics vary. Offered each semester.

302 Ethnicity and Politics: Latinos in America (4) S

A study of how Latinos have adapted to U.S. political ways in order to participate in U.S. politics and press their political agenda. Offered each fall.

303 Urban Politics (4)

Students examine scholarly perspectives on the evolution of political processes, institutions, the intergovernmental context, key actors and contemporary issues in urban politics such as urban sprawl and economic development. A major part of this class is a six-week simulation of a city government where students take roles of city councilors, lawyers, business leaders, and citizen activists in making important decisions about the city's future. Prerequisite: junior/senior status. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

307 The Presidency and the American Political System (4)

Examines the institutions and processes of American government in regard to the presidency. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

308 Elections in American Politics (4)

Examines the dynamics of the American elections system. Students explore theoretical literature that seeks to explain elections and their outcomes, and engage in practical activities associated with the running of electoral campaigns. Prerequisites: junior status or consent. Offered intermittently.

315 Politics in the Media (4)

Explores recurring themes in studies of the mass media, including the interplay between news producers, consumers, and politicians. Students will examine the role of mass media within a democracy, the media's effects on the citizens who consume it, and how the economic needs of news producers shapes their product. Prerequisites: POLS 111 or 112. Offered on demand.

318 Germany in a Changing World (4)

This study away course, taught for three weeks in Berlin, provides an introduction to German politics over the last 70 years. It relates the historical developments in Germany to international developments over the same time, focusing on political development of Berlin. Class discussions are complemented with excursions and guest lectures. Offered summer of even-numbered years.

321 Politics and Literature of Latin America (4)

Focuses on readings from the political writings of selected Latin American thinkers. Students analyze writings that range in time from the Spanish Conquest to the present, providing a historical overview of the development of the political thought in Latin America. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

323 Topics in Public Policy Analysis (4) S,W

Using policy analysis models students examine a set of substantive public policy issues to establish the issue context, define the policy problems, and evaluate alternative solutions. Topics may differ each semester and may include the environment, health care, crime, urban policy, poverty, and welfare. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered on demand.

326 Environmental Policy Analysis (4) S,W

Examines environmental politics and policy by studying a set of substantive environmental policy issues to establish the issue context, define the policy problems and evaluate alternative solutions. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Identical to ENVS 326. Offered each spring.

335 American Government (4) S

Acquaints students with the workings of our system of federal government. The Constitution, the presidency, Congress, the Supreme Court, political parties, and the regulatory agencies are treated as separate units of a unified focus upon our institutions of national government. Offered each fall.

337 American Legislative Process (4)

Examines the structure and function of law making in Congress and the state legislatures, including consideration of such topics as committees, representation, policy making, leadership, and interest group influence. Also examines the impact of Congress and state legislatures on vital issues of public policy ranging from foreign policy to urban policy, or from taxation to energy policy. The role of party politics and campaigns in the legislative process are also considered. Offered intermittently.

343 Public Administration (4) S

Reviews contemporary approaches to policy-making and decision-making techniques in light of the values represented in them and their promises for serving the public interest. Examines classic and modern theories of bureaucracy; the history, development, and philosophical assumptions of the science of administration; the structure and functioning of American federal, state, and local administration; the budget-making process; government regulations of business and society; and the major challenges facing governmental professionals in our time. Offered each spring.

344 European Union in World Politics (4) S

Examines the foreign policies of European countries, both individually and collectively through the European Union, toward one another, regional and intergovernmental organizations, and other regions of the world. Explores other issues related to Europe economic and political integration, including national identities, democratic accountability, the Union's expansion, U.S.-European relations, the European Constitution, Turkey's bid to join the Union, and immigration and Islam in Europe. Prerequisite: junior status or consent. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

345 International Law and Organizations (4)S

Introduces rules and institutions providing the context for global politics. Examines how international and non-governmental organizations attempt to establish and protect international standards of political behavior. Special focus is placed on the United Nations, equipping students for participation in the National Model United Nations in New York City. Prerequisite: consent. Offered each fall.

346 Model United Nations Workshop (1)

Provides further understanding of the operations of the United Nations, including the UN's bureaucratic structure, resolution writing, multilateral diplomacy, and specific issues in contemporary international politics. Guides students' preparation for and participation in the annual National Model United Nations conference. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisite: instructor consent. May be repeated for credit. Offered each spring.

347 Model United Nations (4)

Participation in the National Model UN Conference in New York City (NMUN) is the focus of this class. NMUN conferences replicate the rigorous process international learners must go through to find agreeable solutions to major problems in the world today. Prerequisite: consent. Fee required. May be repeated for credit. Offered each spring.

348 International Human Rights (4) S,W

Examines the practical and philosophical questions surrounding civil, political, social, and economic rights, self-determination, and minority rights. Explores the contemporary practice of human rights in policy-making and law, with special emphasis on the role of politics in their interpretation, implementation, and enforcement. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and junior status or consent. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

350 Immigration and Citizenship (4) S,W

Explores the causes and consequences of international migration, how governments regulate it, and how it transforms our ideas of citizenship. Migrants contribute to their native and adopted lands, but also exacerbate inequality, enflame nationalist sentiments, and carry with them values and attitudes that may threaten existing sociocultural and political orders. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

353 Globalization and Its Discontents (4) S

Studies the theoretical, political, economic, and institutional foundations and practices of free trade. Students develop case studies from Internet data on the issues and stakeholders in the globalization debate and the impact of their activities. Included among these are human rights, environmental, and labor groups; the World Bank; the World Trade Organization; and global corporation. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

355 Women, Power and Politics (4) S

Examines women in politics from an international perspective while answering the following questions: Why have some countries integrated women politically, while others have not? How do men and women differ politically, and how do these differences affect the political game? What policy issues dominate women's agendas? How do governments handle women's policy concerns? Prerequisite: junior/senior status or consent. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

371 Constitutional Law I: The Federal System (4)

An introduction to the American constitutional system. Examines the sources and allocation of powers among the three branches of the federal government, including the nature and extent of the Supreme Court's authority and the relationship between the federal and state governments. Prerequisite: junior/senior status or consent. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

372 Constitutional Law II: Substantive Rights (4)

An introduction to the protection of civil rights and civil liberties within the American constitutional system, including equal protection (race, gender and other forms of discrimination), privacy and personal autonomy, freedom of expression and association, and religious freedom. Prerequisite: junior/senior status or consent. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

373 Conflict Management (4) S,W

Examines conflict processes within and between organizations and alternative approaches to conflict management, drawing on the contributions of several disciplines and experience in organization, community, and labor dispute management. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Identical to MBE 373. Offered each fall.

422 Political Science Seminar Abroad (4-8) S

This course combines theoretical and empirical analysis with cultural immersion, by introducing students to the major political, economic, social, and foreign policy issues governing international relations. Prerequisite: consent. Travel course. Offered winter and summer on demand.

440 Seminar: American Foreign Policy (4)

Examines American foreign policy formation. Focuses first on the foreign policy process, then on case studies of specific foreign policy decisions in American history. Provides a framework for informed evaluation of American foreign policy. Prerequisite: junior/senior status or consent. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

497 Political Science Internship Preparation (1)

This course helps students to obtain internships, teaching them the skills necessary to succeed in a professional setting. Students will discuss the basic steps in the internship process, from early planning through completion. This course must precede enrollment in POLS 498: Political Science Internship Program. Offered each fall.

498 Political Science Internship Program (8-16)

Political science majors apply the knowledge and skills learned in their political science classes in a full-time, semester-long internship. The field experience may be in government agencies at the local, state, and federal levels; law, law enforcement, non-profits, political parties, social service or another setting. Prerequisite: POLS 497. Offered each spring.

499 Senior Seminar (4)

Required of all students wishing to graduate from Virginia Wesleyan with a major in political science. Team taught by members of the department. Topic varies each spring. Examples of seminars offered in the past are Democratization and Development, Politics and the Media, War and Peace in the Nuclear Age, Political Development and Changes in Latin America and Asia, and Images of Justice. Open to all students. May be repeated as topics vary. Prerequisite: consent. Offered each spring.

PORTFOLIO

DR. LAWRENCE D. HULTGREN, Director

PORTfolio is a selective four-year program that allows students to integrate their college education with off-campus experiential opportunities. The purpose of PORTfolio is to provide a curriculum through which students can build the foundation for the knowledge, attitudes, and skills that are necessary for life-long personal satisfaction, professional success and civic responsibility. By dissolving the wall separating academics from the world outside, it connects liberal learning with the surrounding community. Each student in the program maintains and continually updates an electronic portfolio that documents her/his four years at VWU.

Students apply and are accepted as new incoming freshmen. The program includes at least one specially designed seminar a year, an internship and Winter Session courses for externships and service learning. Completion of the program satisfies VWU's computer literacy and oral communications requirement as well as other General Studies requirements. The program is taken in addition to one's major.

PORTFOLIO COURSES (PORT)

121 Introduction to the PORTfolio Program: Self and Circumstance (4)

A time of self-exploration and discovery involving close work with faculty mentors and other PORTfolio students. Readings, off-campus explorations, and the development of an electronic portfolio assist students in clarifying their own reasons for coming to Virginia Wesleyan, their purposes while they are here, and the unique resources that they bring to the learning process. In addition, students discover their connections to the Chesapeake Bay environment and the international port of Hampton Roads and begin to use these unique resources to enrich their education. Prerequisite: admission to PORTfolio Program. Taken in the fall of the freshman year.

122 Liberal Arts Seminar (4)

What are the liberal arts, and why spend four good years studying them? In the U.S., the liberal arts are housed institutionally in colleges and the undergraduate programs of universities, so the questions may be rephrased as: What are colleges? What are they for? How do they try to accomplish their goals? These questions are approached in several ways. One is historical. How did colleges in general, and VWU in particular, get to be the way they are? Where do ideas of what it means to be liberally educated come from? A second is more philosophical. What does it mean to know something? How would you teach, given different answers to that question? Another is normative. What should colleges in general be doing? What kind of curriculum should we have at Virginia Wesleyan? Offered each spring.

123 Service Learning in Hampton Roads (1)

Raises civic consciousness by fostering engaged citizenship where students perform a week of direct community service. Orientation and preparation before the direct service, as well as a reflection journal, document student learning. May be repeated for credit. Identical to INST 123. Offered each Winter Session.

124 Service Learning and Issues of Civic Engagement in Hampton Roads (4)

Students are introduced to a community-based project and investigate the issue involved through research, reading, and lecture, followed by a week of direct community service. Includes reflection, assessment, and consideration of broader contexts. May be repeated for credit. Identical to INST 124. Offered each Winter Session.

221 Problem Solving Seminar (2)

A course for sophomores participating in the PORTfolio Program. Develops problem-solving skills by having students work out solutions, individually and collaboratively, to real-life situations. Culminates in guided design. Prerequisite: PORT 122. Offered on demand.

225 Career Study (4)

Provides an in-depth introduction to a career field of choice, an externship experience in that career field, and subsequent reporting and processing. Students spend the first week researching the career choice made in previous PORTfolio courses and the site at which they will extern. In the second week they carry out the on-site externship. The final week is used to document, process, and present the lessons learned. They include final reflection and summary in an updated electronic portfolio. Offered each Winter Session and upon request during a three-week summer session.

311 Director's Seminar (2)

Provides a venue for PORTfolio students to investigate in depth some topic of relevance and stay abreast of current developments in career and graduate school planning. Meets once a week over dinner with visiting speakers and presentations by Career Services staff. Prerequisite: sophomore status in the PORTfolio Program or consent of the program director. Offered each fall or on demand.

420 President's Senior Seminar (1)

Provides the capstone to the PORTfolio Program.

Taught by the President of the university, this seminar focuses on ethical values, commitment to community, and ways in which students can put their liberal learning to work for the personal and collective good. Prerequisite: senior status in PORTfolio.

421 Senior Synthesis and Segue (2)

Provides the capstone to the PORTfolio Program. Students reflect, synthesize and write about their four years of learning experiences. A focus on ethical values allows students to discover how they can put their liberal learning to work for the common good. Emphasizes responsibilities to oneself, to one another, and to the community in the transition from college to “the rest of their lives.” Each student’s electronic portfolio is completed through the addition of individual reflections, synthesis, explorations, and preparations. Prerequisite: senior status in PORTfolio. Offered each spring.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT SERIES

Professional Development Series (PDS) listings contain non-degree courses, workshops, and seminars designed for individuals in public/private education, business, government, and other career areas. Teachers can use course offerings for Virginia Department of Education license recertification or for insight and preparation in the National Board Certification process. Questions about these courses should be directed to the Evening and Weekend Program.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT SERIES COURSES (PDS)

NB1 Professional Development and Pre-Candidacy for National Board Certification (4 non-degree sem. hrs.)

Teachers will investigate best-teaching practices across the curricula and grade levels, K-12. Tailored to meet individual needs, teachers will explore strategies to improve their teaching and to impact student learning while they become familiar with the goals of the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards. This course is not a requirement of the National Board certification process. This is a graded course. Offered each semester and Summer Session.

NB2 Personalized Professional Growth and National Board Certification (1-3 non-degree sem. hrs.)

Teachers engage in a guided study centered on a personal professional development program working from an overview of the candidate process and guided by the mission, goals, and processes of the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards.

They investigate “best teaching practices” across the curricula and grade levels, K-12. Covers portfolio requirements and assessment center exercises, including video taping your class for NBPTS review, descriptive, analytical and reflective writing styles, NBPTS Assessment Center exercises, and collected student work samples. Skills such as questioning, differentiated instructional strategies, and portfolio maintenance are developed and revised. Pass/fail grading. Offered each semester.

NB3 National Board Standards in Your Classroom (1 non-degree sem. hr.)

Designed for individuals who are currently teaching in a classroom setting. Introduces teachers to the mission, goals, and processes of the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards. They explore and determine their levels of interest in seeking National Board Certification. While the course encourages teachers to seek National Board Certification, it serves as an opportunity for teachers to consider strategies to improve their teaching and to impact student learning. They investigate and demonstrate “best teaching practices” across their specific curricula and grade level (K-12) through use of professional journals and reference materials, production of a professional reading report, designing and executing a content improvement plan, videotaping a lesson, implementing new differentiated instructional strategies, and creating an essay about the video-taped lesson with learning strategy implementation using descriptive, analytical and reflective writing. Pass/fail grading. Offered each semester and Summer Session.

NB4 Take One Candidate Support Workshop (2 non-degree sem. hrs.)

Designed to fine-tune the skills developed during the PDS-NB1 course. Topics include the Core Propositions, videotaping, effective instructional practices and writing an entry. Included in class discussions is appropriate alignment to national curriculum standards as well as NBPTS standards applicable to the Take One! Entry. Teachers complete the Take One! Entry. Pass/fail grading. Offered each semester.

PDS BIO4 Topics in Biology for Teachers (1-4)

Licensed high school biology teachers explore topics in biology and laboratory activities that promote rigorous study of science. Participants will apply knowledge to engage high school students (especially those in underserved populations) in meaningful scientific inquiry. Prerequisite: teacher licensure in biology. Offered on demand.

PDS NB5 Professional Development for National Board Certification-Completing the Journey (1 non-degree sem. hr.)

Teachers focus on the final details of the portfolio entry and become familiar with the assessment center exercises. Focuses on peer review and collegiate collaboration as the portfolio is prepared for finalization. They investigate content-specific to their certification and the alignment to national standards. Serves as an opportunity for teachers to critically consider strategies to improve their teaching and to impact student learning. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisite: PDS NB2. Offered each spring.

PDS NB6 National Board Renewal Workshop (1 non-degree sem. hr.)

A series of five class meetings to introduce NBCT renewal candidates to the renewal process, provide support as candidates examine their professional growth experiences, and complete their four-part portfolio to demonstrate continued accomplished teaching. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisite: current National Board Certified Teacher (NBCT); approaching ten year renewal within one (1) year. Offered each semester.

PDS POLS I Women and Politics (2)

Examine women in politics from an international perspective. Teaching in public schools depends on political negotiations; this course illuminates barriers and opportunities for women working in the public sphere. Knowing difficulties and advantages women face allows teachers to equip students with skills, strategies and knowledge to ensure success in a gendered world. Prerequisite: teacher recertification. Offered on demand (summer only).

PDS POLS 2 Media and Democracy (2)

Explores the political effects of the news media. Teachers in public schools play an important role in students' development of the skills necessary to become a critical media consumer. Familiarity with media effects improves teachers' abilities to help students develop media literacy skills, a necessity in democratic societies. Prerequisite: teacher recertification. Offered on demand (summer only).

PDS PSY Abnormal Psychology for Teachers (2)

Addresses common psychological abnormalities that teachers may encounter in the K-12 classroom. Topics will include depression, anxiety, learning disabilities, ADHD, autism spectrum disorders, and topics requested by participants. Discussion and assignments will center on relevant classroom strategies and personal experiences, which will be tied to psychological literature. Prerequisite: teacher recertification. Offered on demand (summer only).

PDS REC I Disabilities in the Media (2)

Through the use of popular media teachers will explore various disabilities, related challenges and prejudices individuals with disabilities may encounter. Discussion of physical, psychological, emotional, and social disabilities allow for examination of how disabilities, and interactions between those with and without disabilities, are portrayed in the media. Ideal for special education and adapted PE teachers. Prerequisite: teacher recertification. Offered on demand (summer only).

PDS REC 2 Outdoor Experiential Education and Recreation (2)

A series of experiences, discussions, and readings about theories, current issues and practices in outdoor education and recreation. Teachers plan, prepare, and implement outdoor experiences based on standards in the field—including strategies to implement kinesthetic learning into their existing and/or new lesson plans and classroom activities. The class will meet on campus as well as local off campus sites to be announced. Entrance fees, parking and transportation are the responsibility of the student. Prerequisite: teacher recertification. Offered on demand (summer only).

PDS SOC I Visual Sociology of the Civil Rights Movement (2)

Documentary films of the civil rights movement in the United States are used to investigate, discuss, and interpret social movement theories such as resource mobilization, framing, relative deprivation, and political process. Content appropriate for Sociology, World History II, U.S. History, and Government teachers. Prerequisite: teacher recertification. Offered on demand (summer only).

PDS ENG I Perspectives on American Literature (2 non-degree sem. hrs.)

Examines the major figures and movements in American letters from the establishment of the European colonies in North America through the present day. Emphasis will be on perspectives helpful in teaching these works in the school classroom. Prerequisite: teacher recertification. Offered on demand (summer only).

PDS ENG 2 African-American Literature (2)

A series of five class meetings to introduce NBCT renewal candidates to the renewal process, provide support as candidates examine their professional growth experiences, and complete their four-part portfolio to demonstrate continued accomplished teaching. Pass/fail grading. Prerequisite: teacher recertification. Offered on demand (summer only).

PDS LATN I Teaching Latin Topics for the AP Examination (2)

Students read, translate, and discuss texts and aspects of civilization relevant to the teaching of the Latin Advanced Placement Exam. Prerequisite: teacher recertification. Offered on demand (summer only).

PSYCHOLOGY

DR. TARYN A. MYERS, Department Chair
 DR. ROBERT ARIEL
 DR. CRAIG C. JACKSON
 DR. GABRIELA A. MARTORELL

Because psychology has developed as an interdisciplinary subject, historically related to philosophy and biology, it is well suited as a major for students seeking a diversified education that will advance their understanding of themselves and others. Students desiring to enter a specialty field of professional psychology that requires a master's or doctoral degree find that the undergraduate curriculum provides thorough preparation for graduate study.

Major Requirements: Psychology

TOTAL CREDIT HOURS	40

Due to the interdisciplinary nature of our subject, students who are considering the psychology major should work closely with their academic advisors in selecting general studies and elective courses that will provide them with necessary background knowledge. Courses in the humanities and the natural sciences are particularly appropriate.

The Psychology Major as Preparation for the Healthcare Professions

Students planning to enter schools of medicine, dentistry, or other healthcare fields after college can major in psychology and still have time to take essential courses in the natural sciences. Practitioners who can consider the psychological factors that contribute to their patients' complaints and reactions to treatment often find that having this perspective improves their diagnostic and therapeutic effectiveness. The university's pre-medical advisor can describe how this curricular integration can be achieved through careful planning.

PSYCHOLOGY COURSES (PSY)

101 Introduction to Psychology I (4)

The first part of the introductory psychology course and a prerequisite for other psychology courses. Covers research methods, theoretical perspectives, biological foundations of behavior, sensory and perceptual processes, cognition, learning, memory, consciousness, and development. Intended for freshmen and sophomores. Offered each fall.

102 Introduction to Psychology II (4)

The second part of the introductory psychology sequence and a prerequisite for other psychology courses. Covers motivation, emotion, personality, social psychology, psychological disorders, and industrial/organizational and health psychology. Intended for freshmen and sophomores. Offered each spring.

205 Lifespan Developmental Psychology (4)

Development of the individual across the lifespan, from conception to death. Surveys the biological bases and social contexts of developmental processes, including theory, research and practical applications. Prerequisite: PSY 101 or 102. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

210 Statistical Analysis in Psychology (4) Q

Examines the role of data analysis in psychological research, stressing understanding of the fit of analysis techniques with data collection methods and research design. Emphasizes selection of the appropriate statistic, computation, and interpretation of results. Includes the application of computer software for data management, analysis, and graphing. Students cannot receive credit for both MATH 210 and PSY 210. Prerequisites: sophomore/junior status, declared major in psychology, and placement level B, A or H or MATH 104 with grade of C- or higher. Offered each fall and spring semester.

227 Social Psychology (4)

Explores our development as socialized human beings shaped through our interactions with groups of other people and how the structure and function of both the formal and informal groups that exist in a society are shaped by the personalities of the individuals who comprise their membership. Students discover both academically and experientially the nature of such group-related psychological dynamics as attitude formation, interpersonal attraction, social conflict, and bureaucratic organization. Prerequisite: PSY 102, 201, or SOC 100. Identical to SOC 227. Offered each fall.

256 Abnormal Psychology (4)

The various categories of disturbed behavior are described in terms of their defining symptom patterns. Causes, diagnosis, treatment, and prevention are also discussed. Prerequisite: PSY 101, 102 or 201. Offered each spring.

285 Theories of Personality (4)

A survey of the major theoretical descriptions of personality structure, beginning with Freud's psychodynamic model and tracing developments thereafter through exposure to significant alternative viewpoints. Prerequisites: PSY 101 or 102. Offered each fall.

305 Study Away in Psychology (4)

Examines topics in psychology in cultural settings outside the classroom by traveling to a location relevant to the topic studied in the given semester. Examples include "The History of Psychopathology in Europe." Prerequisite: Consent. Offered winter and summer on demand.

313 Clinical Neuropsychology (4)

Facilitates learning about the connections and interactions between neuroanatomy and functioning of the brain and neuropsychological disorders. Considers how clinical neuropsychologists assess, diagnose, and treat dysfunctions in these areas. Prerequisites: PSY 101 or 102 and junior/senior status. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

320 Research Methods in Psychology (4)

Students prepare an empirical research proposal using the scientific method. Focuses on using professional literature, the logic of empirically based inquiry, selection of appropriate data, ethical responsibilities, and the human subjects review process. Prerequisites: junior status and at least 8 semester hours in psychology, including PSY 210 with a grade of C- or higher, or consent. Offered each fall and spring semester.

321 Industrial/Organizational Psychology (4)

Presents an overview of individual, environmental, and organizational factors that affect job-related behavior. Topics include selection, testing, motivation, job satisfaction, job analysis, performance evaluation, safety and violence in the workplace, stress, leadership, and engineering psychology. Prerequisites: junior/senior status and PSY 101 or 102, or consent. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

333 Assessment of Individual Differences (4)

An examination of the theoretical and practical considerations involved in the construction, administration, and interpretation of psychological tests to measure such factors as achievement, aptitudes, interests, and personality structure. Prerequisites: PSY 101 or 102 and junior/senior status. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

350 Psychology and the Law (4)

Presents an opportunity to view the practical application of psychology within the criminal justice system. The foundations of forensic psychology are illustrated by coverage of related topics by news and popular media, as well as by related service learning and interaction with professionals in the field. Prerequisites: junior/senior status and PSY 101. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

351 Psychology of Gender (4)

Explores how being born into one gender category and not the other has a profound impact on how individuals are treated, what they expect of themselves, and how they lead their lives. Takes a psychological approach to critically examine sex and gender differences across a variety of life domains. Prerequisites: PSY 101 or 102 and junior/senior status. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

354 Clinical Psychology (4) W

Invites students to explore the field of clinical psychology by examining the roles of clinicians and critically exploring various therapeutic techniques in use today. Students engage in readings, discussions, role-plays, viewing videos of therapy, and writing to explore the multi-faceted world of psychotherapy. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, PSY 101 or 102 and junior/senior status. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

362 Theories of Motivation (4)

The activation, direction and maintenance of goal-oriented behavior is studied from a variety of theoretical perspectives. The primary focus is on conscious behaviors such as goal-setting, selection of self versus other perspectives, and the effects of such orientations on behavior as well as psychological needs; and on specific topics such as altruism and aggression. Prerequisites: PSY 101 or 102 and junior/senior status. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

370 Sensation and Perception (4)

Explores how we perceive and understand the world around us based on physical energy, neural activity, and knowledge, and how our perceptions can be flawed. Broadly explores philosophical, neurological, cognitive, and clinical approaches. Interactive demonstrations will allow students hands/eyes/ears-on experience analyzing and interpreting data. Prerequisites: PSY 101, 102 or equivalent. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

372 Infant Development (4)

An overview of biological, psychological, and environmental influences on human development from conception through toddlerhood, current psychological theories and research. Prerequisites:

PSY 101 or 102 and junior/senior status. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

373 Child Development (4)

An overview of biological, psychological, and environmental influences on human development in childhood, including current psychological theories, research, and real-world applications. Prerequisites: PSY 101 or 102, junior/senior status, or consent. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

374 Adolescent Development (4)

Study of adolescents' physical growth, psychological development, and behavior. Emphasizes the major determinants of adolescent development and behavior, the theoretical approaches, concepts, principles, and research findings about adolescence, and their applications in real-life situations. Prerequisites: junior/senior status and PSY 101 or 102. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

375 Adult Development and Aging (4)

An overview of environmental, cultural, and biological influences on adult development and aging, focusing on gains and losses and covering current psychological theories and research. Prerequisites: PSY 101 or 102 and junior/senior status. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

380 Supervised Research in Psychology (1-4)

Students work closely with faculty to develop, conduct, and/or report on a supervised research project. Semester hours will be determined by time commitment. Prerequisites: Declared Psychology major or minor, and consent of a supervising professor. May be repeated for a maximum of 8 semester hours. Offered on demand.

385 Psychology of Eating Disorders (4)

Explores the psychology of eating disorders through readings, discussion, lectures, student research and presentations, and visits by clinicians. Students examine the pathology of eating disorders, as well as risk and protective factors for these disorders. Issues investigated include comorbidity with other disorders, etiology, neurobiology, and treatment and prevention. Prerequisites: PSY 101 or 102 and junior/senior status, or consent. Offered Winter Sessions of even-numbered years.

388 Cognition (4)

Examines research findings that help us understand how people perceive, remember, and think. Provides extensive opportunities for students to gain valuable insights regarding their own cognitive skills. Prerequisites: junior/senior status and PSY 101 or 102. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

389 Topics in Psychology (4)

An advanced seminar designed to study the primary literature on various announced topics in psychology. Topics vary across semesters and may include community psychology, health psychology, social cognition, and self and identity. May be repeated for credit as topics vary. Prerequisite: junior/senior status and PSY 101 or 102. Offered intermittently.

394 Psychology in Film, Memoir, and Science (4) A

An explanation of psychological topics of interest through the multiple lenses of non-fiction writing, films, and scientific reporting. Topical themes in psychology are emphasized, and particular emphasis is placed on critique of the films from both an artistic and a psychological scientific standpoint. Prerequisite: junior/senior status or consent. Offered Winter Sessions of odd-numbered years.

450 Evolutionary Psychology (4)

Examines how evolution has shaped behavioral, cognitive, and emotional mechanisms to help our hunter/gatherer ancestors cope with recurrent evolutionary problems. Students discuss why evolutionary approaches have met with such controversy, implications for understanding behavior in contemporary environments, and how culture and our evolved minds interact to produce behaviors. Prerequisites: PSY 101 or 102 and junior/senior status. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

455 Biological Psychology (4)

A survey of the basic physiological and psychological mechanisms that underlie selected areas of mental life and human behavior. Attention is given to sensory processes, motivation and regulations, memory, attention, and emotional experience. Prerequisites: PSY 101 or 102 and junior/senior status. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

477 History and Systems of Modern Psychology (4) I

An examination of psychology's evolution from its roots in vintage philosophical and biological concerns to its present diversity of research directions and areas of application that reveals the issues of substance and methodology that have systematically developed. Emphasizes analysis, synthesis, and evaluation of information. Especially useful to the psychology major seeking to identify a topic for the original research project (see PSY 480) and the non-major interested in an advanced but general coverage of fundamental psychological trends and perspectives. Prerequisite: junior/senior status. Offered each fall.

479 Internship in Psychology (4)

Students work independently in an agency, organization, department, or other applied setting that allows for hands-on application of concepts and skills developed during their coursework in psychology. They meet weekly to process their experiences and complete integrative final projects regarding their experiences. Prerequisites: PSY 320; junior/senior psychology major; minimum GPA of 2.5; consent. Offered each spring.

480 Original Research Project (4) W

Students conduct an independent empirical study, prepare a paper on their research, and defend the effort in an oral examination before a committee comprised of the project advisor, one other psychology faculty member, and one faculty member outside of psychology. Prerequisites: senior psychology major, ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, PSY 210, PSY 320 with a grade of C- or higher, and approval by project advisor.

489 Social Cognition (4)

Explores the ways that people make sense of their social worlds. Classic and contemporary scholarship from four main perspectives is integrated to form an understanding of six key phenomena: prejudice, attitudes, self and identity, attributions, social perceptions, and ideology. Prerequisites: PSY 101 or 102 and junior/senior status. Offered on demand.

RECREATION AND LEISURE STUDIES

DR. DOUGLAS KENNEDY, CPRP Department Chair
DR. WILLIAM BECKER, ACTMIP Director
MS. TAKEYRA COLLINS, CTRS
DR. WAYNE POLLOCK, CTRS
DR. JILL STURTS, RCRSP

Within the framework of the liberal arts, the mission of the Recreation and Leisure Studies Department is to educate students as informed consumers, skilled professionals, and advocates of recreation and leisure services throughout their personal and professional lives. The recreation and leisure studies major allows students to discover this exciting discipline and focus upon one of two career tracks, recreation administration and recreation therapy. The course offerings are designed to provide practical "hands-on" learning experiences with local agencies. By combining the concepts, skills, and perspectives of recreation and leisure studies courses with carefully selected elective courses, students may expect both to become liberally educated and to achieve to their career objectives in the recreation profession. The major also culminates in a semester-long internship, allowing students to continue their learning while applying their knowledge to “real-life” practice in recreation agencies. The major has been accredited since 1984 by the National Council on Accreditation of Parks, Recreation, and Tourism Related Professions. All students completing the program are eligible to take the national examination to be recognized as a Certified Park and Recreation Professional (CPRP). Students completing the recreation therapy track and designated coursework are also eligible to take the national examination to become a Certified Therapeutic Recreation Specialist (CTRS).

RECREATION COURSES (REC)

101 Introduction to Recreation and Leisure Services (4) S

Designed for all students who desire to explore the varied professions of recreation/leisure services as a possible career goal or for personal growth and development. Recreation and leisure in historical development and today's contemporary society and leisure education are the major areas of concentration. Includes a practicum in which students are required to investigate local recreation/leisure agencies. Prerequisite: freshmen/sophomores only; juniors/seniors by consent. Offered each semester.

204 Leadership I: Leadership and Analysis of Recreation (4)

Explores leadership theory and the process of activity analysis. Students develop their personal leadership skills by observing, evaluating, and practicing leadership styles. They also learn and practice the activity analysis process through the planning, implementation and evaluation of goal-oriented activities for diverse segments of the population. Includes a significant practical component during non-traditional class hours when students lead activities for peers and community agencies. Lab fee. Offered each semester.

206 Management of Recreation and Leisure Services I (4)

An introduction to the principles of managing leisure service agencies. Students investigate the role of the manager by applying underlying management and legal theory to the operation of existing leisure service agencies. Prerequisite: REC 101. Offered each fall.

212 Introduction to Recreational Therapy (4)

Provides an overview of the profession of recreational therapy, including the philosophy, practice, procedures, and foundation of services for individuals with disabilities. Students develop an understanding of professional preparation, service settings, and consumer groups that utilize recreational therapy services. Fieldwork required. Prerequisite: freshman/sophomore only; junior/senior with consent. Offered each semester.

217 Topics in Recreation Therapy (4)

An in-depth study of a Recreation Therapy focused topic, including the study and investigation of related themes of interest. A sophomore-level topics course to provide those students who possess an understanding of the foundations of recreational therapy an opportunity to delve into more diverse and related themes of interest. Prerequisites: Sophomore/Junior/Senior Status. Course may be repeated as topics change. Offered every fall or as needed.

219 Disability in the Media (4)

Explores various disabling conditions and related challenges/prejudices experienced by individuals with disabilities and how these individuals are portrayed in popular film and other media. Examines physical, psychological, emotional, and social life-conditions and allows students to examine their own attitudes and perceptions regarding disabilities. Offered Winter Session on demand.

305 Teaching Assistant (1)

Provides recreation/leisure service majors or other students who qualify the opportunity, under supervision, to organize and lead recreation, physical education activity courses, and selected introductory content courses (REC 101, 200, 201, 204, 205). Students are required to prepare lesson plans. Prerequisites: REC 204 or 323, or prior teaching experience. Students must be interviewed and accepted by the course instructor. Offered each semester.

308 Historical, Cultural, and Professional Dimensions of Recreation and Leisure (4) W

Provides students with knowledge of the history, philosophy, development, purposes, values, and interrelationships of recreation delivery systems from both the private and public sectors. Focuses on the professional dimensions of recreation and leisure as they relate to diverse cultures served in contemporary practice. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and junior/senior status. Offered each fall.

309 Internship Preparation in Recreation and Leisure Studies (2)

Provides guidance and direction in all phases of internship procurement for all students majoring in recreation and leisure studies and enrolling in REC 409 the following semester. Emphasizes each student's self-assessment, documentation of personal/professional goals, strengths, and areas for improvement in relation to the agency's attributes and compatibility with the student's goals. Graded pass/fail. Prerequisite: senior and eligible to complete REC 409 the following semester. Offered each semester.

310 Disabilities and Recreational Therapy (4)

Introduces students to the various disabling conditions that typically receive recreational therapy services. Explores adaptive, corrective and progressive recreational therapy techniques for a variety of disabling conditions. Emphasizes treatment interventions and leisure skills as they relate to specific disorders and habilitative or rehabilitative goals. Offered each spring.

311 Recreational Therapy Process (4) W

Provides students with the knowledge and skills needed to organize, conduct, and evaluate recreational therapy programs in health care agencies. Requires students to develop a written plan of operation for an agency providing recreational therapy services. Field experience is required. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each fall.

313 Recreational Therapy Management and Organization (4)

Provides students with the knowledge and skills needed to organize, conduct, and evaluate recreational therapy programs in healthcare agencies. Students develop a written plan of operation for an agency providing recreational therapy services. Field experience is required. Prerequisite: REC 212. Offered each spring.

314 Recreational Therapy Analysis and Assessment (4)

Provides the rationale, procedural methods for, and applications of assessment in recreational therapy. Students examine and use standardized instruments and develop a functional assessment based on the use of activity/task analysis. They learn methods of clinical assessment, establishing client rapport, and interpretation and documentation of assessment results. Prerequisite: REC 212. Offered each fall.

316 Planning, Implementing, and Evaluating Recreational Therapy (4)

Prepares students in the planning, implementation, and evaluation of recreational therapy services. Includes the selection of appropriate treatment techniques and clinical skills to be used with various client populations, intervention strategies, and methods of evaluating client and program outcomes. Prerequisite: REC 212.

325 Race, Gender, and Leisure (4) W

Investigates the past, present and future roles of leisure in the lives of individuals within the context of gender, race, and ethnicity. Leisure patterns and pursuits will be examined through a review and analysis of ideals on equity, empowerment and social values. The course will also incorporate a personal examination of leisure philosophy, behavior and constraints related to one's identity. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

336 Commercial Recreation (4)

Analyzes the principles of organizing commercial recreation agencies and the factors affecting their success. Emphasizes field evaluation and case studies of specific agencies currently in operation. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

340 Recreation Program Principles (4) W

Provides students with an understanding of recreation program practices, including planning objectives, programming principles, organization, group work, promotion supervision, and program evaluation. In addition to the study of programming theory, students plan, organize, and evaluate a variety of recreation programs. Suggested prerequisites: REC 101 and 204. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each fall.

341 Management of Recreation and Leisure Services II (4)

Students develop an understanding of administrative practices, including legal aspects of recreation services, principles of planning and operation of recreation areas and facilities, financial and business procedures, public relations, principles of organization and coordination of services, personnel practices, and evaluation. Provides a foundation on which future depth of administrative competency can build. Offered each spring.

342 Junior Internship in Recreation and Leisure Studies (4) W

Offers the opportunity to investigate the leadership, programming, operation, and management of leisure service agencies while gaining paid or volunteer experience. Through a comprehensive focus on individual areas of administration, the course is tailored to the individual needs of the student and agency to maximize experience and reflection. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and REC 204 or consent. Offered each semester and summer.

343 Administration of Campus Recreation (4)

Covers the planning, organization, administration, and evaluation of recreational sports programs in colleges and universities. Emphasizes practical experiences designed to acquaint the student with contemporary administration practices in the field. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

344 Introduction to Sport and Facility Management (4)

Provides students majoring in recreation and leisure studies with an extensive knowledge of effective management in a variety of sports settings. Covers specific skills needed to plan and maintain recreation facilities. Private and public schools and sport club environments are explored. Prerequisite: REC 101. Offered each spring.

345 Ropes Course and Group Facilitation Methods (4)

Prepares students to become ropes course leaders and facilitate the ability of groups to better achieve their goals. Through coverage of the factors connected to initial group processes, conflict, goal deliberation, and the role of the facilitator, the course provides hands-on activities, enabling the student to experience the responsibilities needed to become a useful group facilitator. Lab fee. Offered each fall.

346 Travel and Tourism (4)

Introduces the principles of travel and tourism as an element of leisure service delivery. Covers tourism development and promotion from both the public and private sectors. Students investigate various socioeconomic factors of travel and tourism and visit various travel and tourism agencies. Offered each fall.

347 Outdoor Recreation and Education (4)

A series of experiences, discussions, and readings about current issues and practices in outdoor recreation and education. Students plan, prepare, and implement an overnight backcountry experience. Requires an overnight field experience outside of regularly scheduled class meetings. Lab fee. Offered each spring and intermittently in Winter Sessions or summer.

348 Maui to Moguls: The Impact of Adventure Travel on Culture and the Environment (4)

This course examines the impact that adventure travel has on culture and the environment. To study the impact, students travel to Maui and local Hampton Roads destinations. These trips help students to understand how tourist activities (such as snorkeling, hiking, surfing, luau, and agri-tourism) have an effect on culture, the economy, and preservation of the environment. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

349 Leadership II: Instructional Techniques (4)

Students learn the successful leadership and teaching styles associated with the instruction of outdoor recreation and athletic activities. They practice a variety of leadership approaches and group process techniques, behavior management, and teaching styles. Prerequisite: REC 204. Offered intermittently in spring.

408 Seminar in Recreation and Leisure Studies (4) I,W

Exploration and discussion of current trends and innovations in recreation/leisure studies as identified by students. Students determine course content in collaboration with the instructor. One scheduled topic is leisure education. Lab fee required. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and consent. Offered each spring.

409 Senior Internship in Recreation and Leisure Studies (12)

Field placement in an approved recreation or therapeutic recreation setting. Students intern under a trained recreation professional and participate in all phases of agency operation. Prerequisite: REC 309. Offered each semester on request.

RELIGIOUS STUDIES

DR. CRAIG WANSINK, Department Chair
 DR. TERRENCE LINDVALL
 DR. ERIC M. MAZUR
 DR. MICHAEL PANITZ*

*denotes adjunct faculty

Without a knowledge of religion, it is difficult to understand daily newspapers, modern history, and many of our own behavior patterns. In the Religious Studies Department, the methods and interests of the humanities, the social sciences, and the natural sciences converge as students examine the role of religion in history, literature, and science; in human experience and diversity; and in culture, politics, and society. The requirements for a major in religious studies ensure that students not only acquire a broad base of knowledge, but develop skills of interpretation and methodological approaches that characterize a strong liberal arts education. Because these courses involve analysis, comparison, and interpretation and because they require sensitivity to the perspectives and practices of others, the study of religion prepares students well for careers in education, business, law, politics, diplomacy, counseling, public service, and ministry.

RELIGIOUS STUDIES COURSES (RELST)113 Introduction to Religious Studies (4) V

An introduction to the academic study of religion. Students gain familiarity with a wide range of religious traditions; ways in which religions shape society, culture, and world affairs; and scholarly tools for coming to terms with the wide variety of sometimes strange, always interesting phenomena. Offered each fall.

116 World Religions (4) V

A survey of major religions of the world, their beliefs, practices, and ethical concerns. Focusing primarily on Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Hinduism, and Buddhism, students examine the history, literature, structures, and manifestations of each of these religions. They examine how such disciplines as psychology, sociology, theology, art, and ethics shape, and are shaped by, religious world views. Concludes with an examination of some of the key conflicts/disagreements between two of these religious traditions. Offered each semester.

140 Religion in American Culture (4) V

Focuses on religion as practiced by both mainstream and minority groups in America. Examines how religion shapes, and is shaped by, American views on ethnicity, ethics, literature, business, and politics. Offered each spring.

181 Judaism through Food (4) V

A hands-on introduction to Judaism. From feasts to fasts, students explore the history, texts, and traditions of Judaism through the study and first-hand encounter with its foods; their place, preparation, restrictions, and geographical variations that are central to the religious and cultural experience of Judaism. Offered each spring.

208 Foundations of Youth Ministry (4) S

This course initially focuses on the history and development of youth ministry within the local church, parish, or community of faith. Students identify, compare, and critique models, philosophies, and styles of youth ministry, and then—using a case study approach—work through a broad spectrum of ministry programs and issues. Offered each spring.

217 The Old Testament World (4) S,V

The ancient Israelites wrote stories of their past. They preserved laws. They wrote prophecies, biographies, common-sense advice, love poetry, and apocalypses. An introduction to some of these writings; specifically, the writings preserved in the Old Testament and in the Apocrypha. Examines both the history of the Hebrews and Israelites and the literature they used to express and communicate their faith. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

218 The New Testament World (4) V

The first Christians wrote letters to each other, they wrote tales about Jesus, they wrote sermons, and apocalypses. An introduction to some of those writings preserved in the New Testament and to those apocryphal and non-canonical works that shaped how the New Testament was remembered and how Christianity developed. Examines both the earliest Christians and the literature they used to create communities and to express and communicate their faith. Prerequisite: at least 3 semester hours in English, history, philosophy, or religious studies. Offered each spring.

232 Religion and American Politics (4) V

Investigates the relationship between religion and politics in the United States, especially the role of traditional religious identities and issues, while acknowledging non-traditional religious movements, ideas, and issues. Emphasizes upcoming elections. Students are expected to be informed on the current debates in the various national elections which form basis of class discussions and student presentations. Identical to CSRF 232. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

233 Religion and Constitutional Law (4) V

Introduces students to the relationship between religion and American law. Students explore the origins, history, and current legal foundations guiding disputes over religious freedom, providing the backdrop for discussions of current issues such as abortion, gay marriage, and euthanasia. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

238/338 Topics In American Religion (4) V

A focused examination of religion in specific areas of American culture. May include the study of specific religious traditions (e.g., Catholicism), movements (e.g., evangelicalism, new religions), or areas of cultural interaction (e.g., education, science) in American religion. May be repeated for credit as topics vary. Offered spring when circumstances permit.

250 Religion and Popular Culture (4) V

Introduces students to the role religion plays in creating and maintaining culture through such popular venues as motion pictures, television, sports, and fashion, as well as the impact of religious values on popular cultural expressions. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

251/351 Bible and Literature (4) V

Examines the Bible as the source and inspiration for works of fiction, non-fiction, biography, letters, parables, poetry, and epistles from the world's literature, both classic and modern. These works are studied from the perspective of the literary modes of discourse drawn from the Hebrew Bible and New Testament. Offered intermittently.

253/353 Topics in Religious Ethics (4) V

A focused examination of ethical theory and methods and of issues in moral theology within religious traditions. Courses offered under this designation may focus on a particular religion, on a specific practice, or on a comparative approach to religious ethics. May be repeated for credit as topics vary. Offered when circumstances permit.

265 Extreme Religion: The Body, Pain, Sex, and Martyrdom in Religious Experience (4)

For the sake of their soul and their faith, religious individuals engage in a variety of actions which—in other contexts—would be considered extreme: self-mutilation, snake-handling, fasting, celibacy, tantric sex, polygamy, suicide, martyrdom, etc. Focuses on the role of religious experience, particularly on ecstatic or extreme religious expressions in world religions today. After examining the roles and functions of “experience” within religion, students focus on specific cases of “extreme” religious practices, seeking to understand their meaning and significance for their practitioners. Prerequisite: at least 3 semester hours in: history, English, philosophy, or religious studies. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

303 Saints and Heretics: Christian History I (4) H

Traces the “plot” of the development of Christian thought about questions of fundamental human importance from the formation of the medieval world to the Reformation. Students examine the mutual dependence of theology and wider culture with special attention to developing strategies for reading the Bible. May be taken in conjunction with RELST 304 or independently. Prerequisite: at least 3 semester hours in: English, history, philosophy, or religious studies. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

304 Damned and Saved: Christian History II (4)

Continues the “plot” of the development of Christian thought. Students trace the creation of our own modern world view from the wake of the Reformation through the Enlightenment and into the 19th and 20th centuries. Emphasizes the development of strategies for reading the Bible as students examine the interrelation of theology and its cultural context at each step of the way. May be taken in conjunction with RELST 303 or independently. Prerequisite: at least 3 semester hours in: English, history, philosophy, or religious studies. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

308 Lobbying and Religious Advocacy (4) S

Examines how, through approaches to lobbying and political advocacy, different religious communities engage in American politics, how their religious-historical views play a role in that engagement, and how their socio-historical context often have determined (or continue to determine) their level of access in the political realm. Offered in Winter Session.

326 Methodism (4) H

An interdisciplinary exploration of the history of Methodism, with special attention given to the Wesleys, Asbury, other early itinerant preachers, and the religious and cultural development of the Methodist denomination and its Wesleyan offshoots (such as the AME Church). Prerequisite: 4 semester hours of religious studies or history. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

329 International Religious Freedom (4) W

An exploration of global issues related to limitations on religious freedom, international efforts to address religious freedom concerns, advantages and disadvantages of the American tradition of First Amendment-based religious liberty, and the difficulties inherent in geo-political and religious conflicts over religion and religious freedom. Prerequisite: successful completion of ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered on demand.

335 Christian Theology and Film (4) V,W

Explores how the fields of theology and film studies cross-fertilize each other, with special attention given to the ways in which film functions as religious discourse. Students investigate the historical evolution of film as a means of communicating theological doctrines or themes through its narrative patterns and analyze how religious and secular films can be constructed as cultural texts that advise not only how one should live, but what one should believe. Emphasizes the sermonic nature of film, various hermeneutics of film, and how audiences receive and appropriate both manifest and latent religious meanings. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and 3 semester hours in communication, English, history, philosophy, or religious studies. Identical to COMM 335. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

341 War, Peace, and Christian Ethics (4) V

Examines Christian ethical perspectives on war and peace. Topics include the justifications for and limitations on the use of force, just war and pacifism, alternative approaches such as just peacemaking, and application of these perspectives to current issues. Prerequisite: junior/senior status or consent. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

352/452 Seminar in C. S. Lewis (4) V

Investigates the literary, historical, and theological contributions of British author C. S. Lewis, exploring key literary and philosophical influences upon his life and literature and examining how his thought and imagination have affected contemporary religious discourse and practice. May be offered either as an on-campus course or as a travel course. Prerequisite: 4 semester hours of religious studies or English. Offered spring of even-numbered years.

361/461 Thinkers/Topics in Religion (4) VI*

Focused, in-depth study of one important religious thinker (or thinker about religion), or a narrowly defined topic of current importance in religious studies. May be repeated for credit with the instructor's permission. Prerequisite: junior/senior status or consent. Offered each year. *RELST 361:(V); RELST 461:(I).

363/463 Sports and Religion (4) I*

Examines the relationship between sports and religion. From the use of sports as a means of acculturation, the use of legitimate competition as a surrogate for interreligious conflict, and the competition between organized sports and organized religion for money, attention, and devotion, to the sacrality of the time and space of the field of play and elevation of athletes to modern gods, the world of athletic competition overflowing with religious elements. Using a variety of disciplinary methods, students examine this relationship, the ways in which religion and sport reinforce similar ideals, and the ways in which they compete with one another for the minds, hearts, and bodies of the "fans." Offered spring of even-numbered years. *RELST 463 only.

364 Mediating Religious Conflicts (4) V

This course highlights disagreements and conflicts between religions in the United States. Through interreligious presentations, debates, and facilitation training, it seeks to develop the skills and dispositions that students can use to more fully negotiate the challenges created by differences, and to create opportunities for meaningful dialogue, cooperation, and action. Prerequisite: junior/senior status. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

365 Extreme Religion & Religious Freedom (4)

After examining the roles and functions of ecstatic and extreme experience within world religion today, this course focuses on the meaning and significance of these experiences for the practitioners of these religions. In addition, students will engage in individual research on specific controversies relating to individual practices and issues relating to religious freedom. Prerequisite: sophomore status and consent. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

SOCIAL SCIENCE MAJOR

DR. THOMAS BROWN, Program Chair

The Social Science (SOSCI) Major enables students to achieve depth as well as breadth through studies across the spectrum of the social sciences. By engaging in interdisciplinary studies of human behavior, social systems, and their interaction, students prepare for successful personal and professional lives.

Depth is provided by a Primary Concentration of courses within the Birdsong School of Social Science. Students will select a Primary Concentration from fields such as Business, Criminal Justice, Education, History, Political Science, Psychology, Recreation and Leisure Services, Social Welfare, and Sociology. Plans of study for completing the Primary Concentration are given below.

Breadth is achieved by selecting Secondary Concentrations from two other fields within the Birdsong School of Social Science. Integration of these two fields with the Primary Concentration is promoted through the completion of an individualized program of study developed in SOSCI 200, a required introductory course which culminates with an approved Declaration of Major. Students should take SOSCI 200 in their first semester in the major, or as soon as possible.

A student wishing to declare the Social Science Major must file a Declaration of Major form with the Registrar's Office at least three semesters before graduation, summer not counting as a semester. During the final semester of study, a student will typically complete SOSCI 400, a required capstone course which provides a framework for undergraduate research within a seminar that promotes reflection on learning outcomes and on future studies, professional development, and personal goals following graduation.

SOCIAL WORK

DR. BENJAMIN D. DOBRIN, Department Chair
DR. M. ANNETTE CLAYTON

The Social Work Program, which is based on a strong foundation in the liberal arts, prepares students for generalist social work practice and graduate study. The program focuses on ethical behavior and competent practice, following Virginia Wesleyan's honor code and the National Association of Social Worker's (NASW) Code of Ethics. Through community service and classroom experience, students encounter the relationships and social contexts in which they will learn and eventually practice. Students are immersed in the topics of mental and physical health, human rights, diversity, oppression, and economic and social justice, through a data-driven, outcomes-based curriculum in which critical thinking skills are applied.

Departmental Policies

1. Students must apply to the major. Applications are available on the department's university website. Students may apply to the program as early as spring of their sophomore year.
2. Students must maintain a 2.5 GPA both overall and in the major and must successfully complete all required courses with a C or higher prior to the internship.
3. Students must report ANY violation of the Virginia Wesleyan Honor Code to full-time Social Work faculty immediately. Any Level I honor code violation will necessitate a meeting of the student and full-time Social Work faculty in which remedial action will be developed and planned. Any Level II honor code violation will result in immediate removal from the program.
4. This list is not exhaustive. More detailed policies are available in the departmental student handbook found online in the university's departmental website. Specific internship requirements are detailed in the handbook on internships.

SOCIAL WORK COURSES (SW)CORE COURSES*201 Introduction to Social Work (4) S

Acquaints the beginning student with the history, philosophy, values, concepts, language, directions, problems, and broad scope of social work. Offers exposure to various agencies and agency policies. Prerequisite: sophomore/junior/senior status. Offered each fall.

251 Diversity and Social Problems in Social Work (4)

An overview of how diversity influences social work practice and the social problems practitioners try to address. Topics include the history, philosophy, values, ethics, concepts, language, directions, problems, and broad scope of diversity and social problems and how they impact social work practice. Offered each fall.

302 Legislation, Policy and Administration (4)

Builds skills in community organization, administrative and legislative process as intervention techniques. Each student is expected to design, develop, and present a project using the method taught. Prerequisite: junior status and consent. Offered each spring.

336 Lifespan Development and Behavior (4)

Designed for students who want to develop a strong foundation in human growth and development. Biological, social, and psychological theories of growth and development are examined from a multi-disciplinary perspective. Students learn about normal development from conception to aged death as well as certain pathological processes are. Prerequisite: junior status or consent. Offered each fall.

400 Social Work Methods with Groups and Communities (4)

Builds skills in group and community intervention techniques in social work. Prerequisites: junior status and consent. Offered each spring.

401 Social Work with Individuals and Families (4) W

The focus of this course will be on learning appropriate intervention skills for helping individuals, couples and families. Understanding the theory on which these interventions are based is prerequisite to developing skills. The course provides opportunities to practice beginning level methods through role playing, observation and feedback, written and oral assignments, and in an experiential learning situation. There will be a fee associated with this class.

Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, senior status, Social Work majors only and consent. Offered each fall.

450 Research Methods in Social Work (4) Q

Offers an overview of data collection methods and analysis procedures within the context of social work. Both positivistic and naturalistic paradigms are examined. Students learn how to pose research questions, design studies, collect data, and analyze, interpret, and report their data. Prerequisites: junior/senior status, successful completion of math requirement or placement B, and consent. Offered each spring.

472 Social Work Internship (12) I

The training of social work professionals involves an extensive period of study in the field, known as internship. At Virginia Wesleyan, internship refers to the assignment of students to an agency for a full semester, for thirty-six hours a week. This experience involves working under the weekly supervision of a qualified agency supervisor and performing functions typically performed by generalist social work professionals in the agency. The academic internship supervisor is involved in periodic conferences with the student and the agency supervisor to review the student's learning and progress. Prerequisites: senior status; C or higher in all required social work courses; completion of application and consent of all full time social work faculty. Social Work Majors only. Corequisite: SW 475. Offered each spring.

475 Social Work Seminar (4) I

This course is designed to provide the vehicle for the formal integration of theory and practice as a companion to the Social Work internship. The seminar is also designed to provide professional and peer support and supervision as a complement to the supervision provided by the agency supervisor. Students will be expected to share their learning in addition to their questions. Emphasis will also be placed on student growth as it relates to the use of self as a helping professional. Ethical questions from the internship experience will be discussed in addition to the theoretical study of ethics as they relate to practice situations. Prerequisites: senior status; same as SW 472. Corequisite: SW 472. Offered each spring.

ELECTIVES307 Death, Dying, Loss, and Grief (4) V

Explores contemporary and historical societal influences, cultural practices, and spiritual beliefs surrounding the experience of death. Students examine religious rituals related to the preparation of the body, the burial and the mourning process and examine the ethics surrounding end of life decisions and how death is determined from a medical and legal perspective. Other topics include current legal issues and instruments such as advance directives, wills, and powers of attorney; current ethical controversies around life sustaining measures, physician-assisted death, and organ transplantation; the impact of loss throughout the life cycle as a result of normal developmental transitions and as a result of suicide, violence, and disaster; and the needs of those identified as disenfranchised grievers such as partners of AIDS patients, families of suicide victims, women who have miscarried, and young widows/widowers. Prerequisites: Junior/senior status or consent. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

318 Aging in the Media (4)

Explores aging through the context of popular media. The study begins with an overview of the major psycho-social theories on aging and explores how aging and older people are portrayed in a myriad of media. Students focus on film and view television programs, comics and children's literature. This is a fun and innovative way to study the etic construct of aging through the Western (American and British) emic lens. Prerequisite: sophomore status or higher. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

361 Human Sexuality (4) V

An exploration of the issues surrounding human sexuality. Historical perspectives from Western cultures provide a basis for understanding the construction of gender in modern society. A review of other cultures shows diverse approaches to gender and sexual issues worldwide. Legal, moral and ethical issues related to sexual behavior and gender are studied, along with the physical aspects of human sexuality and procreation. The disciplines of history, anthropology, sociology, psychology, health education, medicine, religious studies, women's studies, and law inform the exploration. Students are challenged to explore their own values. Prerequisite: junior/senior status or consent. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

384 Drugs of Abuse (4)

An introduction to the complex issues surrounding both licit and illicit drugs. The most widely used/abused drugs are studied in some depth to include an overview of their pharmacology and the neurophysiology of the brain. The major classifications of drugs of abuse, their addictive potential and the continuum of use, misuse, abuse and addiction are addressed. The short and long term consequences of drug use are studied in addition to the dangers of drug interactions. Offered most fall semesters.

385 Substance Abuse & Chemical Dependency (4)

Examines the effects of drugs of abuse on our society. Topics include defining the drug problem and its effects on the abuser, family, economy, legal system, and health care, and the issues and impact of treatment and 12-step support groups. Offered most spring semesters.

402 Women on the Brink (4)

Challenges the student to explore the interaction of complex societal and psychological factors as they relate to America's most vulnerable women. Students examine the history of women's role in American society and evaluate how current policies and institutions often keep women vulnerable and disenfranchised. Conducted in a seminar format on campus, with a one-week residential component in a homeless shelter in a major urban area. Prerequisites: consent and one faculty/staff recommendation. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

410 Homeless in America (4) I

Reviews the history of poverty and homelessness in America and society's response. Emphasizes the economic, cultural, social, and political factors that converge to create a climate of poverty. Current societal responses to poverty are studied with immersion experiences in the Hampton Roads area. Prerequisite: senior status. Offered in selected Winter Sessions.

SOCIOLOGY COURSES (SOC)

100 Introduction to Sociology (4) S

An introduction to sociology as a behavioral science and way of viewing the world. Students learn basic concepts of sociological investigation and interpretation and critical thinking. They see how individual behavior is shaped by group life and how group life is affected by individuals. They learn to apply a “sociological imagination” to examining social issues. Common sense notions are replaced by a critical analysis of social issues. Prerequisite: freshmen and sophomores or consent. Offered each semester.

110 Cultural Anthropology (4) S

A study of the nature of culture; comparative analysis of social, religious, economic, and political institutions in specific preliterate and modern cultures; and the cultural dimensions of behavior. Offered each fall.

215 Study Away in Sociology (4)

This course explores sociological issues and applications beyond the classroom. Students will travel to places where institutions, individuals, events, and/or policies have influenced the field of sociology or where they are able to see sociological emphases and/or social change being applied in current contexts. Prerequisite: Consent. May be repeated for credit. Offered in summer or winter on demand.

227 Social Psychology (4)

Explores our development as socialized human beings shaped through our interactions with groups of other people and how the structure and function of both the formal and informal groups that exist in a society are shaped by the personalities of the individuals who comprise their membership. Students discover both academically and experientially the nature of such group-related psychological dynamics as attitude formation, interpersonal attraction, social conflict, and bureaucratic organization. Prerequisite: PSY 102, 201, or SOC 100. Identical to PSY 227. Offered each fall.

237 Animals and Society (4) S

Focusing on human-animal relationships, this course explores the role and impact of animals in human society, and the impact of humans on the lives of animals. Content includes the social construction of animals, human/animal interaction in social institutions, current debates, and the future of human/animal relations. Offered when circumstances permit.

251 Issues in Sociology (4) S

Examines various topics and issues through the lens and methodology of the sociological perspective. Topics may include the sociology of food, aging, gender and sexuality, and adoption and foster care. May be repeated for credit as designated issues change. Offered intermittently.

270 Social Problems and Social Solutions (4)S

A critical investigation of selected current social problems—their issues, causes, development, and alternative solutions. Offered each spring.

303 Small Groups (4)

An experiential course in which students apply sociological tools and concepts to better understand how groups work, to maximize group dynamics and collective functioning, and to maximize their own performance in small groups. Prerequisite: junior/senior status. Offered each fall.

308 Visual Sociology (4) W

A survey of basic concepts in sociology as they are portrayed in selected motion pictures and music videos. Serves as a systematic application of sociological theory and practice. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher; any sociology course would be helpful but not required. Offered each semester.

311 Family (4) S,W

Examines the contemporary American family and the history, forms, and functions of families in other times and cultures. Special attention is given to the family as a social institution, its relationship with other institutions, forces of social and cultural change, and the future of the family. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each fall.

336 Sociology of Religion (4) V

Examines the origin and development of religion as a social institution: theories concerning its nature and function; sociocultural dimensions of religious beliefs, values, and conduct; contemporary denominations, sects, and cults in the United States; the relationship between religion and other social institutions. Identical to RELST 336. Offered intermittently.

345 Foundations of Sociology (4)

An examination of major theorists and perspectives contributing to the sociological tradition, and of historic and current issues regarding sociology and its relationship to other academic disciplines. Required of all majors. Prerequisite: SOC 100 and junior/senior status or consent. Offered each spring.

350 Introduction to Social Research (4)

An examination of the logic, the strategies and the methods of sociological inquiry; an analysis of classical and contemporary models of research. A foundation course required for sociology majors. Prerequisite: junior/senior status. Identical to CJ 350. Offered each semester.

351 Medical Sociology (4) S

Designed to provide students an introduction to sociological perspectives on the study of health, illness, and health care. Topics include epidemiology, the structures and organization of health care systems and medical encounters, bioethical issues, and current issues shaping the future of health, illness, and health care. Offered intermittently.

353 Applied Sociology (4)

Focus is on engaging the sociological imagination and the sociological toolkit to address real-life questions and problems. These tools are used to identify, examine, and seek solutions for various social issues. Attention is given to careers in applied sociology. Includes a service-learning component. Prerequisite: junior/senior status or consent. Offered each spring.

360 Nationalist Social Movements (4)

A survey of racial-ethnic and nationalist social movements in the United States, such as the Ku Klux Klan, Nation of Islam, and Civil Rights movements. Addresses the criminogenic and terrorist aspects of these movements, their influence on U.S. culture and politics, and various theoretical approaches to understanding them. Offered when circumstances permit.

400 Topics in Criminal Justice and Sociology (4)

An advanced seminar addressing announced topics in criminal justice and sociology. Topics may include victimology, administration of justice, criminalistics, sociology of terrorism, community systems, war, peace and conflict, sociology of environment, consumerism, child welfare, and more. May be repeated for credit as designated topics change. Prerequisite: consent. Identical to CJ 400. Offered as topics become available.

418 Family Violence (4) W

Examines the nature of family violence, risk factors related to violent victimization and perpetration, and outcomes associated with family violence. Further, it explores changes that have taken place in recognizing and responding to family violence situations. It also breaks down myths and examines family violence in special populations. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and junior or senior status or consent. Identical to CJ 418. Offered when circumstances permit.

460 Readings in Sociology (2, 4)

Students select a topic concerning sociological theory or research, survey the relevant literature, and discuss their findings with their major professor. (Two or four semester hours depending on the scope of the project.) May be repeated for credit. Prerequisite: prior consent of the project advisor. Offered each semester.

480 Senior Research Project (4) W

Students conduct a sociological research project of their own design, present the results in appropriate written form, and defend the effort in an oral examination. Research problems may focus on theoretical or empirical topics. Relevant methods may range from bibliographic search to field observation. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher, SOC/CJ 350, and junior/senior status. Identical to CJ 480. Offered each spring.

483 Internship Preparation Course (2)

Designed for students intending to participate in an internship for sociology or criminal justice credit. The process of selecting an internship site, completing applications and forms, and understanding the requirements set forth by the Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice can be overwhelming. Lectures and scenario training provide students with practical information that should be beneficial to students who desire an internship in sociology or criminal justice. Prerequisite: consent of internship director. Offered each fall.

484 Internship in Criminal Justice and Sociology (8)

Practiced, supervised experience in direct student learning in applied social settings. Students learn how acquired knowledge and research writing skills can be applied to the workplace. Practical and applied learning through student performance in the applied setting gives the student a “competitive edge” for future community/workplace contribution. Prerequisites: 18 hours of sociology or criminal justice and CJ 483 or SOC 483. Students must contact the department faculty to review full eligibility for this course. Identical to CJ 484. Offered each spring and summer.

489 Senior Integrated Assessment (4) I

Students assess and analyze the connectedness of their academic learning in light of their future goals. Contemporary topics take a holistic and systematic perspective focusing on a variety of issues such as justice, ethics, and community needs. Prerequisite:

junior/senior status. Juniors need consent from the instructor. Identical to CJ 489. Offered each semester.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE COURSES (CJ)

100 Introduction to Criminal Justice (4)

Engages students in critical analysis of the criminal justice system in America. Emphasizes the investigation of social order and the notion of “justice” as defined by the various social institutions. Students explore the significance of law, state and property relations, and the administration of justice through police, the courts, and corrections. Prerequisites: freshmen and sophomores or consent. Offered each semester. Formerly CJ 205—Issues In Criminal Justice.

210 Corrections (4)

Provides an appreciation of the processes and structures of corrections within an American and international framework. Examines historical, legal, economic, and sociological issues in maintaining control and order over those defined as criminal. Provides a critical examination of the concepts of punishment, deterrence, and rehabilitation. Prerequisite: CJ 100. Offered each fall.

215 Study Away in Criminal Justice (4)

Explores criminal justice topics and issues beyond the classroom. Students will travel to places where criminal justice institutions, events, and/or policies have influenced the field of criminal justice; for example, a trip to San Francisco to tour Alcatraz Island Prison. Prerequisite: consent. Offered in summer on demand.

222 Victimology (4)

A comprehensive understanding of victimization while also considering innovative strategies and applied solutions for victim-oriented services. Includes criminal victimization and its consequences, responses to victims of crime, and contemporary issues in victimology. Prerequisite: CJ 100. Offered fall of even-numbered years or intermittently.

250 Topics in Criminal Justice (4)

A seminar addressing announced topics that may include public policy in criminal justice, controversial/debated laws in the U.S., taboo practices, understanding violence, murder, property crime, corruption, ethics, and more. May be repeated for credit as designated topics change. Prerequisite: sophomore status or consent. Offered when circumstances permit.

260 Comparative Criminal Justice (4)

A presentation of the variety of ways criminal justice systems are organized and implemented around the world. The social, cultural, and political background of different systems of justice will be evaluated. Students will compare the criminal justice systems in the US with those of other countries. Prerequisite: CJ 100 or SOC 100 or SOC 270 or POLS 111. Offered intermittently.

266 Criminal Procedure (4)

The evolution and study of criminal procedure in the United States. The course will give an overview of the most common topics examined by appellate courts that pertain to criminal procedure, in particular, involving the behavior of law enforcement. Prerequisite: CJ 100. Offered intermittently.

290 Extreme Murder (4)

Studies serial homicides and investigates serial killers and mass murders. Students become knowledgeable of risk factors and basic theoretical explanations, and understand the impact of these rare events on society. Reviews response options for criminal justice professionals. Prerequisite: CJ 100. Offered intermittently.

300 Law Enforcement (4)

A critical exploration of law enforcement from an historical, sociological, and legal perspective. Race, social class, sexual orientation, and gender identities are considered in the context of occupational roles and community issues. Attention is given to viable problem-solving strategies for issues in law enforcement. Prerequisite: CJ 100 or 301. Offered fall of odd-numbered years.

301 Criminology (4)

A sociological view of crime and criminality. Socioeconomic, cultural, and biosocial processes are considered, as well as the criminal products of society. Topics include theories about the causation of crime, crime typologies, and patterns of crime and social injury. Prerequisite: CJ 100. Offered each spring.

310 Criminology of Genocide (4)

Focuses on genocide as a crime and introduces students to the criminological aspects of genocide in the international realm. This course is designed to use criminological writings to examine genocide and the response from the criminal justice system. Prerequisite: CJ 100, SOC 100, SOC 270 or POLS 111. Offered on demand.

340 Forensic Accounting (4)

SUSTAINABILITY MANAGEMENT

DR. JOSH WEINSTEIN

The Sustainability Management major prepares students to utilize their knowledge of the functional areas of business and management to help organizations both adopt and achieve the goals of environmental sustainability and social responsibility. The major employs a multi-disciplinary approach whereby students will learn not only the scientific principles undergirding sustainable business practices but also the philosophical underpinnings of the global need for sustainability and the various regulatory approaches for achieving it. In addition to significant coursework in a variety of academic disciplines, students will synthesize their studies through a senior-level experience entailing either further coursework with an internship or a sustainability-focused Study Away experience.

THEATRE

DR. TRAVIS B. MALONE, School Dean
DR. SALLY H. SHEDD, Department Chair

On stage, backstage, and in the classroom, VWU theatre majors gain experience in all aspects of theatre. Majors and minors will encounter practical, theoretical, and critical perspectives on theatrical performance, production, theatre history and dramatic literature from Ancient Greece to the present. Students have the opportunity to study abroad, either for a travel course or for an entire semester. The multi-faceted nature of the program covers a variety of specialties that assists graduates in adapting to an exciting and fast-paced profession.

The theatre major requires students to complete 11 courses in specified coursework and electives. While the major contains a breadth of coursework, students can use the major electives to deepen their skills in any of the theatre arts. The department also offers coursework to complete Teacher Certification in Theatre Arts Education (PreK-12). Students from across campus have been successful using the skills they acquire in the major or minor to enhance their employment prospects in a wide variety of fields.

THEATRE COURSES (TH)100 Introduction to Theatre (4) A

Gives an overview of the art, performance styles, history, and collaborative roles involved in creating, staging, and producing theatre. Offered each fall.

101 Rehearsal and Performance (1-2) A

Students perform in, stage manage, or provide technical support for a mainstage or studio play directed by a faculty member. Students are selected by audition and/or interview. Must be taken for 4 credit hours to fulfill the general studies requirement.

210 Acting I (4) A

An introduction to basic principles of acting in a workshop setting. Offered frequently.

220 Technical Theatre (4) A

An in-depth study of the concepts, methods, materials, and equipment used in theatrical lighting, set design, stagecraft, costuming, makeup and safety. Students will gain practical knowledge through workshop and lab experiences. Students will receive additional in-depth experience by serving on technical crews for VWU theatre productions. Offered each fall.

224/324 Theatre Practicum (2 or 4)

Students gain experiential knowledge and skills in a chosen production area. Students will choose from the following production areas: stage management, production management, publicity and promotion, dramaturgy, scenic/lighting/costume/make-up design, technical direction, choreography/movement, or directing. May be taken and repeated for 2 or 4 semester hours. Prerequisite: consent. Offered each semester.

250 Script Analysis (4) T

A study of dramatic literature in relation to questions of style, theatrical convention, and interpretive theories. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered each spring.

270, 370 Theatre Seminar, Advanced Seminar (4, 4)

Provides opportunities to study particular subject matter or to take advantage of special competence by faculty member in a given semester. Previous topics include musical theatre and improvisation. Topics change as needs and resources develop. May be repeated for credit as topics change. Prerequisite: varies according to the topic of the seminar. Offered intermittently.

301 Theatre History I (4) A,W

A study of the literature, architecture, performance styles, design, and cultural impact of theatre from the Ancient Greeks through French Neoclassicism. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered fall of even-numbered years.

302 Theatre History II (4) A,W

A study of the literature, architecture, performance styles, and cultural impact of theatre from the English Restoration to the present. Prerequisite: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

310 Acting II (4)

An advanced study of acting in a workshop setting. Features period style. Prerequisite: TH 210. Offered intermittently.

346 Shakespeare I (4) W

A close reading of a selection of Shakespeare's most important plays, including consideration of the social, political, and literary contexts. Includes a required film series. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and sophomore status or consent. Identical to ENG 346. Offered each fall.

347 Shakespeare II (4) W

A close reading of plays based on a topic (such as history or the portrayal of women); or a very intensive analysis of a small number of plays. Includes a required film series. Prerequisites: ENG 105 with a grade of C or higher and sophomore status or consent. Identical to ENG 347. Offered spring of odd-numbered years.

375 Images of Women in Theatre and Film (4) A

Students explore depictions of women in theatre and film over the past sixty years to gain an understanding and awareness of these media as powerful societal forces for the dissemination of gender ideology. They learn to apply feminist/gender theories and criticism to theatrical performance, dramatic literature, and films. Offered intermittently.

410 Theatre of Diversity (4) I

Students explore dramatic literature and performances representative of marginalized experiences from the past sixty years. Using theories from the liberal arts and sciences, they seek to discover the connection between experiences of marginalized groups of people and how those experiences are expressed in theatre and culture. Offered intermittently.

412 Directing (4)

This course provides students with an in-depth exploration of both practical and theoretical aspects of directing. Topics to be covered include concept, organizational methods, script analysis, rehearsal techniques, and director-actor communication. Each student, working closely with the instructor, will direct and produce the VWU One-Act Play Festival. May be repeated for credit with change in One Act Project. Prerequisites: junior/senior status and consent. Offered each fall.

424 Advanced Theatre Practicum (4)

Fulfills the senior capstone requirement for theatre majors. Students gain advanced experiential knowledge in a chosen production area that may include acting, directing, stage management, production management, dramaturgy, and design. Students must have some experience in the chosen area. Prerequisites: senior status and consent. Offered each semester.

485 Theatre Internship (4-6)

Offers upper-level students the opportunity for instruction and experience in an off-campus, professional theatre setting. Students have a minimum of ten contact hours per week with supervisors. Involves weekly journals, evaluations from supervisors, portfolio creation, and oral defense. Prerequisites: junior/senior status and consent. Offered each semester.
